MAYOR BLOCKS COUNCIL QUIZ OF HIS "EXPERTS"

Veto Also Saves His Traction Lawyers.

By wielding his veto power on the heads of a majority of the city council, Mayor Thompson yesterday managed to keep his retinue of high priced traction attorneys firmly grafted to the city pay roll, and prevented, for the time being at least, the employment of attorneys to assist in the aldermanic investigation of the payment of $2,162,666.09 to five building and real estate experts.

The council session was one of the most exciting in years. On two occasions Ald. U. S. Schwartz, chairman of the subcommittee on experts, shook his finger almost under the mayor's nose, and charged that "the mayor's sole reason in hampering the expert investigation is that it will show that these enormous sums were improperly paid out."

Mayor Batters His Desk.

Not since 1915, when Ald. Merriam castigated the mayor from the council floor, have such direct charges been hurled at the mayor in a public meeting of the aldermen. The atmosphere was burdened with vitriolic assertions and Mayor Thompson jumped into the debate from his seat on the rostrum, beating his desk with his fist and shaking his finger at Ald. Schwartz.

A climax was reached near the end of the meeting when Ald. Schwartz sought the passage of an order to compel every officer of the city or city employé to produce before the subcommittee on experts "all books, records, papers, vouchers, warrants, maps, blue prints, and documents of every kind" demanded by the subcommittee.

"You are usurping the powers of the courts," charged Ald. L. B. Anderson, the mayor's floor leader.

"Murder," Cries His Honor.

"It's simply murder," put in the mayor from the rostrum.

"Why is it murder?" shouted Schwartz.

"If you were on trial in the courts as I am, charged with conspiracy, would you come in and lay the evidence down before an aldermanic subcommittee?" the mayor replied. "When the courts get through the mayor of Chicago will take the lid off, and not before."

"If the mayor has nothing to cover up why does he show hesitancy in this matter?" asked Schwartz. "Because his sole reason for covering up and refusing to permit the facts to reach us is that our investigation will show these enormous sums were improperly paid out."

The mayor started to speak, but Schwartz went on.

Why Are Records Withheld?

"I want to know why employés of the controller's office tremble when we ask them for information, and fear to give us city records. Don't you want a fair and unprejudiced investigation of the experting business, Mr. Mayor?"

"I'm willing to have an investigation in court, where witnesses can be sworn," the mayor continued, hammering his desk with his fist. "I'll want a fuller investigation than you will before this thing is done. I'll order every city employé into court under oath, but I don't care what you do with your order."

By this time half a dozen minor debates which threatened to develop into fist fights had sprung up between Thompson aldermen and Schwartz' backers. Ald. Schwartz moved to suspend the rules, but the motion was lost, 25 to 24, a two-thirds vote being necessary. By a vote of 27 to 20 it was sent to the finance committee, the mayor's friends striving to send it to the judiciary committee, of which Ald. Olsen, a Thompson servant, is chairman.

Veto Kills $25,000 Probe Fund.

The mayor began by vetoing an appropriation for $25,000 for the local transportation committee. Two weeks ago the committee voted to make an investigation of the mayor's traction plans. This apparently was not to the mayor's liking. The mayor supported his veto with a twenty-page legal opinion from Corporation Counsel Ettelson holding that the possibility that the committee would employ a lawyer without his sanction rendered the appropriation illegal.

"It is clear the mayor doesn't want us to participate in his traction plans," Ald. Schwartz said. "We will investigate his plans in spite of the veto. The mayor vetoed this appropriation, but let similar appropriations stand."

Corporation Counsel Ettelson explained that "perhaps his assistants

CITY FACES DARK NIGHT; ELECTRIC WORKERS STRIKE

Fire Alarm System Also Threatened.

Chicago streets may be in darkness tonight as a result of a threatened strike of 360 city electrical workers set for 8 o'clock this morning.

IRWIN KNOTT.

Irwin (Bosco Knott, known as one of the "hardest boiled" business agents in the city, appeared at 9:30 o'clock last night before an aldermanic sub committee which was considering the men's demands and announced that the strike had been voted.

The aldermen were amazed inasmuch as Knott had promised to hold off action until the subcommittee, composed of Aldermen Clark, Garner, Moran, Kostner and Armitage, had reached a decision. They had promised Knott that "the union scale" would be paid and were attempting to determine what the scale is.

Threatens Fire Alarm.

"We intend to fight this strike to the limit," declared Ald. Clark, chairman of the subcommittee, after Knott had delivered his ultimatum. "We will employ strikebreakers if necessary to keep the lights lit. This is an outrage."

Knott countered with a threat to "pull" the city fire alarm system where ten of his men, members of his union, Local, No. 9, are employed as operators. This would maerially increase the city's fire hazard. The operators will go out, Knott says, at 8 o'clock next Wednesday, if his demands are not met by that time.

The strike threatens to bring the city administration into a hard struggle with unionism. Knott declares he has received threats from members of Mayor Thompson's official family that he will be "indicted or thrown into jail" if he attempts to enforce the demands of his men.

Police Guard Stations.

At midnight last night Chief of Police Fitzmorris sent a policeman to guard each of the city's thirteen electrical substations where the electric current, purchased from other corporations, is distributed throughout the city.

Ald. Garner and Commissioner of Gas and Electricity Keith announced that negotiations will be opened with the Commonwealth Edison company today to contract the work now done by the strikers. To have the work done by contract would mean that the city jobs would be abolished.

In addition to their pay, the repairmen and trimmers get $125 a month for maintenance of their automobiles, two weeks sick leave, and two weeks vacation a year, and pension benefits, Ald. Kostner pointed out.

Chief Causes of Contention.

The chief bone of contention is over the increases demanded for assistant superintendents of construction, foremen, and linemen. A comparison of the present pay of these ranks and their demands follows:

	Assistant Supt.	Gen. Foremen.	Foremen.	Linemen.
Present monthly pay.	$265	$250	$225	$208
Demands	315	300	275	260

Ald. Clark said his committee is willing to consider as the union scale the pay schedules of the Chicago Surface lines. The following tabulation gives these pay rates and those of other concerns employing similar help:

	Assistant Supts.	Gen. Foremen.	Foremen.	Linemen.
Telephone Co.....	$335	$245	$170	$135
	350	275	195	165
Surface Lines.....	300	286	260	234
West. Union Tel. Co.	275	250	175	160
Com. Edison.....	300	250	225	208
		275	245

In answer to these figures Knott contends that the sanitary district pays the following scales: Assistant superintendents, $275; general foremen, $265; foremen, $250, and linemen $225.

But to the average family that much a month would seem like fabled riches.

To the business man who became accustomed to the big war profits—

A return even to the pre-war scale of profits must seem like a good deal of a hardship.

FOUR 'BAD MEN' SENTENCED TO STUDY 'JOGERPHY'

Due process of law led Benny De Corla, Joe Catona, and Charles and Alfred Earl—all young men about 11 years old—into the presence of Judge Victor Arnold of the Juvenile court yesterday. They had been apprehended by Policeman Michael Kelly after helping themselves to shoes, army caps, cigarets, and a book of Tennyson from a South State street store.

"Who," inquired his honor, "is president of the United States?"

"Wilson," was the chorus.

"What body of water do we live near?"

"Lake Michigan."

"Could you cross it?"

"No," responded Benny, rising in solo. "There ain't no other side to the lake."

Thereupon Judge Arnold discussed the flag. Charles knew it contained forty-eight stars because he had recently won a bet on the subject. As winner it had been his privilege to kick Joe.

"All four of you are deficient in geography," announced the judge, after quizzing them a few minutes. "I sentence you to study your books for the next thirty days. Then I will give you another examination. What becomes of you then depends on how well you answer my questions."

Two Drowned Within Few Minutes at Highland Park

Two men were drowned off Highland Park last night within a few minutes. Robert Augustine, a former service man, dived from the pier and did not come up. Members of the Young Men's Life Saving crew recovered the body, but while they were attempting to revive Augustine the whistle blew, calling them three miles north. Anthony Hamenent, employed by the Northmoor Country club, had drowned at the foot of Roger Williams avenue, near the estate of Julius Rosenwald.

Five Years for Orderly Who Robbed War Heroes

John S. Cahill of 3722 Calumet avenue, formerly an orderly in the United States public health service hospital at 47th street and Drexel boulevard, was sentenced to five years in Leavenworth by Judge Landis yesterday. Cahill pleaded guilty to opening mail addressed to wounded men who had left the hospital and cashing checks he found.

"This is the most shameful crime I can remember dealing with," said the judge.

EYE THROWS OFF MYSTERY FORCE, SCIENTIST AVERS

Tests Show Stare Moves Object.

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.] [Copyright: 1921.]

LONDON, July 8.—A new physiological force has been discovered after three years of patient research by Dr. Charles Russ.

He has invented an instrument which shows that there lies in the human eye a certain definite power which is distinct from suppositions, influences of will power, or occultism.

This was the announcement made today at a meeting of the Oxford Ophthalmological congress.

Doctor Is an Electrician.

Dr. Russ, an electrician as well as a medical man, has given all his spare time during the last three years to experimenting on the theory that the human eye gave forth some ray or radiation, a force that might possibly have some analogy to light or heat.

His various experiments culminated in the idea of a brass cylinder in which he hung a delicate spiral of fine copper wire. This solenoid was wound upon a cylinder of celluloid and was suspended by a fiber of unspun silk contained within a long glass tube. A small magnet held the solenoid in position and the apparatus was electrically earthed by a connective wire.

Stare Moves Object.

Dr. Russ observed that if he gazed steadily through the window slot at one end of the suspended body it would start into motion away from his observing eye. When he looked at the true center it stopped, and if he gazed at the opposite end it moved in the reverse direction.

Dr. Russ asserts that when one person looks at another there is an actual transmission of power. This power, or force, or influence is susceptible of measurement by his apparatus.

Women's Annoyer Tries to Flee; Shot by Policeman

Frank Wells, 20 years old, 2009 South Wabash avenue, was shot by Sergt. Sheehan last night when he attempted to evade arrest. Women pedestrians at Harrison and State streets had complained of being annoyed by him.

FOUR HELD FOR DRUGGING AND ROBBING WOMAN

Three men and a woman charged with drugging and robbing Mrs. James D. McDermott of 226 9th street, Wilmette, are under arrest at Wabash avenue station. They are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hayes, 4801 Indiana avenue; Lesly Cassin, 3715 Cottage Grove avenue, and James L. Morton, 4122 Lake Park avenue.

It is declared the party got into Mrs. McDermott's auto on July 2 at 39th street and Cottage Grove avenue, and induced her to take them for a ride. The police say they went to the Hayes flat, where Mrs. McDermott was drugged, and that later Mrs. McDermott was left in Jackson park, minus her $1,000 lavallier, her $50 cameo ring, her automobile, and $175.

Detective Sergeants McNally and Owens, who made the arrests, say they found the lavallier and a pawn ticket for the ring in possession of Hayes. The auto was wrecked a few days ago, the police say, in an accident which injured two children.

YOUTH, 18, DONS MOTHER'S GARB, HANGS HIMSELF

Dressing himself in the clothes of a woman, Aberhard Uhlendorfer, 18 years old, 2539 North Spaulding avenue, hanged himself in the basement of his home yesterday afternoon while his mother, Mrs. Katherine Uhlendorfer, was entertaining guests above. After the guests had gone she found the body of her son, who had been dead about three hours.

She told the Shakespeare avenue police the boy had been in good spirits during the afternoon. He had been with her and her guests about an hour when he said he was going out. When she went into the basement early in the evening she found his body hanging from a pipe.

He was dressed in her clothing, including a corset, silk underwear, and stockings.

GRAND JURY TO SIFT RETAINING OF STATE CASH

Interest on Funds Is Under Scrutiny.

Springfield, Ill., July 8.—[Special.]—Evidence supporting charges that Gov. Len Small and Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling withheld public moneys while occupying the office of state treasurer will be laid before the Sangamon county grand jury on Monday by State's Attorney C. Fred Mortimer.

Indictment of the chief executive and Sterling looms as a possibility of the investigation. Others, comprising a relatively small coterie in the state house, may be hit by the inquiry.

It is reported that the governor will retaliate by attempting to impeach Attorney General Edward J. Brundage. It is understood that he has the Brundage pay rolls under investigation as a means to that end.

Presages Fierce Political War.

State's Attorney Mortimer's investigation—the second broadside in what promises to develop into one of the biggest political wars in the history of Illinois—is alleged to reveal, according to the Brundage forces, the real motive for Gov. Small's veto of $700,000 in the appropriation for the office of the attorney general.

For some time the administration has feared civil action by the attorney general's office to recover, on behalf of the people, certain interest money on public funds which was not turned over to the state, and it was the governor's intention, it is charged, to forestall the civil suit by tying Mr. Brundage's hands.

Small's Camp Stunned.

The proposed criminal action, however, undreamed of by the administration, landed with the force of a sixteen inch shell in the Small camp. The governor is not in Springfield. At his home in Kankakee he was reported as on a motor tour, to return tomorrow.

State's Attorney Mortimer went before Judge E. S. Smith of the Sangamon County Circuit court with a petition to reconvene the grand jury after he had held a three hour conference with Attorney General Brundage. Mr. Brundage placed in his hands certain evidence which in turn had been turned over to him by State Treasurer Edward C. Miller. The only statement which Mr. Brundage would make in connection with the affair was:

"The present state treasurer has told me of certain conditions in his office at the time of assuming control which were of such a character that I deemed it necessary to present them to the state's attorney of this county, who agreed with me that they should be laid before the grand jury."

Treasurer's Books to Be Searched.

After Judge Smith had ordered the grand jury to meet at 1:30 p. m. on Monday a subpoena duces tecum was served by State's Attorney Mortimer upon the state treasurer's office for the presentation to the grand jury of all books, papers, records, and documents relating to the interest on public moneys. Although Mr. Miller is in East St. Louis, this subpoena became effective immediately upon service. A personal subpoena also was issued for Mr. Miller and this will be served upon him Monday morning, when, he telegraphed, he will return to Springfield.

State's Attorney Mortimer also took possession of a safety deposit box in the vaults of a local bank which is said to hold important documents in the way of evidence. Whether this box is in the name of Mr. Miller, one of his predecessors in office, or another party could not be learned. Other subpoenas to be issued for various state's officials and employés and various bank officials with whom the state treasurer's office has had dealings will depend largely upon the will of the grand jurors as the evidence unfolds itself.

Finds Accounting Incomplete.

When Mr. Miller took office the first of this year it is said he found there had been no complete accounting of the interest on public funds dating back through Small's régime as state treasurer. A loosely drawn law covering the depositing of state moneys by the treasurer was passed in 1913. This required the treasurer to deposit all moneys received in such banks of the state "as in the opinion of the treasurer are secure and which

KING'S APPEAL HERALDED NEW ERA OF PEACE

LONDON, July 8.—King George, accompanied by Queen Mary, attended the opening of the Ulster parliament on June 22. The king, in an urgent plea for peace in Ireland and conciliation between the people of that country and the empire, urged the Irish to forgive and forget.

"I appeal to all Irishmen," said the king, "to pause, to stretch out the hand of forbearance and conciliation, to forgive and to forget, and to join in making for the land which they love a new era of peace, contentment, and good will."

This was the first impelling force of the present progressive movement. It was followed a few days later by an invitation from the British prime minister to Eamonn de Valera, the Irish republican leader, and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, to attend a conference at London to discuss a settlement.

The British government, Mr. Lloyd George declared, was deeply anxious that the king's appeal for reconciliation in Ireland should not have been made in vain.

This invitation was accepted by Sir James Craig, but Mr. de Valera termed it impossible of acceptance in its original form, adding:

"We most earnestly desire to help in bringing about a lasting peace between the peoples of these two islands, but see no avenue by which it can be reached if you deny Ireland essential unity."

The republican leader added that he was consulting with representatives of the Irish people, and would later give a definite answer to the invitation.

Gen. Smuts about this time jumped into the breach, and on a flying visit to Dublin conferred with Mr. de Valera and his associates.

In a public statement a day or two ago Gen. Smuts was moved to say that the Irish question was a soluble problem.

"If we all help to create a better atmosphere and are determined to wipe out what is really a stain on the empire's record," he declared, "we shall succeed."

U. S. IN LEAGUE OF SOME SORT, WISH OF VOTERS

New York, July 8.—[Special.]—The National Economic league, of which William H. Taft is president, has announced the result of a poll among members on international questions.

Among questions and replies were:

Should America refrain from joining any association of nations? Yes, 149. No, 823.

Should it enter the existing league with modifications, such as were acceptable to the senate? Yes, 657. No, 298.

Should it ratify the Versailles treaty with reservations? Yes, 710. No. 227.

Should it cancel the $10,000,000,000 indebtedness of the allies? Yes, 96. No, 853.

NO SURRENDER IN ARMISTICE TO TALK PEACE

De Valera Accepts Bid to London.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

DUBLIN, July 8.—Irish peace is in sight. An armistice to go into effect next Monday noon was agreed upon at a conference at the Mansion House today between Gen. Sir Nevil Macready, commander in chief of the British forces in Ireland, and representatives of all sections of opinion in southern Ireland.

The terms of the truce will be announced tomorrow morning, the details yet remaining to be worked out, and until then no further statement will be made, but it is understood the Irish will not be required to surrender their arms.

Hold All Day Conference.

The agreement for the cessation of hostilities was the result of an all day conference, beginning at 11 o'clock this morning and breaking up at 9 o'clock tonight. The members of the conference were the same as those attending the previous session, neither Sir James Craig nor Gen. Jan Smuts attending. Eamoon de Valera and Arthur Griffith represented the Sinn Fein and the Earl of Middleton, Sir A. Woods, Sir Maurice Dockrell, and Andrew Jameson appeared for the southern Unionists.

The first session broke up at 1 o'clock this afternoon, when it was announced the meeting would be resumed at 4 o'clock. Shortly after 4 o'clock an aid de camp arrived from the British general headquarters bearnig a dispatch. He was taken to the conference room and soon dashed out again.

Gen. MacReady Arrives.

A little before 5 o'clock Gen. MacReady, in full uniform, appeared unescorted for the first time in the Dublin streets, drove up and entered the conference room, where he remained for an hour. When he left he said he was going to consult with Prime Minister Lloyd George by direct wire and in less than an hour he returned. When he came out again he was smiling and he whispered to the lord mayor, "It is all over."

A little later the southern Unionists emerged and the Earl of Middleton smilingly thanked the lord mayor for his peace efforts, which, he said, had been fully justified.

Lord Mayor Addresses Crowd.

Shortly after the conference disbanded the lord mayor, speaking from the Mansion house steps to the assembled throng, said it was the proudest and happiest day of his life, and he introduced Eamonn Duggan, a leading member of Dail Eireann, who read a short statement saying that at the first conference Mr. de Valera informed the assembly of the terms with which he proposed to reply to Prime Minister Lloyd George's invitation to go to London, but he expressed the view that fruitful negotiations were impossible while bloodshed continued.

This morning a letter from Prime Minister Lloyd George to the Earl of Middleton, concurring in these views, was read to the conference, Mr. Duggan said. The prime minister indicated the willingness of the British government to consent to the suspension of active operations by both sides. The statement concluded by saying a truce would be formally announced tomorrow.

De Valera Wires Premier.

Immediately at the close of the conference Mr. de Valera telegraphed the following message to Prime Minister Lloyd George's invitation to confer over an Irish settlement in London:

"The desire you express on the part of the British government to end the centuries of conflict between the peoples of these two islands and to establish relations of neighborly harmony is the genuine desire of the people of Ireland.

"I have consulted with my colleagues and have secured the views of the minority of our nation with regard to the invitation you have sent me. In reply I desire to say that I am ready to meet and discuss with you on what basis such a conference as that proposed can reasonably hope to achieve the object desired.

"EAMONN DE VALERA."

Crowd Cheers MacReady.

For ten hours today an immense crowd stood outside the Mansion House. It cheered impartially all who came in, Gen. MacReady receiving almost as warm a welcome as Mr. de Valera, although tremendous enthusiasm was shown when the latter left the building.

Three husky Dublin firemen had to clear a way through the crowd to his automobile while a party of the "Irish Republican army" made a clearance for his automobile as it had already done for Gen. MacReady.

A part of the time the crowd sang Irish songs and a part of the time it recited the rosary for the success of the conference. It also listened to the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and ballads by 12 and 14 year old newsboys with beautiful voices. No policemen nor soldiers were in sight and the crowd was entirely orderly.

Silent on Irish Demands.

There has been no authoritative statement as to what Ireland is willing to accept. However, the Irish representatives will probably agree upon a tentative plan which they will insist must be submitted either to Dail Eireann or to a plebiscite of the Irish people.

It is likely they will pledge themselves to advocate the plan they agree to submit. Thre is no doubt that Ireland will accept any plan recommended by its leaders who have carried them so far on the road to success.

KING MEETS ULSTER CHIEF

LONDON, July 8.—[By the Associated Press.]—Events moved swiftly today both in London and Dublin. Not only has Mr. de Valera, contrary to the general expectation, consented to come to London to discuss with Mr. Lloyd George the basis on which settlement of the Irish question might be reached by the prime minister's proposed London conference, but a truce has been arranged to begin at noon Monday.

This has given reasonable assurance that the original conference, to which the prime minister invited the Irish republic leader and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, will be held.

The day started hopefully with the king summoning the Ulster premier to a conference at Buckingham palace.

King George Deeply Concerned.

This, following upon the king's conference yesterday with Gen. Jan Christian Smuts, the South African premier, is an indication of the intense interest the king is taking in the Irish problem, and, although the king has no real voice in the direction of government affairs, that does not prevent his exercising great influence in the policy of the country.

Gen. Smuts is going to Chequers Court to spend the week-end, together with the other premiers of the overseas dominions, with Mr. Lloyd George. Gen. Smuts evidently is the influence in the negotiations, perhaps something more than mere influence, for, lacking his active aid, it is hardly conceivable that events could have progressed as rapidly as they did today, and the fact that the prime minister has not stood upon the dignity of his office, but seemingly is willing to discuss with Mr. de Valera the basis for a general conference is considered full of hopefulness.

Dublin the Real Action Center.

The principal events of this important day, however, occurred not in London, but Dublin, and the most striking was the sensational appearance of Gen. MacReady at the conference of Eamonn de Valera and leading southern Unionists.

Gen. MacReady's appearance and long stay at the conference clearly had to do with Mr. Lloyd George's letter to Earl Middleton, in which the prime minister declared that it would be impossible to conduct negotiations with any hope of achieving satisfactory results if violence in Ireland continued.

Gen. MacReady's presence at the conference has additional significance because it has been stated that the "militarist party" in Ireland had been strongly opposing peace negotiations and any idea of a truce.

See Smuts as Peacemaker.

Opinion still inclines to the idea that Gen. Smuts, owing to the important part he has taken in the preliminary negotiations, will be the first chairman of the London conference, even if Mr. Lloyd George presides during the later stages, as would be almost inevitable if constitutional questions were under discussion.

Another matter that has been widely discussed today, arising out of the visit of the secretary for war, Sir Laming Worthington Evans, to the king yesterday, was the possibility that the military evacuation of Ireland is under consideration.

This, it is recalled, has been advocated by many prominent statesmen, including Viscount Grey, former secretary for foreign affairs. In view of Gen. MacReady's attendance at the Dublin conference, it is believed not impossible that such development is actually under advisement.

6 MONTHS AND $500 FINE FOR HOWAT, DORCHY

Columbus, Kas., July 8.—Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas Mine workers, and August Dorchy, vice president, today were sentenced to serve six months each in jail and pay a fine of $500 each, after convictions last week of violation of the criminal provision of the Kansas court of industrial relations law. The men were found guilty by a jury of a misdemeanor in that they called a strike at the H mine of the George K. Mackie Co.

As notice of appeal was given, Howat and Dorchy retained their liberty on their original bonds of $2,000 each. A motion for a new trial was overruled.

Before sentence was passed Howat made a speech to the court denouncing his trial and alleging he was not given fair treatment. He said he did not know he was violating the law when he called the strike.

Late today Howat and his attorney, J. I. Sheppard, addressed a meeting of miners in the city partk.

Appended to the motion for a new trial was an affidavit signed by eleven of the jurors in the case, setting forth that "each and every juror expressed himself as absolutely and positively opposed to any such law as the industrial court law."

Hold Chicago Couple in Detroit on Booze Charge

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Walsh of Chicago have been arrested in Detroit, charged with being the heads of a liquor ring that has been shipping whisky from Detroit to Chicago. This was learned yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Walsh were arrested some time ago in Chicago charged with violating the prohibition law. They disappeared mysteriously from Hyde Park station.

In Detroit they were arraigned and released on $5,000 bail.

ONLY "$1,350 PER" FOR PEGGY

The $10,000 a month temporary alimony which Peggy Hopkins Joyce demanded of James Stanley Joyce, millionaire Chicago lumberman, pending the outcome of the latter's action for divorce, was cut to $1,350 when Judge Sabath passed upon Peggy's petition yesterday. But Peggy was awarded $40,000 for counsel fees and to conduct the investigation which, she asserts, will prove her husband's charges to be false.

FIVE PETITIONS FOR 5 CENT FARE FILED FOR MAYOR

Commission Hearings to Start Tuesday.

Five petitions asking that fares on Chicago surface lines be reduced to 5 cents for adults and 3 cents for children were filed with the Illinois Commerce commission at Springfield yesterday at the instance of Mayor Thompson.

Daniel A. Roberts, the $50 a day city traction lawyer who took the petitions to Springfield, informed the mayor by telephone that hearing on the petition will be begun in the commission's Chicago office next Tuesday.

Four of the petitions are against the four surface line companies—The Chicago City Railway company, Chicago Railways company, Calumet & South Chicago railway, and the Southern Street Railway company. The fifth is against all four companies, and is signed by the mayor and four of his ward committeemen.

Arguments Have Failed Twice.

The petitions reiterate many of the mayor's arguments againts the surface line companies, arguments which did not stand the test either before the old public utilities commission or in the county and state courts.

However, with the commerce commission appointed and controlled by Gov. Small, Mayor Thompson's close friend, city hall leaders declare the 5 cent fare will be ordered in the near future. They admit, however, that such an order probably will not cut the present 8 cent fare, as the companies are expected to fight the order both in the state and federal courts.

The most striking feature of the petition is a section which, by inference at least, proposes that future annual payments to the city traction fund be used to reduce fares.

Cite Company's Debt to City.

After reciting that the companies owe the city large sums as its 55 per cent of the net divisible receipts under the 1907 traction ordinances, and that the city has refused to accept them on the ground that to do so would be an admission that the contracts are still in force, the petitions say:

"That the companies ought to be compelled to apply said sum to the reduction of the rates of fare charged and collected by them or to pay said sum to the said city for use and occupation of its streets occupied and used by the said companies for the operation of its street railways."

The mayor also asks the commission to apply the renewal funds, now about $7,000,000, for a reduction of fares. The companies are accused of juggling their renewal funds and their capital accounts and are alleged to keep two sets of books, one for the public and one for themselves.

ARMY AND NAVY DAY SUNDAY AT CAMP ROOSEVELT

Muskegon, Mich., July 8.—[Special.]—A subchaser will bring Capt. Wurtsburgh of the Great Lakes Naval station and party of twenty-five, including members of the Army and Navy club of Chicago, to Camp Roosevelt Sunday. H. W. Thorpe, president of the Goodrich Transit company, also will bring a large delegation of prominent Chicago men. It is expected 300 from Chicago will attend. It is army and navy day at the camp.

Col. Stewart Hentzleman, war plans, division 6, aero, Fort Sheridan, will arrive tomorrow for inspection. The visitors will be entertained by Angus S. Hibbard of Chicago and the Muskegon Country club.

Physical and dental examinations are proceeding rapidly. Seven dentists furnished by the Chicago Dental society are examining the boys.

A thunder shower brought relief from the extreme heat.

WORLD CONGRESS OF EDUCATION PLAN OF N. E. A.

Miss C. O. Williams, Tenn., New President.

Des Moines, Ia., July 8.—A world congress of education in 1922, to form an international education association, was provided for in resolutions adopted just before the National Education association adjourned its convention here today. The resolutions were presented by J. W. Studebaker of Des Moines.

Miss Charl O. Williams of Memphis, Tenn., was elected unanimously president of the N. E. A. for the coming year. All other candidates recommended by the committee on nominations were elected unanimously.

Backs American Legion.

The national association pledged itself to support the American Legion in a joint program for Americanization to require that all save exchange teachers be Americans and take the oath of allegiance to the United States.

The association declared for compulsory education until the age of 18. Coöperation with the legion was pledged in observance of patriotic holidays, and the teaching of history and civics was declared to be essential, both in grammar and high schools.

Classifies Children.

Dr. W. A. Evans of Chicago spoke today on "Behavioristic Scoring of School Children." Timid, daydreaming, shy, or silent children, he said, should be classified as "seclusive" and given special instruction.

Children selfish, suspicious, stubborn, defiant, opinionated, bullies, etc., he would classify as "egocentric." The enthusiastic, boisterous, rapid speaking, restless, michievous, prank playing children he classified as "overactive," while those easily discouraged, tearful, slowfi or suffering from dearth of ideas, blues, or worries, are called the "depressive type."

RAIL EARNINGS IN MAY ESTIMATED AT $37,246,000

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Railroads earned $37,246,000 in May, or $7,997,000 more than in April, according to reports filed with the interstate commerce commission by the carriers and made public today by the Association of Railway Executives.

Earnings for May amounted to 2.41 per cent on the valuations tentatively fixed by the commission for rate making purposes, as compared with 2.2 per cent in April, the executives said.

Operating expenses amounted to 85.4 per cent of the revenues, against 86.69 per cent in April. The reduction, the statement declared, was brought about by "various efficiencies which the railroads have placed in effect since the traffic slump began late last fall."

Total operating revenues were $444,666,000, while operating expenses totalled $379,715,000. Carriers in the western district showed earnings of $14,056,000, or 2.30 per cent, with operating revenues aggregating $168,391,000 and operating expenses $143,052,000.

SOUTH AMERICA DRY IN 5 YEARS, W. C. T. U. CLAIM

"South America will be dry in five years," declared Miss Anna Gordon of Evanston, national president of the W. C. T. U., at the Methodist campmeeting in Des Plaines yesterday. "South America is studying the effects of prohibition on the health, happiness, and prosperity of the United States. If we fail adequately to enforce the prohibition laws we will delay the arrival of prohibition in South America."

Señor Allessandri, president of Chile, told her during her recent South American tour, she said, that he hoped Chile might be the second republic to adopt prohibition. The children of South America are being taught the tenets of prohibition.

Dr. P. Y. Tseo, a woman physician, said there is a change in the Chinese attitude toward women since the establishment of the Chinese republic.

"Hundreds of Chinese girls are studying in American institutions," she said, "and ancient restrictions upon women have been removed."

PEGGY AWARDED $40,000, ALIMONY OF $1,350 MONTH

Gets Funds to Fight Her Husband's Charges.

Peggy Hopkins Joyce, pretty "Follies" star, won her first victory yesterday in the court battle to clear her name. Judge Joseph Sabath ordered James Stanley Joyce, her millionaire lumberman husband, to pay her $56,200.

For counsel fees and to meet the cost of the charges made against her by her husband, she was allowed $40,000, together with temporary alimony of $16,200 a year, or $1,350 a month.

Attorney Weymouth Kirkland, counsel for Peggy, expressed satisfaction at the ruling, stating he believed Judge Sabath's decision was fair, although Peggy herself had expected a larger amount for personal expenses.

"Before she met Joyce she was earning $700 a week as an actress, and could easily earn even a greater sum now," said Mr. Kirkland. The temporary alimony allotment seems small to her, as it is less than half what she formerly earned."

Judge Cites Joyce's Wealth.

Judge Sabath went rather exhaustively into the charges and counter charges involved in the bills, cross-bills, and answers involved in the case. Waiving decision on the many charges at present, he stated they would be pertinent at the final hearing of the case on its merits.

"The complainant admits he is a man of great wealth," the judge said. "He stated before this court that he was worth not less than $3,000,000, and admitted he had lavished a great sum on the defendant in cash, property, and jewelry. The amount equaled $1,398,316 spent during one year.

"It certainly would be no injustice to require Joyce to continue paying for her support. Even before the defendant knew him she lived in such a state as to require large sums of money."

Joyce Talks of Appeal.

Alfred S. Austrian, attorney for Joyce, insisted Peggy was not entitled to a cent and declared he intended to take an appeal from the judge's ruling.

Mr. Austrian had contended for his client that a conspiracy was entered into by Peggy, her "stage-aunt," Ida; her former husband, Philbrick Hopkins, and others when she was divorced from Hopkins, Jan. 20 of last year, and that her marriage to Joyce three days later was part of this conspiracy. He further had told the court at a former hearing that her marriage to Hopkins constituted bigamy, in that she was married to Everett Archibald at the time, and that Archibald did not obtain a divorce until a year after the Hopkins marriage.

Clears "Bigamy" Tangle.

Attorney Kirkland informed the court Peggy had consulted a Denver lawyer previous to her marriage to Hopkins and that, after an investigation of the court records of Denver, he told her she had been divorced from Archibald fifteen months before. A later investigation showed that, although a divorce proceedings had been started by her former husband, the decree never was granted in Denver, as the judge before whom the case was filed died before signing the decree. Archibald later obtained a divorce in Idaho.

Mr. Kirkland pointed out to Judge Sabath that an admission of the unintentional act of bigamy on Peggy's part showed conclusively the validity of her marriage ten years later to Joyce.

If attorneys for Joyce appeal from the decision of Judge Sabath the litigation may drag on for the remainder of the summer.

Whole Case Aired in Fall.

At the hearing on the merits of the case, which may not be set until next fall, the attorneys for Peggy will attempt to refute charges involving her with the Prince de Fleure of Albania. At the same time the alleged philanderings of Joyce will be brought into the limelight.

Search for the pretty little English portrait painter, Daisy May Lisk, whose name has been coupled with Joyce's, is being continued by Peggy's detectives.

AGED FATHER BURIES DEAD BURGLAR.

William Fox, alias William Clark, the burglar who a few days ago fell to his death as he attempted to leap across a space between two houses in a chase over house tops, was buried in Woodlawn cemetery June 29 with money sent by his aged father from the parental home at Virden, Canada. The fact was revealed at the inquest yesterday.

SITTIN' PRETTY

The sybarite mode of piscatorial hunting is followed by the above pictured gentleman. Encompassed on three sides by an acre or so of blistering cement, he reclines in perfect ease and casts a contented eye and a mean rod upon the aqueous main before him. The umbrella is not, as one might conjecture, for the purpose of thwarting sudden thunder showers. Its purpose is to catch the sunbeams as they descend and deflect them from the conk of Izaak Walton. The "bait" does not show in this picture.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.

The course of the administration to carry out the peace program, it was made clear today, depends upon the attitude of Great Britain and the other allies on questions involving American rights and interests. The United States is not laying its card on the table because the allies are not.

Secretary of State Hughes, in a note to the Chinese minister relative to the protest of Great Britain, Japan, and Denmark against an American company's wireless station in China, reaffirms the adherence of the United States to the policy of the open door and declares that foreign protests against the American wireless company are founded on monopolistic or preferential rights.

The senate, despite President Harding's plea that action be postponed, continued discussion of the soldiers' bonus bill today and there is some doubt as to whether enough votes can be procured to recommit the measure.

The Sweet soldiers' relief bill encountered further procrastinating delay in the finance subcommittee of the senate today and may not be reported now until the middle of next week.

As suddenly as they were ordered to proceed to Tampico to protect American interests in the big Mexican oil fields, the United States battleships, which reached their destination yesterday, were ordered to leave today. The state department, which had a hand in having the ships proceed from Tampico, said need for their presence in the oil port had passed.

BRITISH ROYALTY DANCES TO MADE IN U. S. MUSIC

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, July 8.—Strains of American music filled Buckingham palace last night, where the first state ball since 1913 was given by the king and queen of England. Over 2,000 guests were present, including Ambassador and Mrs. Harvey, other members of the diplomatic corps, and a host of British notables. Dukes and duchesses, glittering in satin, diamonds, and gorgeous uniforms, danced as the orchestra played Aberican popular music.

Missing Bride Is Seen at Railroad Station

Mrs. Ruth Holman, the "missing bride," who is said to be suffering from amnesia, was reported seen yesterday afternoon in the Illinois Central station at Roosevelt road. She told an official of the Travelers' Aid society there she was going to Rockford to see her husband. Her husband, Malcolm Holman, 6442 University avenue, has not left Chicago. He is the son of Maj. James Holman, stationed at Camp Grant.

29 QUERIES GIVEN CHIEF TO SHOW IF HE'S IN CONTEMPT

Judge Hits Wanderer Insanity Interviews.

Chief of Police Fitzmorris was called upon yesterday to answer twenty-nine interrogatories before Sept. 1 in an effort to determine whether he should be cited for contempt of court. The interrogatories were filed with Judge Joseph David in the Criminal court.

The controversy between the chief and Judge David is the outgrowth of the recent insanity hearing in behalf of Carl O. Wanderer, which was heard by the judge. During the course of the trial the chief is said to have given out interviews to the newspapers, and the judge charged he did it to influence the jury.

Inquiry by Attorneys.

After the chief is said to have reiterated the charges he made in the interview, Judge David directed Attorneys George W. Miller and Clarence S. Darrow, as friends of the court, to make an investigation and file suggestions. Yesterday Attorney Miller filed the list of questions which refer to the chief's duties and the alleged interviews.

No. 12 asks whether he gave out an interview in which he characterized the proceedings before Judge David as "A fine business," and added: "Wanderer isn't half as crazy as some of these coppers will be if they keep letting these men out on insanity pleas.

Undoing Police Work.

"It's undoing the work of my men for months back. No one doubts he committed a crime and that's all we are interested in. As it is proved that he did, he should hang. They are trying to prove that any one who commits a felony is a little dippy."

The chief is asked if he later gave out the following interview: "I retract nothing. If Judge David calls me into his court I will tell him that Wanderer ought to hang. I repeat that if murderers continue to be released on insanity pleas they are not half as crazy as the policemen who are working day and night to send them to jail."

HARDING SENDS WORDS OF PRAISE TO ENDEAVORERS

New York, July 8.—President Harding and Vice President Coolidge sent messages today to the sixth World's Christian Endeavor convention, expressing the idea that the world needs more religion to cure its ills.

"The Christian Endeavor societies," the President wrote, "represent precisely the sort of inspiring purpose that the world so greatly needs in these times."

The vice president said the Christian Endeavor organization represented an effort to put religion into practice. "When men look about the world today," he said, "they will not be able to find any other remedy for our present condition, or any other motive strong enough to promise any solution."

PENN HURLS DEFI AT LABOR BOARD AND UNIONS, TOO

Road Says It Will Settle Own Troubles with Men.

Open defiance of the United States railroad labor board and of the Federated Shop Crafts was voiced yesterday by officials of the Pennsylvania railroad. They served notice upon the board that the road would negotiate with its employés in its own way and on an open shop basis, regardless of any orders the board had passed or might pass.

The stand taken by the Pennsylvania was a blow to the plan for a harmonious arrangement of the difficulties between the railroad workers and the roads. An effort is now being made for a settlement of these differences pending the referendum vote which starts Sept. 1 on the question whether the railroad workers will accept reductions in wages and changes in working rules.

Unions Warned to Keep Working.

However, the effect of the Pennsylvania's announcement was somewhat offset by a warning sent to members of the various shop craft unions by the railway employés' department of the American Federation of Labor. In a circular letter it advises the members of the shop crafts unions "so to conduct themselves that they will not become involved in a stoppage of work."

The trouble between the Pennsylvania, its employés, and the labor board was the result of the board's order issued on June 26. This order indefinitely continued the national working agreements granted railroad employés under the federal operation. The board had abrogated these agreements on April 14, ordering the roads and the employés to get together and draw up new agreements by July 1.

Orders Defied, Employés Say.

When it became apparent that many of the railroads had failed to treat with their men, the action of June 26 was taken, restoring the agreements that had once been abrogated.

The representatives of the shop crafts of the Pennsylvania yesterday charged before the railway labor board that its orders had been defied by the railroad company. N. P. Goode, president of the Pennsylvania system shop crafts federation, said the Pennsylvania officials had refused to treat with the union representatives, and that instead had negotiated in their own way with representatives of employés selected in accordance with the road's own plan.

Atterbury's Aid Attacks Board.

Then came the fireworks.

E. T. Whiter, assistant to Gen. W. W. Atterbury, the road's vice president, practically admitted that the union representatives' charges were true. He criticised openly several of the decisions of the railroad labor board, and attacked the one that had restored the abrogated contracts.

"As far as we are concerned, there is no danger of any substantial interruption of transportation," he said. "Our employés will not strike unless an attempt is made to treat them unfairly, and our railroad has always treated its men fairly. We will continue our negotiations in our own way."

L. E. Peterman, blacksmith in the shops at Altoona, Pa., said that with the new rules in effect there, there was no danger of a strike. N. P. Goode, the union representative, asserted the reason there was no strike at Altoona was that the men were advised to remain at work by the union. He asserted that the averting of a strike only proved the organization he represented controlled the Pennsylvania employés.

Pullman Employés' Pay Cut.

During the day the board ordered the average 12 per cent rail reduction, which became effective on most railroads on June 1, extended to several other lines. The principal of these in the Chicago territory were the Chicago, Milwaukee and Gary and the Grand Trunk subsidiaries.

The order of the board also included the Pullman company. The employés of this concern had contended the company was not a railroad, and not subject to the rulings of the board, but they were overruled.

Lack of motive power and the difficulty of obtaining mechanics were given as the reasons why the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad sent some fifty locomotives outside its own shops to be repaired. The road's officials offered this explanation before the interstate commerce commission yesterday.

HE WANTED IT, AND HE GOT IT, AND NOW LOOK!

Harry Bowers sued his wife for divorce several weeks ago, naming Harry Barnes, formerly of Evanston, but now a stock salesman and broker in Decatur. Then Mrs. Bowers filed a cross bill and her husband promptly forgot his suit. Last night Bowers approached Policeman Charles Dillon and pointed out Barnes to him.

"See that man standing over there in front of the Hotel Morrison?" he said. "Well, he's a home wrecker; he's got valuable papers that belong to me in that package."

Dillon led both the men to the central station. There Barnes denied possession of any papers belonging to Bowers. The latter insisted he was right.

"Well, suppose you open the package," suggested Lieut. Frank Matchett. Barnes did. It contained a silk shirt.

English Bulldogs Attack Irish Cop, Capture Bureau

Two English bulldogs from the national capital captured the detective bureau yesterday. A sleuth with an Irish monicker bore the brunt of the attack, and hastened straightway to a trouser hospital. It took several pounds of beefsteak to subdue the animals. They were arrested Thursday night with their escort. Steve Diamond of 1615 West 63d street, when they alighted from a train. One dog had been sold to a Washington man, according to the capital police, and then Diamond had eloped with the animal.

ACCUSED AND ACCUSERS

Edward C. Miller, state treasurer, who has been ordered to produce the books of his office before the grand jury in the investigation of charges against former treasurers.

Lieut. Gov. Fred E. Sterling, who was state treasurer from January, 1919, to January, 1921, who also is involved in charges of withholding interest on public funds.

Gov. Len Small, who is charged with retaining some part of the interest on public funds earned when he was state treasurer, January, 1917, to January, 1919.

Edward J. Brundage, attorney general of Illinois, who has taken steps for a grand jury investigation at Springfield of the alleged withholding of interest on public funds.

JOHN A. MACNEIL.

Mr. Barnes, president of the Legislative Voters' league, has appealed to Attorney General Brundage to begin a grand jury investigation of the charges made on the floor of the house June 16 by Representative MacNeil of Olney that Julius Johnson, secretary of the state public utilities commission, attempted to influence the votes of Representatives Searcy and Snell in favor of a bill to raid the state civil service. MacNeil charges that Johnson offered to kill four lines out of the appropriation bill which were objectionable to Searcy and to give Snell a $5,000 a year job in exchange for their support of the civil service measure.

Grand Jury to Sift Interest Scandal.

shall pay the highest rate of interest to the state for such deposits."

This law provided no penalty and was liable to so many different interpretations that it was practically ignored by the state treasurers. As a result another law covering interest on public funds was enacted by the legislature in 1919, the last session under Gov. Lowden's administration. This law, which went into effect July 1, 1919, provides that the treasurer shall turn in all money on state funds and shall credit to special funds not belonging to the state all interest received on them.

Small Turns in $143,000.

Gov. Small did not comply in full with the interest law until he was about to become a candidate for governor last fall. Then he turned back $143,000 interest which had been in his possession since he left the treasurer's office at the close of 1918. It is said Lieut. Gov. Sterling has not accounted for the interest during the last seven months of his term as treasurer.

When Mr. Miller became state treasurer, according to reports, he learned that approximately $10,000,000 had been deposited in the Grant Park State bank during Small's incumbency and had been kept there during Sterling's administration. The bank paid 7 per cent interest, it is claimed, while the records of the office disclosed that only a trifle over 2 per cent had been turned back to the state. The total amount of interest which has not yet been clearly accounted for, according to report, may reach $1,000,000. One rumor places the figure as high as $1,800,000.

Rumor Cause of Veto?

Mr. Miller did not notify the attorney general's office of the evidence in his possession until recently, but it was rumored all spring that the state treasurer was going to make some startling revelations at the adjournment of the legislature. This report reached the ears of the administration and it feared the attorney general would institute civil action to recover the money.

Gov. Small vetoed the attorney general's appropriation and issued a lengthy statement in Chicago early this week charging Mr. Brundage with laxity in the enforcement of the prohibition laws. In the meantime the evidence had been turned over to Mr. Brundage by Mr. Miller and the attorney general declared the governor was attempting to camouflage the real issue behind his veto with the prohibition non-enforcement charges. Mr. Brundage said the real motive for the veto would be disclosed later.

Small Confers with City Hall.

Gov. Small then made a quiet trip into Chicago, during which he conferred with Lundin, Mayor Thompson, and Corporation Counsel Ettelson. All sorts of rumors were heard as to what the attorney general's action would be. One was that he would press special grand jury action in the vote fraud cases at the last Chicago judicial election.

Another was that a conference would be held with downstate attorneys and legislators relative to the possibility of impeaching the governor. Under the constitution there is no way in which a governor may be removed from office during the interim between legislatures.

Keeps Small Forces Guessing.

Mr. Brundage kept the Small forces guessing and on Thursday night came here with Assistant Attorney General James H. Wilkerson. Besides these two and Mr. Mortimer those at the conference today were Assistant Attorney General Clarence Boord and Albert D. Rodenberg. R. M. Sullivan of Springfield is also said to have been consulted.

The chances of indicting Gov. Small and Lieut. Gov. Sterling were discussed at length and after consulting various decisions and authorities it was decided to bring the action on charges of conspiracy to defraud the state.

The possibility of recourse by the defendants to the statute of limitations also is said to have been discussed and it was decided that evidence dating all the way from 1917 would be admissable on the grounds of "continued action"—that is, that any withholding of interest moneys from 1917 to 1921 would be construed as part of the same general criminal conspiracy to defraud the state.

It is under this interpretation, said to be sustained by a federal court decision, that there is possibility of an indictment being returned against Gov. Small. A conviction under the charges, if substantiated, would carry a penalty of from one to five years in prison in addition to a fine.

Other Matters to Come Up.

The grand jury which will hear the evidence is the regular May grand jury, which never has been dismissed. It met the first week in May and was called again to sit for a short while about a month ago, after which the members were allowed to return to their homes subject to call. It is possible that the same body also will investigate charges made by certain legislators recently on the floor of the house as to "improper considerations" offered them to vote for pending measures.

A letter was received by Attorney General Brundage today from Clifford W. Barnes, president of the Legislative Voters' league, urging him to bring the matter to the attention of the Sangamon grand jury. The letter follows:

"Dear Sir: During the closing days of the recent session of the Fifty-second general assembly the people of the state were profoundly stirred by allegations made upon the floor of the house and elsewhere by legislators of high standing that improper considerations had been offered to them in the effort to induce them to vote for certain measures then pending, viz: The tax commission bill and the bill to remove about 2,000 state employés from the protection of the state civil service law.

Recalls Legislators' Charges.

"As you doubtless know, Representatives John A. MacNeil of Olney, Truman A. Snell of Carlinville, Earl B. Searcy of Springfield, B. L. Barber of Springfield, and others made circumstantial statements on or about June 16, 1921, detailing the methods alleged to have been used improperly to influence them to vote for the two bills above mentioned.

"These statements made such a deep impression upon the members of the general assembly and upon the public that an announcement was promptly forthcoming that an officeholder whose name had figured in the charges had resigned from the state service and a searching investigation of the charges was officially promised.

"As the results of that promised investigation have not been made at the end of three weeks, and as the officers of the Legislative Voters' league feel that the dignity and good name of the state require that the above mentioned charges be thoroughly gone into by an agency capable of bringing out all the facts, we respectfully suggest to you, as the chief law officer of the state, that the matter be presented to a grand jury of Sangamon county for full investigation, in case you may deem such action advisable."

Quiz on Treasurer First.

Mr. Brundage did not indicate whether this matter will be taken up at this time. If the matter is turned over to the grand jury, it possibly will not be taken up for some time, as the investigation of the state treasurer's office probably will occupy the entire time of the present inquisitorial body for some weeks.

One effect of the investigation, it was suggested today, probably will be to deter the governor from calling an extra session of the legislature. Should he be found guilty of the charges, or even indicted, it was pointed out, the legislature probably would be forced to institute impeachment proceedings.

Won't Chance Impeachment.

"And I do not think," said one politician, "that the governor will call a special session of the legislature to impeach him."

State's Attorney Mortimer would not discuss the matter further than to say that Mr. Miller had called the attorney general's attention to the evidence, that the latter had turned it over to him and that it was his duty as state's attorney to present it to the grand jury.

Neither the curtailment of the appropriation for the attorney general's office nor the success or failure of the grand jury action, it is said, will deter Mr. Brundage from instituting the expected civil action against the former state treasurers later.

STERLING IS SILENT.

Rockford, Ill., July 8.—Lieut. Gov. Sterling said at his home here tonight that he knew nothing of the reported grand jury inquiry into his handling of interest received on state funds while he occupied the state treasurer's office. He declined to discuss the matter in any way.

Ex-Ald. Joseph Badenoch Dies After Brief Illness

Joseph Badenoch, former alderman, federal labor commissioner during the recent war, and pioneer electrical man, died in St. Luke's hospital early yesterday morning. He had been ill for ten days.

Mr. Badenoch was at one time one of the most prominent men in the city's public life. Born seventy-two years ago in Scotland, he came to Chicago in 1866, engaged in the lumber business for awhile, and later helped to form the Englewood Electric Light company, now a subsidiary of the Commonwealth Edison company. He entered politics and for five terms was an alderman. When the present city hall was built he was chairman of the committee on construction.

The former alderman was associated in business with his son, Roland, before the latter's death last fall. He resided at 4925 Vincennes avenue, and is survived by a widow and eight children.

Federal Permission for Cable Landing Granted

Miami, Fla., July 8.—The long controversy between the government and the Western Union Telegraph company over the landing of its Miami-Barbados cable here was brought to an end today with the granting of federal permission for the landing, according to word received by the local office of the Western Union.

2 U. S. WARSHIPS ARE WITHDRAWN FROM TAMPICO

Peril to Americans Over, Denby Says.

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Withdrawal of the cruiser Cleveland and the gunboat Sacramento from Tampico, Mexico, was ordered today by the navy department. Secretary Denby said the order had been issued by mutual agreement with the state department.

It was intimated that there apparently was no pressing need for the ships at the port as there seemed little immediate danger to American life or property.

Secretary Hughes in replying today before the withdrawal order was issued, to protests of labor leaders against the sending of warships to Tampico, wrote Samuel Gompers, president of the Pan American Federation of Labor, that "the presence of the ships has nothing whatever to do with labor unions or with disputes between employers and employés."

Glad to See Marines.

Mexico City, July 8.—[By the Associated Press.]—American marines from the United States cruisers Sacramento and Cleveland are mingling freely with the people of Tampico and have been met with extreme cordiality, although all measures necessary have been taken to prevent disputes which might lead to serious difficulties, according to reports received here early today from Tampico.

By permission of the Tampico authorities the marines were allowed the freedom of the city with the understanding that they should land unarmed.

Scout Peril to Relations.

Official reassurances were given today in statements to the newspapers that the Tampico situation does not contain elements of danger to peaceful relations between the United States and Mexico.

Reports early today say disgruntled workmen in a petroleum camp in Zacamixtla, Vera Cruz, attacked the properties there yesterday, being repulsed only when federal troops arrived and fired into the air. Zacamixtla largely is American owned.

Newspaper dispatches regarding the occurrence vary, some asserting there were several deaths among the workmen and others denying there were any casualties. Nothing official concerning the incident could be learned from any source here.

Gen. Arnulfo Gomez, commander of federal forces in Tamaulipas, who had been attending a conference at the war office, returned hurriedly to Tampico his afternoon upon receiving a detailed report of the disorders.

The accounts in the afternoon papers do not estimate the number of casualties, but say that unemployed oil workers, incited by agitators, stormed the petroleum company's property.

500 Grab New Brooms as Broom Factory Has Fire

A fire in the building of the Ideal Broom company, 3300 North Kenneth avenue, supplied at least 500 families with brooms free of charge last night, according to officials. The fire started in the basement and destroyed $25,000 worth of broom corn. On the ground floor, which was not damaged, were the 500 brooms. They disappeared. Children carrying brooms were seen half a mile from the building.

Conferees Drop Several Items in Naval Budget

Washington, D. C., July 8.—After a meeting of senate and house conferees on the naval appropriation bill late today it was said the senate would drop its fight for retention of certain amendments opposed by the house. These include provisions for aviation stations at Sand Point, Wash., and Camp Kearney, Cal., improvements at the Bremerton navy yard, and construction of two airplane carriers.

CITY COOLS OFF A BIT, BUT HEAT CLAIMS 8 MORE

Day's Top Is 88 Degrees; 95 on Thursday.

Lower temperatures prevailed in the Chicago region yesterday, the humidity was reduced by the storm of Thursday night, and there was less general suffering.

Yesterday's maximum reading was 88 degrees at 3 o'clock p. m., compared with 95 the day before. A western breeze ameliorated the daylight hours and switched to northerly in the evening. Fair and continued warm weather is promised for today.

Storm Is Widespread.

Weather bureau reports show that Thursday's storm was duplicated, but with less intensity, throughout the western lake region and the upper and middle Mississippi valley. The clouds appeared to have reached the limit of their capacity for moisture at approximately the same time and a general deluge followed.

Chicago, however, was hardest hit. Milwaukee reported a precipitation of .84 inch and the Green Bay region .42, while the instruments at the federal building here registered a rainfall of 1.71 inches and more than 2 inches descended on the south side.

Eight deaths, thought to be due to heat, occurred here yesterday, several of them as a result of Thursday's sweltering temperature. Only two prostrations were reported, as compared with nine for the day before. There were no victims of dog bites. Thursday's list showed thirteen.

Aged Persons Are Victims.

The dead:

Joseph Kolczk, 1950 West 22d street; county hospital; prostrated Thursday.

Mrs. Kate Barber, 86 years old, 2412 Cottage Grove avenue; heart disease and excess heat.

Mrs. Matilda Cynova, 78 years old, 2443 High street; heart disease and heat.

Louise Buruth, 11 months old, 1218 West 32d street.

Sophie Frisch, 60 years old, found dead in chair, 2355 West Lake street.

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, 47 years old, 1644 North Western avenue; collapsed while preparing breakfast.

Otto Geisler, 66 years old, 3900 Princeton avenue; collapsed while working Thursday.

Albert Loyza, 2021 Willow street; dropped to sidewalk Thursday night; died at Alexian Brothers' hospital yesterday.

Harding's 30th Wedding Anniversary Not Observed

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Today was the thirtieth anniversary of the marriage of President and Mrs. Harding, but they planned no formal observance. They were married at the same house in Marion from which the front porch campaign was conducted last year.

WIDOW OF GILLMAN DIVORCES FORMER FAMILY CHAUFFEUR

Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday indicated he would grant a divorce to Mrs. Marion E. Gillman Dresler, widow of Frederick Gillman, wealthy clock manufacturer, from Fred L. Dresler, the Gillman family's former chauffeur. Mrs. Dresler alleges her husband deserted her. Gillman left an estate valued at $100,000. Recently Judge Henry Horner appointed a conservator for Mrs. Dresler when witnesses testified she had squandered $12,000 in six months on gay parties with friends. Mrs. Dresler charged she was married to Dresler at Crown Point after he had induced her to drink to excess.

EXPERT ON MEATS SHOWS BIG COST DROP IN YEAR

J. T. Russell, president of the meat council of Chicago, yesterday issued the following statement:

"Retail meat prices in some Chicago markets have dropped 30 per cent from the level prevailing a year ago today, according to comparative figures obtained from a large cash-and-carry establishment. On some cuts of meat the declines range as high as 50 per cent."

Mr. Russell gives the following table to show how much farther $5 will go today in one Chicago cash-and-carry market than was the case a year ago:

ONE YEAR AGO.
5 pounds sirloin steak	$2.75
5 pounds rib roast	2.45
	$5.20

TODAY.
5 pounds sirloin steak	$2.00
5 pounds rib roast	1.37
3 pounds pot roast (chuck)	.48
3 pounds lamb stew	.24
3 pounds spare ribs	.33
2 pounds pork loins	.50
½ pound smoked brisket bacon	.10
1½ pounds leaf lard	.18
	$5.20

METEOR DELUGE ON SUN MAKES IT WARM, SEE SAYS

Vallejo, Cal., July 8.—The extraordinarily warm weather this summer is caused by an unusual downpour of meteors on the sun, increasing its radiation and effective surface temperature, Prof. T. J. J. See, government astronomer at the Mare Island navy yard, said today.

Citing the fact that unusually warm summers occur every ten or eleven years, he said that "now, for the first time, by profound researches, astronomers are able to throw some light" upon this great mystery.

"Since a mass of meteoric matter greater than our moon is falling into the sun every century," he said, "it is very improbable that the downpour proceeds at a uniform rate. If it comes down in gusts under the actions of the chief planets, Jupiter and Mars, which are now near conjunction, and are seen together in our evening sky, then we should have sudden increases of the sun's radiation."

Arcola Bank Shortage Found to Total $516,000

Decatur, Ill., July 8.—Auditors reported the total shortage of the Arcola State bank funds as $516,000 instead of $400,000. Stockholders voted unanimously to put up another $150,000 for the protection of depositors.

ARMOUR NAMED IN SUIT AGAINST UTILITIES CO.

Minority Holders Seek to Prevent Sale.

A bill for an injunction was filed in Superior court yesterday against J. Ogden Armour, six other persons, and six corporations, to prevent a foreclosure sale of the Chicago Utilities company, a $20,000,000 corporation.

J. OGDEN ARMOUR.

The Chicago Utilities company is the parent organization of several subsidiary companies, including the Illinois Tunnel company, which operates the freight tunnel under the loop.

Allege Subterfuge Bid.

It is alleged the highest bid necessary to gain control of the million dollar concern will merely have to cover the principal and interest now in default on the bonds and stock of the concern, which total only $750,000.

MRS. E. H. HARRIMAN.

Twenty-three minority stockholders are bringing the suit. They state in their bill that as they are not able to bid the comparatively small sum of $750,000, the persons named as defendants will bid in the assets for a "song" and wipe them out of their small holdings.

Among those named with J. Ogden Armour are Mrs. E. H. Harriman, Robert J. Dunham, Joseph Harris, Sherman W. Tracy, George W. Hotchkiss, and J. C. Payton.

Companies Named as Defendants.

The concerns made defendants are the Chicago Utilities company, Chicago Tunnel company, Illinois Telephone and Telegraph company, United States Mortgage and Trust company, Central Trust Company of Illinois, and the Chicago Warehouse and Terminal company.

The plaintiffs are the Merchants' National bank, Charles Baird, the estate of George C. Buell, Alice B. Burks, C. W. Colborn, Isaac B. Davenport, Sophia Donzar, Mary Strong Eilsler, C. W. Enggren, William J. Hand, George Weiss, James F. Upton, and eleven others.

VETO BY MAYOR HALTS COUNCIL QUIZ OF 'EXPERTS'

Also Saves His Traction Lawyers in Hot Fight.

overlooked" the other appropriations of a similar nature. "Anyway," he concluded, "the other committees understand that they may appoint lawyers only with my consent."

"Was it because you were fraid the local transportation committee would not work with you or for legal reasons that you O K'd this opinion?" demanded Schwartz.

"I'm head of the law department and it's up to me to name all attorneys," replied Mr. Ettelson.

The mayor submitted a veto of the ordinance hiring Attorneys Louis E. Hart and Lawrence E. Cohen to assist Ald. Schwartz, Woodhull, and Guernsey in their investigation of experts.

"Yet you accepted Donald R. Richberg, appointed by the council in the gas litigation matters," said Ald. Shwartz. "You accepted Walter L. Fisher, who was hired the same way."

"If the council can name Cohen and Hart, these men can work entirely independent of me," responded Ettelson.

Calls Fees Public Scandal.

"The payment of $500,000 approximately to each of five experts by this administration is a great public scandal," replied Schwartz. "How did it happen? Who obligated the city to pay upward of $7,000,000 to these men? We were told to investigate. We passed by many lawyers because they were antagonistic to Mayor Thompson. We took Cohen and Hart because they had not been mixed up in politics.

"The truth is that in vetoing this ordinance Mayor Thompson shows he does not desire a fair and honest investigation. He does not want this thing ferreted through. But he cannot stop it. Hart is willing to work for nothing. When this investigation is over we will have saved the city more than these experts ever earned in their lives."

Veto Saves Traction Lawyers.

"As for the mayor's veto of the traction appropriation, I say that it is high time this council woke up," Ald. Schwartz said. "It is high time we cut out the brass bands, the horns, and the political bunk and knuckle down in an attempt to get a real solution of the traction problem."

In a separate veto message the mayor knocked out the ordinance repealing the ordinance fixing the fees for his expert traction lawyers. This veto will permit Chester E. Cleveland, a steady worker, to go on drawing $125 a day. It will also permit the following Lundin-Thompson men to continue at the public crib: George B. Gillespie, $125 a day; Ringer & Wilhartz, $150 a day; Samuel J. Andalman, $50 a day; Daniel A. Roberts, $50 a day, and David H. Jackson, $50 a day.

It was a coalition of the mayor's aldermanic supporters and Lundin-Thompson Democrats, as the Democrats who "play ball" with the mayor for patronage plums have come to be called, which prevented passage of the vetoed items of the 1921 budget over the mayor's veto.

The first test came on Ald. Schwartz' motion to override the mayor's veto of the $25,000 item for the annual expenses of the local transportation committee.

Just before the vote was taken the mayor beckoned Ald. Walkowiak to the rostrum and held a whispered conversation with him. Walkowiak, a Democrat, responded by "jumping squarely into the mayor's lap," as one of his colleagues expressed it. He not only voted to sustain the mayor's veto, but he also made a half hearted speech in behalf of it.

Lineup of Aldermen.

The Democrats who voted with the mayor were Aldermen Mulcahy, Byrne, O'Toole, Lynch, Walkowiak and Toman. Two more Democrats, Rutkowski and Horan, disappeared from the chamber before the vote was taken. The vote was 36 yeas to 22 nays, 45 yeas being necessary to override the veto, as follows:

AGAINST THE MAYOR.

Coughlin, Kenna, Schwartz, Richert, T. A. Hogan, McDonough, Eaton, Guernsey, Furman, Govier, McNichols, Cepak, Horne, Smith, Maypole, Kaindl, Piotrowski, Czekala, Touhy, Bowler, Franz, Fick, Crowe, Klein, Steffen, Wallace, Brieske, Frankhauser, Jensen, Adamowski, Kovarik, Moran, Lyle, A. O. Anderson, Kostner, and Clark—36.

WITH THE MAYOR.

Jackson, L. B. Anderson, Johntry, Mulcahy, Madderom, Shaffer, Olsen, Walkowiak, Devereux, Agnew, Albert, Caspers, Hendricks, Armitage, Schlegel, Byrne, O'Toole, Lynch, S. M. Hogan, Wilson, Garner, and Toman—22.

Ald. Toman announced that he was voting with the mayor's forces because he was "in favor of knocking all these $150 a day experts off the pay roll." A few seconds later, when the question of sustaining the council's action in ousting Cleveland, Gillespie et al., the mayor's expert lawyers, was up, Toman backslid from his good resolution and voted to keep the Lundinites on the pay roll at their old salaries. He offered no explanation.

During the roll call First Assistant Corporation Counsel Breen was busy carrying messages direct from the mayor to Floor Leader Anderson of the mayor's forces. For a time there seemed to be doubt about the mayor's ability to stop the Schwartz motion, and lobbying was freely indulged in by the Thompson forces.

Action on Other Vetoes.

An attempt to override the mayor's veto of an appropriation of $15,000 for court reporters for the police committee was beaten by a vote of 35 to 20, forty-five votes being necessary.

"This item was inserted in the budget in an effort to prevent fixing in police courts, and it had the o. k. of the mayor's chief of police," said Ald. Steffen, chairman of the police committee.

Then came the motion to override the veto of the ordinance ousting Cleveland and the other "expert" lawyers from their soft berths. It lost, 33 to 21, a few Democrats again joining hands with the mayor.

But perhaps the most interesting roll call of all was the one on Schwartz's motion to order city employés to deliver books and vouchers dealing with the expert fee payments to the investigating subcommittee. Twenty-four aldermen voted against a motion to suspend the rules, and in favor of keeping the lid on all information concerning the payment of $2,742,866 to Experts Lyons, Waller, Merigold, Lynch, and Mesce.

These aldermen were: Jackson, Anderson, Johntry, Mulcahy, Govier, Madderom, Shaffer, Olsen, Kaindl, Walkowiak Devereux, Agnew, Albert, Caspers, Hendricks, Armitage, Schlegel, Byrne, O'Toole, Lynch, S. M. Hogan, Lyle, Wilson, Garner—24.

During the debate Ald. L. B. Anderson charged that four senators whose votes would have put over the mayor's traction plan at Springfield voted against it "because Ald. Schwartz had said it was all political bunk."

"Who said that?" demanded Schwartz.

Ald. Anderson parried, refusing to give the name of his informant, who was Assistant Corporation Counsel Breen. He had brought the message from the mayor.

Mayor Backs Up Statement.

"That's right," said the mayor at the close of the meeting. "These senators gave Schwartz's objections to my plan as their reasons for voting against it. Schwartz talked for my plan, but his actions were against it."

In explaining his vote Ald. Albert, the youngest member of the council and an ardent Thompsonite, charged that Schwartz, as chairman of the traction committee, "has the committee tied hand and foot."

"An official of the 'L' lines told me I could never get any action on an order for improved service I had before the committee," Albert said. "He said Schwartz would see to that."

This aroused Schwartz, who bore down on Albert with clinched fists, shouting:

"Did this man tell you that the mayor is friendly to the 'L' roads? Did he tell you why the mayor has made no efforts to get 'L' fares down though, they are higher than surface fares?

"Upstart" and "Chauffeur."

"If you think I'm going to let you, a young upstart and an ex-chauffeur for a $10,000 Lundin-Thompson commissioner (Titus Haffa, Thompson committeeman from Twenty-second ward) get away with any slurs on my character, you are mistaken. Your order went to the public service department, controlled by your own bosses, and that department turned it down."

Albert strove to make an answer, but the mayor flatly refused him the floor, apparently having enough of the talk about the elevated lines.

FIRST INFANTRY EQUIPMENT FOR RECRUITS HERE

The 1st infantry, Illinois national guard, now in camp at Camp Logan, just north of Zion City, will be strengthened tomorrow as the result of the receipt of additional federal equipment at the armory, 16th street and Michigan avenue. When the 1st went to camp it was obliged to leave many reruits behind, because it did not have sufficient equipment for them. This deficiency has now been supplied, and all day tomorrow the armory will be open to equip the recruits left behind. When they are outfitted they will be taken to Camp Logan, where the 1st has still a week to remain.

ALLIES TO DECIDE PEACE PATHWAY U.S. WILL CHOOSE

Some Mandate Obstacles Now in the Way.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.] The character of the next moves by the United States to carry out the leading peace program depends upon the attitude of Great Britain and the other allies on pending questions involving American rights and interests. Whether we shall settle war accounts with Germany by ratifying the Versailles treaty with reservations, undertaking thereby to participate in the enforcement of those treaty terms we approve, or shall settle with Germany by a separate treaty independently of the allies, has not been determined by President Harding and it may be some time before he reaches a conclusion.

Obstacles to Immediate Action.

The President does not intend to reach a decision pending developments in certain international negotiations now in progress, notably the following:

1. Anglo-Japanese alliance—Whether Great Britain continues its alliance with Japan and, if so, whether the character of the alliance is detrimental to the interests of the United States.

2. Mandates—Whether the allies recognize American rights derived from the 5th share of the United States in territories ceded by the central powers, except the action allocating the island of Yap to Japan, and accord America the commercial open door in the former enemy possessions.

3. Cables—Whether the allies are opposed to divide the former German cables on a basis restoring American communication directly with northern Europe and assuring the United States increased cable and radio facilities in the Pacific.

Wants All Cards on the Table.

The attitude of the administration toward the question of ratifying the Versailles treaty or making a separate settlement with Germany while these other issues are undetermined was thus stated by a high official:

"Why should we lay all our cards on the table when no one else is doing it?"

The clear inference from various authoritative administration utterances today is that if the allies take a position prejudicial to the interests of the United States in the international negotiations now in progress the President might deem unjustifiable a ratification of the Versailles treaty even with radical reservations. If, however, the outcome of these negotiations should be favorable to the interests of the United States, he would continue to consider acceptance of a considerably revised Versailles treaty as one of the feasible methods of making the peace settlement.

The Anglo-Japanese Alliance.

It was stated officially that there have been some informal conversations between Great Britain and the United States regarding the proposed renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, but no British inquiry to which Prime Minister Lloyd George possibly could be, expecting any formal reply from the United States. The prime minister may mean that he is awaiting a reply from British Ambassador Geddes, who presumably has sounded Secretary of State Hughes.

That the administration has made no suggestion even informally concerning the renewal of the alliance also was asserted, though England, it was opined, is aware of American sentiment on the question. Administration officials carefully avoid expressing an opinion as to the prevailing sentiment, but indications are not wanting that a continuation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance is viewed with no less anxiety by the American people than by the British overseas dominions.

Mandate Controversy Important.

If the allies should refuse to recognize the rights contended for by the United States in the mandate controversy they would make it more difficult for the administration to recommend ratification of the Versailles treaty, which not only would not operate to restore the rights claimed in the Yap dispute but would bring the United States into association with a group of nations that had already ignored and were persisting in ignoring America's just share in the victory over Germany.

The President is considering action on the peace settlement in connection with the attitude of the allies on other questions because his primary aim is to secure American fruits of victory in the most practicable manner, whether by ratification of the Versailles treaty or by other means.

12 Mine Union Leaders Arrested in West Virginia

Williamson, W. Va., July 8.—David E. Robb, international financial agent of the United Mine Workers of America, and eleven other union leaders were arrested here today by Maj. Tom Davis, Gov. Morgan's personal representative in the coal strike region, on a charge of unlawful assemblage. They were taken to the city lockup for investigation, the authorities said.

Held for Giving Out Race Riot Pamphlets

Four men have been arrested by Chief of Police Forbis of Gary for distributing literature on the Tulsa race riots, signed by the Communist party of America. It calls on white men of the country to come to the assistance of their "colored brothers who are the victims of the capitalist class, using the government to suppress its enemies."

Mrs. Belmont Denies She Will Make Home Abroad

Newport, R. I., July 8.—[Special.]—Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont today denied there was any truth in the report that she was to give up her American residence and live permanently abroad. "Of course, there is nothing in it," she said. "I am an American citizen and intend to live in my country."

AID FOR BRUNDAGE

Directors of the Women's Bar association arranging to give free legal services to Attorney General Brundage. The attorney general's appropriation was cut by Gov. Small, it was alleged in Springfield yesterday, because the governor became aware that the attorney general was about to proceed against him for the recovery of interest money earned by state funds while the governor occupied the office of state treasurer under the Lowden administration. From left to right the picture shows Rebecca W. Liss, Charlotte M. Stevens, Jessie Cohn, Grace H. Harte, Catharine Waugh McCulloch, and Charlotte White, president of the association.

JAP TROOPS TO HOLD SHANTUNG FOR A U. S. WAR

Would Grab Yankees' China Holdings.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

TSINGTAO, Shantung, July 8.—The expected arrival from Tokio of Dr. Akiyama, the civil administrator of Shantung, after a long conference with the cabinet, has given rise to a report that Japan will withdraw its railway guards on Aug. 1 as a first step to placate China. THE TRIBUNE'S correspondent was assured by Gen. Yui that this was not true, for he reiterated his statement that Japan would remain until China voluntarily asked Japan to return the province.

"The army costs Japan 5,000,000 yen yearly," he said, "but that sum is wholly paid by the Tokio government, it forming no part of the bill awaiting China.

"We have but 2,400 troops in all Shantung, this number being ample, for the province is quiet. Even if China should negotiate we would not withdraw this force until China organizes a well disciplined body of troops.

China Wants Japs to Stay.

"The factions in China prefer that Japan does not withdraw from Shantung so that they can continue to enlist foreign sympathy. But world progress cannot be halted on account of Shantung. We cannot wait here in Tsingtao. There are too many foreign interests involved. If China should take over Tsingtao and the railway all progress and development may cease, owing to the lack of a stable Peking government. Withdrawal now is not being thought of."

Through the mist of this interview it would seem that Japan is preparing for a grander game. While it is admitted Japan seeks to profit by the economic development of Shantung and to provide a place for its excess population, still there are hints of a military motive behind the Shantung moves. This would indicate that Japan is preparing to seize China's vast reserves in the event of a break with the United States.

U. S. BACKS OPEN DOOR

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—Secretary of State Hughes, in a note to the Chinese minister, made public today, on protests of Great Britain, Japan, and Denmark against the erection of a wireless station in China by the Federal Telegraph company, reaffirms adherence by the United States to the principle of the open door in China and insists that protests of foreign governments are founded on monopolistic or preferential rights.

The Federal Telegraph company is an American concern. Because of the foreign protests the government was asked by the Chinese minister if it proposed to withdraw its support from the company. Under date of July 1 the secretary replied to the Chinese minister, assuring him at the outset that the United States had no intention of withdrawing support of the company.

"Your reference to the principle of the open door affords me the opportunity to assure you of this government's continuance in its whole hearted support of that principle, which it has traditionally regarded as fundamental both to the interests of China itself and to the common interests of all powers in China, and indispensable to the free and peaceful development of their commerce on the Pacific ocean."

SHIPPING WAR ON BETWEEN BIG GERMAN LINES

New York, July 8.—[Special.]—German shipping interests, in seeking to regain the world trade lost by Germany in 1914, have split into two factions which threaten to precipitate a rate war on the international trade routes.

On one side is the Hamburg-American line, with a view of upbuilding the American and German merchant marine on a reciprocal basis. On the other Hugo Stinnes, who was ousted recently from the directorate of the Hamburg-American line and who is described as the "one-man octupus of Germany," because of his vast holdings in coal and iron mines, is credited with having launched a program which will call for seventy-seven ships, aggregating almost 1,000,000 gross tons, to be operated by German and British capital in opposition to American ships.

It is asserted that a rate war appears inevitable.

Ready

At a luncheon in the Women's City club yesterday noon the Chicago Women's Bar association adopted resolutions offering free legal aid to Attorney General Brundage, and in addition planned the taking of subscriptions to enable the attorney general to carry on prosecutions. His appropriation was recently cut to the bone by Gov. Small.

The association's resolution was embodied in a letter to Mr. Brundage signed by virtually every member.

INSANITY TRIAL OF "LONE WOLF" TO START TODAY

HARRY WARD.

Another "victim" of the insanity epidemic, which suddenly spread over murderers' row in the county jail when it was learned a convicted slayer might escape the noose that way, will appear before Judge Hugo M. Friend in Criminal court this morning, when his attorneys seek to prove he is a lunatic. The "victim" is Harry H. Ward, the "Lone Wolf," who shot two men dead in a daylight holdup last fall.

Following the filing of the petition on behalf of Gene Geary, whose insanity trial is pending, attorneys for Ward and Carl Wanderer both demanded a jury trial to decide the sanity of their clients. Wanderer has been held sane and Judge David has fixed July 29 as the date of his execution.

Yesterday Judge Friend adjourned the baseball hearing early and directed the attorneys for Ward and the state's lawyers to select a jury. This took about an hour, and today the trial will be held.

Four Are Drowned in Swimming Hole on Farm

Lewistown, Ill., July 8.—[Special.]—Mrs. Dave Shaw, 35, her two children, Ruth, 14, and Dorothy, 12, and Charles Lofley, an elderly man, uncle of Mrs. Shaw, were drowned in a pool on the Shaw farm six miles west of Canton, shortly after noon today.

AVIATION CLUB'S 'APOLLO' FLITS; POLICE ON TRAIL

Photographs which he had taken when he was sole contender for the title of "Apollo of the Aviation club" may prove the undoing of "Lieut." Gordon Ayers, who, according to his own story, served with the Canadian forces during the world war.

"LIEUT." GORDON AYERS.

Ayers appeared recently at the Aviation club bazaar, which is still in progress. He had many tales to relate, and lamented the war had ended "just before I would have become an ace." His stories were accepted with a grain of salt, but he was permitted to serve as a volunteer worker at the bazaar and furnished considerable amusement by having a number of photographs for the "Apollo of the club" contest, which he alone took seriously. As he was the only entry, he carried off the title.

Then one morning H. W. Standish, treasurer of the Lawyers' Association of Illinois, left his safe open and $35 disappeared. A warrant for Ayers' arrest was sworn out and his "Apollo" pictures were turned over to the police to aid them in their search. For Ayers has disappeared.

ARMY OFFICER'S WIFE STRICKEN WITH LEPROSY

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—Mrs. Lutz Wahl, wife of Col. Lutz Wahl of the United States army, residing with her husband in the fashionable northwest section of the city, has been reported to the health department as suffering from leprosy.

It is the first case of leprosy in a woman ever reported in the District of Columbia. According to the records of the health department, Mrs. Wahl was granted a permit to leave Washington after the case had been reported, and, so far as officials of the local health department and the United States public health service know, Mrs. Wahl was taken to Louisiana, where the federal government maintains a hospital for the treatment of the disease.

VETERANS' RELIEF BILL AGROUND ON SIESTA SHOALS

Senate Chart Shows It's on Tricky Reef.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—The Sweet bill, to relieve thousands of disabled and neglected world war veterans, is fast aground on procrastination shoals, one of the most dangerous spots in senatorial navigation charts.

Its friends are trying to get it floated again and back safely on its course toward the statute books, but the outlook is stormy. The best that can be hoped for now is that it will be before the senate by the middle of next week.

Members of the finance subcommittee, who have had charge of the bill for several weeks, after two more fruitless meetings had been held today, explained that unforeseen obstacles had prevented the expected favorable action on the measure.

Discuss the Plums.

Although the measure was considered behind closed doors, it was learned that most of the committee's time was taken up by a discussion of how many suboffices the war risk bureau ought to have scattered through the country. The bill, in its present form, limits the number to 140. Some members think this limitation should stand, while others contend that the war risk bureau should be given authority to establish as many as may be necessary for the proper administration of the act.

Another subject which came in for considerable discussion was the extent of the authority which should be granted to the suboffices.

Senator Smoot, chairman, declared he was making every effort to get a favorable report on the measure. He announced that he would call the committee together again tomorrow.

The Red Tape.

Even after the subcommittee makes a report, however, the bill still faces serious obstacles. It must then be submitted to the whole committee, some of the members of which have ideas about amending it. When it finally gets to the floor, numerous amendments will be offered, according to present indications, and then it will have to go through the usual tedious process of being smoothed out in conference before it can be placed in the President's hands.

W. S. Bennet of Chicago, attorney for Edward Hines, the lumberman, appeared before the senate committee investigating soldiers' relief today, to reply to Col. Abel Davis' assertion that the Broadview, or Speedway, hospital, "is an abortion." Mr. Bennet declared it was one of the most modern and up to date hospitals in the world.

He told the committee that two years' effort, $200,000 in attorneys' fees, and four acts of congress had been necessary to get the government to accept the hospital. He presented a letter showing the total investment in the hospital to be $5,063,000, of which amount $1,000,000 represented Mr. Hines' contribution.

36 Lynchings in America in the Last Six Months

Tuskegee, Ala., July 8.—There were thirty-six lynchings in the United States during the first six months of the year, twenty-four more than the number recorded during the same period in 1920, according to a report issued today by the department of records and research of Tuskegee institute.

SOLDIERS' BONUS STILL HOLDING PLACE IN SENATE

Harding Message Likely Next Week.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—The soldiers' bonus bill held its place before the senate today notwithstanding President Harding's desire that it be sidetracked until next winter.

Proponents of the measure, led by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, acting chairman of the finance committee, declared their determination to keep the bill before the senate in defiance of the administration's wishes.

Administration leaders made no effort to force a showdown. They spent their time quietly marshaling their forces for a test of strength next week.

Confident of Victory.

They were confident that they would be able to muster sufficient votes to shelve the bill until next session, although it was generally agreed that the roll call would be close.

Senator Underwood, Alabama, Democratic leader, expresed belief that half a dozen or more Democratic senators would support the administration's efforts to delay action on the bonus. Senator Curtis of Kansas, Republican whip, was of opinion that forty or more Republicans could be counted upon to vote for the motion to recommit the bill.

A new complication made its appearance, however, when the cloak-room grapevine conveyed the rumor that the Democrats would filibuster against the sidetracking motion if it became apparent that the administration had rounded up sufficient votes to carry it.

Would Keep Bill Alive.

Such a filibuster, if conducted on an extensive scale, not only would keep the bonus before the senate indefinitely but would defeat the administration's hopes of a congressional recess.

President Harding did not deliver his special mesage on the bonus to congress today as expected. It was stated that the message will be held up until early next week.

The senate took a recess until Monday, so that there is little likelihood of further action until the message arrives.

Senator Harrison of Mississippi, Democrat, asked Senator McCumber whether he intended to push the bonus bill in spite of President Harding's appeal.

"We are going right ahead with it," replied Senator McCumber.

Senator McCumber criticized Secretary Mellon for not stating his objections to the bonus bill when it was before the finance committee weeks ago.

Senator McCumber declared congress had not been economical in other matters. He charged that hundreds of millions of dollars were being spent in new fields of governmental enterprise which had no place on the program for the present special session.

He called attention to the fact that more than $2,000,000,000 has been appropriated for railroads since they were first taken over by the government, and that latest reports are that an additional $500,000,000 in the form of governmental aid will be required at an early date.

Illinois Legion for Action.

Springfield, Ill., July 8.—[Special.]—Disapproval of President Harding's proposal to delay action on the soldiers' bonus bill was voiced today in a telegram sent by commanders and state officials of American Legion posts in the department of Illinois. The commanders, nearly two hundred strong, met at the state arsenal to hear reports of state officials and they approved the telegram text. The state executive committee telegraphed yesterday to Senators Medill McCormick and William B. McKinley urging them to support the bill.

ANTI-BEER BILL FINDS OPPOSITION IN THE SENATE

But It Will Pass, Vote Indicates.

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—Determined opposition to the Campbell-Willis bill, designed to prohibit the prescription and sale of beer as medicine, developed in the senate today.

Although the bill was taken up by a vote of 43 to 16, clearly indicating its ultimate passage, so much debate resulted that virtually no progress was made toward its final disposition.

Senator Wadsworth of New York made it plain that the bill would not be permitted to go to an immediate vote and Senators Broussard of Louisiana, Gerry of Rhode Island, Shortridge of California, and others insisted on the fullest discussion. There seemed to be no disposition to filibuster against the measure, but it was clear that there is considerable controversy ahead.

"Today we are suffering from a debauch of law violation," said Senator Wadsworth. "It seems to me that this bill invites more stealing and more violation. It will tempt every physician in every hospital to violate the law."

Senator Wadsworth especially denounced provisions exempting stolen spirits from taxes. They would exempt the owner if he was not in collusion with the thief. The house bill would not grant exemption on stolen liquor unless the thief had been convicted.

FOR A TARIFF THAT PROTECTS THE PUBLIC.

Violent attacks upon the new tariff bill, made in the minority report of Democratic members of the house ways and means committee, were to be expected as emanating from the traditional policy of that party. They are rabidly partisan, and may be discounted as such. But if they are to be thus discounted, it must logically follow that Republican support of the measure as a whole, without regard to evils of individual privilege contained in the measure, is likewise in danger of such discount.

If we are to avoid such danger and secure amendment of the bill in such a way that it will merit popular approval and support, it must be considered, not as a measure of partisanship and privilege, but for its effect upon the prosperity of the country. With that end in view the minority report of Representative Frear, denouncing the proposed dyes tariff, is of particular interest as coming from a Republican in the committee. Such a report from such a source indicates at least that the bill is not to be swallowed whole under the recognized Republican policy of protection, regardless of the effect of specific provisions.

Such opposition, developing at this time, assures a careful study and detailed debate on the measure. Such study and debate ought to show either that the opposition is poorly founded or that it is well founded, and the decision of the house ought to be a carefully thought out verdict, based on this evidence, not a preconceived verdict.

Mr. Frear charges that the dye provisions of the bill create a government protected monopoly, which will maintain prices of inferior dyes in this country at several times pre-war rates, and to the great disadvantage of American textile manufacturers whose products must compete with imported goods colored with the fast dyes of Germany. By granting embargo powers to the tariff commission, he says, the dye monopoly will be given privilege without precedent in any tariff law ever passed by congress. The result, he says, will be exploitation of the consumers in this country to the amount of millions of dollars annually, while the chemical "foundation" which controls the American dye industry rests at ease behind this wall, fails to improve its products, and with profits assured, fails to develop its science in the manner theoretically proposed by advocates of the measure.

These are serious charges. They cannot be ignored or scoffed aside. They must be given the honest consideration of congress, and if the result of the consideration reveals that the public is to be exploited without mercy for the benefit of a commercial monopoly, which is doing nothing for the general advancement of the country, no party precedent or tradition ought to uphold this feature of the bill.

It is not necessarily high tariff, but protective tariff which is a tried and time honored feature of Republican party doctrine. And by a protective tariff is meant a tariff which will protect the general prosperity of the nation as well as that of an individual producer or group.

The schedule on wood and wood products offers an illustration. By putting into effect a 25 per cent ad valorem duty on Canadian dressed lumber, the bill undoubtedly would protect a dozen, and perhaps more, big American lumber and mill men. At the same time it would stimulate the cutting of our diminished American forests, increase the bills of thousands or millions of American consumers of wood and wood products by many millions of dollars annually, and assure constantly rising prices through the years to come. Such "protection" cannot properly be described as protection at all, but as privilege. Such "protection" is not in accord with the best principles of Republican policy. It can be opposed, and ought to be opposed, without charge of party irregularity.

Again, Arthur Evans, discussing the "American valuation" feature of the bill, points out that this feature would result in piling tariff upon tariff at the will of manufacturers, until prices become prohibitive and the consumer is either forced to do without the article wanted or accept an inferior article produced here, but priced in accord with the prohibitive price of the tariff ridden imported goods. The end would be depreciation in quality and increase in price of the American goods, the demoralization of our import business, and widespread loss, both to the federal revenue and to individual American consumers.

If Mr. Evans is correct, opposition to such a feature of the proposed bill is not opposition to the principle of "protection," but a move to safeguard our domestic purchasing power.

Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee, chief sponsor of the bill, explains our present industrial depression as "the inevitable result of the offering of foreign goods upon the American market at less than the American cost of production." He offers the bill, therefore, to correct this depression. We must take issue with him on this point. It is not the low cost of any products now on sale in American retail stores which is depressing business. It is the failure of the public to buy, and that failure is not due to low prices. If we reverse Mr. Fordney's argument, we would make him say that high retail prices will stimulate sales, and, therefore, stimulate production. It is a false assumption.

No tariff bill can be a cureall. This one ought not to be advocated from that standpoint. It can be supported, with amendments, in just so far as it gives promise of operating for the general good, not for privilege.

A PACIFIC CONFERENCE.

There is now a certainty that the British government has taken the initiative in bringing about a conference on Pacific relations. Mr. Lloyd George has told parliament that he is awaiting word from Washington presumably in response to informal inquiries as to our willingness to take part, and while our state department seems not yet ready to make a statement, we may safely assume that our government will welcome the opportunity.

At the same time the Japanese ambassador, Mr. Shidehara, has taken occasion to make a significant and most conciliatory statement as to Japanese-American relations and we cannot doubt that China will be glad to sit into a conference which would place her vis-à-vis with Japan under favorable circumstances.

Meanwhile both houses of congress have agreed to the Borah plan requesting the President to open negotiations with Great Britain and Japan for a limitation of naval construction, which ought to impress upon the Japanese government and people the sincerity of our pacific intentions.

In short, conditions are favorable to a conference from which something substantial for the preservation of peace should emerge. We need not be foolishly optimistic to hope that our statesmen may be able to replace our present dangerous lack of policy with a practical understanding on the war breeding issues existing in our relations. The problems are extremely difficult, but they are not, we trust, beyond solution and will be solved if Great Britain and the United States find a common ground of action and give it firm support. THE TRIBUNE believes this is the key of the situation. The danger lies in two factors. One is the influence of military conceptions of policy upon the Japanese government and ruling class. The other is the disposition, of which we have considerable evidence, of British interests to play a Machiavellian game against us.

Our government should be careful not to permit its characteristically American optimism and want of harsh experience to obscure either of these factors. American improvidence will not make for a settlement which will guarantee peace. On the contrary, it will tempt other governments into taking advantages which, when realized by us, will bring us to or over the brink of war. The only settlement which can promise durable peace is one accomplished in a clear recognition of the vital interests of all concerned.

We are glad to have China included in any conference which intends to deal with our general problems in the Pacific, for it is the disposition of Chinese resources which is the crux of the whole situation. Whether Japan's vital needs and Chinese rights can be conformed in a common policy remains to be seen. That will depend chiefly upon the establishment of an understanding between the United States and Great Britain. But in any event a conference will clear the air and we hope bring our present policy of drift to an end.

MEDDLING AMERICANS.

Why not bobbed hair?

We are glad to read that western employers are not inclined to follow the example of an eastern concern which has decreed that its lady employés shall not bob their hair. Speaking without prejudice from the viewpoint of beauty in any particular case, and examining this ordinance in the light of reason, we can see no reason why any employer should object to bobbed hair unless he runs a hairdressing parlor. To our mere masculine mind, bobbed hair seems worthy of consideration as a measure of coolness and sanitation.

Our guess would be that the taboo of the eastern concern was proposed by a lady "welfare" director rather than by any male official. But whatever the source, we sympathize heartily with the resentment which the employés affected undoubtedly feel against such a stupid meddling with personal liberty. Most business concerns have a legitimate interest in the deportment and appearance of their employés, and if either passes the bounds of decency, have a right to protest and prohibit. But we should say that, short of such excesses, an employer would do well to restrain any disposition to regulate.

The incident is an example of what is becoming a general habit of meddling in one another's private affairs. A considerable proportion of Americans seem to be stricken with a passion for regulating other people's lives. It is becoming an infliction like a pest of insects. The only consolation to be got from the nuisance is that it may sting us into a reaction in matters of more moment than bobbed hair. If it does not, Liberty Enlightening the World will soon be dousing her torch in New York harbor and wading home to France.

Editorial of the Day

COLLEGES AND SOCIETY.

[From the Peoria Journal.]

The actions of at least three college presidents in issuing orders that out of town students, upon their return to college work this fall, must leave their automobiles at home has met with the approval of thousands of alumni and parents of college students who are well aware of the tendency in many colleges to permit automobile rides, society, and various and sundry side lines to take the students' interest away from the regular college work.

The successful colleges are those which emphasize continuously the regular college work and which insist that students either spend their time studying or yield their places to other students who will. Literary society activities, debating, athletics, and occasional social functions are valuable in rounding out the students and in providing enough of a change to make better classroom work possible, but the good colleges are particular in telling their students that no outside activity is as important as study and that no student should engage in any side line which will detract from his scholarship.

Perhaps nothing has developed in modern college life which does so much to cause snobbishness and aristocracy as the overplaying of society, especially by those students who have unlimited drawing accounts guaranteed by rich fathers. Stories are still fresh which tell how a millionaire college youth nearly disrupted a senior class in a large western university because of his escapades in father's touring car. Automobiles are classed as necessities these days, but there is little democracy and little sense in conditions which give a college student certain social precedence because he has the most expensive car at school, especially when the youths who are working their way through school by washing windows, waiting on tables in restaurants, or tending furnaces are getting better grades and making preparations for better service in the post-college life. As far as the college student is concerned, the proper place for the big car during the college year is in father's garage.

OR IF SHE DOESN'T.

We do not know yet whether the world has been made entirely safe for democracy, but this country surely has been made perfectly safe for a woman to shoot a man if she so desires.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Around
Her neck
She wears a yellow ribbon;
She wears it in the winter,
And in summer, so they say.
When
You ask
Her why the decoration,
She wears it fur her lover,
Who is fur, fur away.

(And then, affirms Mr. Zipp, it bursts forth in high notes):

Fur away,
Fur away,
If she is milking cows or mowing hay;
Round
Her neck
She wears a yellow ribbon,
She wears it fur her lover,
Who is fur, fur away.

We are C2K the history of the ditty. Did it have its genesis in the folklore of America or in that of some other nation? We first heard it in 1907 from an old Irish lady who had lived in the west for many years. She told us she heard it in Goldfield in the days when gathood was in flower.

AT LAST "SOMETHING FOR NOTHING."

WHATEVER harm the world war did us, we must admit advantages gained in a few directions. One is the freedom of men of draft age from typhoid fever. Before that time typhoid fever was especially a disease of young men. Since that time almost nation-wide figures show that the disease has decreased so much more rapidly among men than it has among women that it has now become a woman's disease. About 5,000,000 men, those vaccinated against typhoid between 1914 and 1918, have been relatively free from typhoid since then and still are in some measure. I daresay most of them have dropped most of their health habits since 1918, but it is a good bet that the average man trained in health protection in 1917 and 1918 will never forget wholly what he learned about keeping fit during those years.

And another of the great gains was the custom of having annual citizens' military training camps. It started with Gen. Wood's training camp at Plattsburg. In 1920 congress decided to run nine Plattsburgs every summer at government expense. The country was divided into nine sections with five or six states to the section. Each section is known as a corps area and in each area one military training camp was to be run for one month each summer.

The camp is open to any young man who can pass a simple examination and bring proper credentials. There is no expense, since the government pays the board bills and railroad fare. One way to look at it is, "Here is a chance for a bully vacation of one month at government expense—something for nothing."

The government goes that proposition even better. It offers more than something for nothing. The man who goes will be vaccinated against typhoid fever. In other words, the government will protect him against that disease for three years after the camp closes. The government vaccinates him against smallpox—protection against that disease for more than seven years after the camp closes. If he asks for it I presume he could be vaccinated against diphtheria, with protection against that disease for years.

He will be taught how to take care of himself and keep himself fit. Before he has been there long he will find himself as hard as nails and as brown as a berry. He will stand straight. His joints will be supple. He will find that he has dropped most of his minor troubles and will have put on weight. He will get some military training and will have learned discipline, and the people of this country need discipline as much as they need health.

And while all of this was being gained he will have had the best and safest vacation he ever had, and all at government expense.

THERE'S MISTAKE SOMEWHERE.

Sympathizer writes: "I spat up blood for thirty years. I have been kept under the influence of morphine for a week with doses of ergot to stop a bleeding spell. Ergot was more or less irregular in its effects. Getting another doctor I was given chlor-calcium. This operated far better than ergot. Accidentally, I found that the inhalation of grain alcohol has either totally stopped the tendency to bleed or so nearly done so that I may claim a permanent cure since, if the mucus is at all tinged with blood, a few drops of alcohol placed on a handkerchief and inhaled stops it immediately. An examination of the blood will show probably that it is venous blood that exudes through the walls of thin veins. The alcohol probably coagulates the blood and so stops its flow. I have had no ill effects, that I am aware of, from the use of the alcohol."

REPLY.

Readers are warned not to draw two unjustified conclusions. One is that inhaling the fumes from alcohol will be of service in hemorrhage due to consumption. Sympathizer is only speculating as to the cause of his trouble and how the alcohol acts but there is no possibility that he has consumption. The other is that alcohol is a remedy for a multitude of ills, including snake bite.

BE CALM AS POSSIBLE.

Mrs. B. B. writes: "1. I am an epileptic and want to know if this will affect my baby girl 6 weeks old.

"2. Will breast feeding harm her?

"3. What are the best things for me to do?"

REPLY.

1-2. No.

3. Live hygienically. Keep the bowels regular and the digestion good. Lead as calm a life as possible.

EAT AND GROW FATTER.

L. R. M. writes: "1. How can I gain weight? 2. Is buttermilk more fattening than sweet milk? 3. Which is better to drink for gaining weight?"

REPLY.

1. Get nine hours sleep. Sleep at regular hours. Do not worry. Slow up. Eat a bowl of milk and sugared cereal twice a day. Make your supper your heavy meal and retire soon after eating it.

2. No.

3. Sweet milk.

BETTER CHANGE DIET.

G. R. R. writes: "Following severe pains in the back I had a urine test made by a reliable laboratory which showed the following: Everything normal except indican, large excess. What does this mean?"

REPLY.

Excessive amount of indican means putrefaction in the large intestines. In some instances changing the diet is all that is needed. A diet sometimes used to advantage is one of vegetables, fruits, breads, cereals, and sour milk foods. In many instances the indication is to overcome constipation by diet.

ADMINISTRATOR HOLDS FAST.

Chicago, July 5.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I am an heir to an estate in St. Louis, Mo., of $2,400. It has been in the hands of an administrator of that city for one year and he claims that he will hold it another year. Is that according to the law of Missouri? Can I borrow money on my share and sell my claim? J. M. M.

Section 235 provides the representative need not distribute until six months after date of letters. Unless the facts are exceptional we see no ground for the delay stated.

SCALDING THE BACK PORCH.

Chicago, July 4.—[Friend of the People.]—I live on the fourth floor and right above me is a woman who persists in throwing bucketfuls of hot scalding water on her porch to clean it. If she would mop it, it would not come through to our porch. My invalid daughter has to sit on this porch, and today she almost got scalded. Please see if you can help us. A. W.

An investigation was made by an inspector from this department, who has served a notice on the tenant to discontinue the practice of throwing water on the rear porch, to stop the nuisance of water leaking onto the porch below. JOHN DILL ROBERTSON,
Commissioner of Health.

REFUSES TO RETURN MONEY.

South Haven, Mich., July 4.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A man answered an advertisement and bought an article, and when he received it found that he could not use it and so returned it, asking for the return of his money. The concern refuses to return the money.

1. Can the firm be sued in Michigan or in Illinois, where it is located?

2. Can the service of summons be made by registered mail? J. L. F.

1. Unless he can find assets of the firm to attach in Michigan, he will have to sue where he can serve process.

2. In general, no.

THE PASSING OF THE BARREL.

Chicago, July 4.—[Friend of the People.]—On North Ashland avenue the restaurant keeper keeps the garbage in the yard in wooden boxes and broken barrels, permitting the odor to escape, which, of course, is very offensive. This is a very congested neighborhood, and I wish you would look into the matter and force the owner to have garbage removed more often or put in different barrels. R. K.

A notice has been served on the tenant to discontinue the use of a wooden barrel for refuse of restaurant and to provide covered metal receptacle. Also, to thoroughly clean the space in the yard where garbage cans are kept. JOHN DILL ROBERTSON,
Commissioner of Health.

AN APPEAL FOR THE NEGROES.

Chicago, June 27.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Eleven millions of Negro people in the United States are making one continuous cry for justice. What do they want? The righteousness of conduct in personal dealings, men with men, is one of the rights assured by the constitution of the United States to every citizen, regardless of creed or color. "Equality and exact justice to all men" said Thomas Jefferson in his first inaugural address. And this is what the Negro wants and ought to have. Do they have it? Look right down into the black record. Truth harms no one but the guilty.

In the past fifty years over 5,600 Negroes have been lynched, mutilated, and tortured. Only recently, within sight of the White House at Alexandria, Va., a Negro was most brutally lynched. At Springfield, Ill., where rests all that is mortal of Abraham Lincoln, a Negro was burned. At East St. Louis over forty Negroes were slaughtered. The same year thirty-one Negroes and one Negro woman were lynched. Negroes have been burned at the stake even in John Brown's own state of Kansas. Think of Chicago and Tulsa. The United States protested with all its might against the atrocities of Belgium; but are the atrocities committed against the Negro in this land of the Stars and Stripes any different? Why visit the Belgian atrocities with fire and sword and tolerate them in our own land?

Give the Negroes the same security of life against mobs as the whites have. Give them the same standard of citizenship, honest fairness in the courts, judgments without prejudice, trials by courts, not by mobs; fair and honest opportunity to earn a living and do away with oppression.

Why spend millions upon millions of dollars to compel people to live up to the eighteenth amendment, and not one cent to enforce obedience to the fourteenth, fifteenth, and sixteenth amendments? JOHN MEIER.

ATTENTION OF MR. POOLE.

Chicago, July 6.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I suggest that Mr. Poole take immediate steps to stop the gouging of the public that is going on at the Municipal pier. Here are two instances:

A friend and I visited the pier during the present hot spell. At the large refreshment counter on the second floor we bought two drinks, a Green River and an Orange Crush. These, made with charged water, sell for 6 cents anywhere in the city. At the pier they charged us 10 cents each; they served the drinks in pointed paper cups three-fourths filled; they served drinks made with plain water (not charged) and instead of being cold and refreshing, they were barely cool—a most sickening concoction. I would estimate the profit on this transaction as about 300 per cent.

At the large counter on the ground floor we purchased two ice cream cones. The lump of ice cream served was so small that instead of resting on top of the cone, as it should, it fell into the cone and disappeared. I called the attention of the man who served it and he said it was the best he could do.

We who patronize the pier are mostly people of very moderate means, who work hard for our money and cannot afford to be robbed in this manner. Mr. Poole would do a real service to the public by regulating this matter.

OVERHEATED—GO JUMP IN THE LAKE.

Chicago, July 6.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I read THE TRIBUNE daily but fail to find any mention of your great Chicago summer resort you were in the habit of boosting in former years.

What have you to say about the nice cool weather we are having? Don't try to mislead the people in the future.

HOW PATRIOTISM IS DESTROYED.

Chicago, July 7.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I do not know the facts about the Resthaven Public Health Service hospital, but where Mr. Leslie Hudson [illegible] the day he entered a government hospital I heartily agree with him.

I now am an out patient of the U. S. P. H. S. in the Leiter building. I had my claim in for compensation two years and have been in two government hospitals, but so far my compensation has not come. All the government does is send me circulars, blanks to fill out, and have them sworn to, after complying with their demands start all over again. So far I have three complete sets. Perhaps I'll [illegible] the next set as a war souvenir. My condition now is worse than when the government started to treat me, and when I ask the doctor why that is, he says "You're pretty well now; you won't have to come up any more."

This government should be ashamed of the way they take care of the boys who fought that freedom might live, and put them back on their feet the same they were when they were called to the colors. I also curse the day I entered government hospital. Ex-Sailor.

THE BUG CLUB.

Chicago, July 7.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In direct contrast to the wonderful University of Chicago on the Midway with its wonderful buildings of stone exists the Bug club of Chicago, situated in Washington park, without any stone walls or medievel towers but the blue sky above.

Here men of learning and talent, self-styled atheists, infidels, theologians, historians, Socialists, rationalists, conservatives, astronomers, mythologists and just plain Americanists gather.

They all sit in a circle as the Rev. Theologian Bishop Burke opened the meeting with a prayer.

Quietly starts the evening meeting with the chairman announcing, choose your own subject, but once a speaker expresses his views three out of every five (in other words, some want to talk two) are on their feet for a chance to enlighten the rest with his theories, and the evening progresses. I generally leave about 11 and they are still going strong.

Sunday afternoon is the big day and the world and its troubles certainly are ironed out then.

It's a glorious institution and the men with a craving for knowledge who work all day and cannot afford a university education, if he but listens with an open mind, knowing what to discard as bunk (for naturally some of it is) and knowing what to digest, will certainly assimilate a wealth of knowledge in a short summer term.

Oh, the Bug club, long may it reign.

SWISS TO FIX S. A. FRONTIERS

(The map indicates the disputed boundaries between Venezuela and Colombia by an arrow and a dotted line. The disputed area is undeveloped land which is reported to be very rich.)

GENEVA, July 8.—President Schulthess of Switzerland has consented to act as arbitrator in the long-standing boundary dispute between Colombia and Venezuela. The request that he serve in this capacity was made by both countries.

As the Swiss president is prohibited from leaving the country while in office, President Schulthess will appoint experts to visit the disputed frontier districts and consult with representatives of the two countries, giving his decision, which will be final, after the report.

VICTORY BY FREE TRADERS IN 1912 CALLED DISASTER

Fordney Opens Debate for Protective Tariff.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—Describing the election of "a free trade President and congress" in 1912 as "the most disastrous event that had happened in this country in many a year," Representative Fordney, Michigan, chairman of the ways and means committee, urged a return to the policy of protection in opening the house debate on the tariff bill today.

Mr. Fordney was frequently interrupted by Democrats, who sought to puncture the Republican arguments. Both sides were in good humor and joined in a laugh when Mr. Fordney said that Representative Garner, Texas, who is leading the Democratic fight, will go down in history as "Angora Goat Jack Garner" because in framing the Underwood tariff law he saw that the Texas goat raising industry was protected by a duty of 15 per cent on Angora goat hair, although wool went on the free list.

Garner Replies Today.

The house adjourned for the day when the chairman ended his speech. The opening Democratic address will be made by Mr. Garner tomorrow.

The meeting of the house rules committee scheduled for today was postponed until tomorrow. At that time the special rule providing for the ending of general debate July 14, and a final vote July 21, after considering certain specified amendments will be taken up. The rule probably will be reported to the house tomorrow.

"Did not you promise when you passed the emergency tariff law to increase the price of sugar to the producer?" he asked.

Mr. Fordney made no reply.

Duty on Cotton.

In discussing the decision of the Republican caucus to permit a vote on the floor as to whether a duty shall be imposed on all cotton, which is on the free list in the bill as reported to the house, Mr. Fordney indicated that if such a duty is included he would favor a corresponding increase in the rates of manufactures of cotton.

The President, it is understood, is still hopeful that tax revision will overtake the tariff bill and become law before the senate finishes action on tariff after it goes over from the house. He told friends today that he felt absolutely certain of an adequate tax revision bill.

LITTLE GIRL SEES COURT DRAMA WITH HERSELF AS PRIZE

A pretty little 12 year old girl sat in Judge Joseph David's court yesterday and wondered what it was all about. She heard the lawyers wrangling and the judge talking to her mother and her stepfather. She heard her own name mentioned often.

HAZEL HOWE.

The girl was Hazel Howe. Her mother and stepfather are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walden, 352 East 26th street.

Mrs. Walden and her former husband were fighting for the custody of Hazel. The Howes were divorced in 1918. Mrs. Walden asserts she was given custody of the girl, but the child was with the father in Iowa, and he kept her.

MRS. CHARLES WALDEN.

A short time ago Mrs. Walden learned her daughter was visiting relatives in Pontiac, and she went there and brought the girl to Chicago. A warrant charging kidnaping was issued and the Waldens were arrested here. Before Deputy Sheriff Gorman of Pontiac arrived with the warrant, however, habeas corpus proceedings were instituted and the matter came up before Judge David. Gorman in the courtroom made known his intention of serving the warrant regardless of the judge's decision, and the judge ordered him from the courtroom.

Pending disposition of Hazel, she is being cared for by social service workers.

BUSINESS MEN OPPOSE CHANGE IN TARIFF BASIS

That Chicago merchants have lined up solidly against that clause of the new Fordney tariff bill concerning "American valuation" of dutiable goods was indicated yesterday in interviews with more than a dozen leading Chicago importers.

Under the conditions of the objectionable clause, the wholesale price of imported goods when sold by American wholesale houses would be the basis on which import duties would be estimated. This, importers claim, would automatically force prices of goods up.

"The proposition is basically wrong and would work great detriment to importation," D. F. Kelly of Mandel Brothers said yesterday afternoon. "I have talked within the last few days with virtually every mercantile leader in the loop district and find them unalterably opposed to such legislation.

"In addition to hampering, possibly preventing, the importation of many things now finding markets in this country, the bill would bring about enormous disorganization in the importing industry.

"There would be constant fluctuating of prices, which would, each time, rise higher. Neither the wholesaler nor retailer would have a solid foundation on which he could proceed.

"Such a step would be bad—and I for one am against it."

SCHILLING HEAD OF $100,000,000 FARMERS' LEAGUE

W. F. Schilling of Northfield, Minn., was elected permanent president of the Farmers' Financial corporation, the $100,000,000 subsidiary of the United State Grain Growers, Inc., by the board of directors in session here yesterday. Mr. Schilling is president of the Twin Cities Milk Producers' association.

The corporation, in effect, will be a credit reservoir to finance inequalities which at present operate to the disadvantage of grain growers and other farmers, Mr. Schilling said.

"More than that, it will provide the means by which farmers will be assured their money will be used in developing and maintaining their own business," he added.

INFORMALLY

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

JOSEPH C. LINCOLN, author of "Galusha the Magnificent," a recent Appleton publication, was born in Brewster, Mass., on Feb. 13, 1870. Brewster is a typical Cape Cod town, settled by the Pilgrims soon after the landing at Plymouth, and was named for Elder Brewster. But Mr. Lincoln's Cape Cod, as portrayed in his stories, couldn't be found on any map.

JOSEPH C. LINCOLN.

"His" Cape Cod is not bounded by stilted lines of latitude nor formal lines of longitude. If it suits the purpose of his story to locate an inlet, where nature has built a promontory, to erect a village in place of woods and marshes, the author has "never hesitated to do so."

So it will avail us nothing to try to locate East Wellmouth, Wellmouth Center, or Goulds Bluffs' lighthouse in his new "Galusha the Magnificent." Much better to forget the atlas, compass, and scale of miles and enjoy Galusha Bangs, Miss Martha Phipps, and all the rest.

"TAKE Along a Book."

It's the slogan writers and publishers are recommending to our minds, and purses, for the vacation season. What of the writers? Have they memorised the phrase? We wonder.

In the first place, the Chicago author, "by and large," isn't taking a vacation. Secondly, he doesn't "take along a book"; he writes one. And in the third place, to complete the Irish bull syllogism, the book he takes along is sure to be his own.

To many of our local literati, the anticipatory "I'm going to take my vacation" is sweeter far than the plaintively retrospective "I've had my holiday." For proof we submit the following:

Harriet Monroe is spending her days over at the Cass street Parnassus, the domicile of "Poetry" magazine. Miss Monroe is looking forward to an August playtime in Maine.

Henry Kitchell Webster is summering in Evanston. He is disengaging himself from the concluding details of the publication of his book, to be issued next month. At the same time he is engaging himself with the preliminary details of the publication of his book to be published next year.

Eunice Tietjens, in her north side apartment, runs the typewriter and rocks the crib with zealous impartiality.

Emerson Hough has always "just left" the University club, but is always "just expected" back.

Out of town bulletins read as follows:

Stephen Leacock is building a house, writing a book and impatiently waiting for the beginning of the bass fishing season.

Arthur Guy Empey has gone to the wilds of Wyoming to shoot and fish. Between times Mr. Empey will prepare the scenario for "The Madonna of the Hills" [Harpers], which is scheduled for an early fall production.

Stephen Graham, the English writer of books on Russia, is due in America today. He will go immediately to Springfield, Ill., where he will meet Vachel Lindsay, who is to accompany him on a walking trip through Glacier park.

"Take Along a Book."

Frank Swinnerton's "Coquette"

BY ELIA W. PEATTIE.

THERE is a penchant among the novelists just now for inferior persons. No longer is it the fashion to portray the fascinating and admirable woman, the brave and noble minded man. It is the slum product, the ruck of common sinners, the large bulking mass of the sinister, the truthless, and the evil minded who hold the attention—at least of the novelists. Whether or not the public would be grateful for a return to good society one cannot know. At any rate, Booth Tarkington and Frank Swinnerton, not to mention a large group of less popular and convincing writers, are determined to tell the tale of the perverse, the defeated, and the less than average. Frank Swinnerton's "Coquette" [Doran], which is under discussion, is, however, not less but more than average, and she fights the deadening terrors of her environment with all the powers at her command.

FRANK SWINNERTON.

She is the daughter of a drunkard who is killed by falling headlong downstairs, and of a broken woman who does charring by the day. Sally Minto and her mother live in squalor. But Sally knows there is something else. She works in a dressmaking establishment for seven shillings a week, and she comes in contact with folk who are a degree ahead of her. When she is 17 she falls in with an iron worker, and almost without knowing how he looks—for the two meet at night outside their miserable apartment building and walk together—she loves him. She becomes his mistress and is happy. Then Toby loses his place and goes as a sailor, and Sally conspires to get in a west end modist's shop.

She succeeds and her restlessness now shows itself to be something else than sex-avidity, or at least to have other concomitants. She is ambitious. She desires to become the head of this exclusive and celebrated shop. When the mistress is ill unto death she marries her son, a weak natured and physically debilitated man called "Gaga," to whom she is almost immediately false, Toby having returned from a voyage.

"Gaga" is appalling—a bilious, neurotic, febrile creature who wanted to design dresses and who has been put in the fertilizing business. Sally thinks of poisoning him, but is saved the trouble because Toby killed him. Sally is with child by Toby, and the book leaves her so, beside her dead husband, her lover a fugitive, she herself in possession of a large business, an unborn babe, and horror enough to shatter the constitution of any woman less ruthless than herself. What will happen to her may be surmised, but not definitely known until Mr. Swinnerton writes a second book about her, which he is quite certain to do.

By her ambition, her amorousness, and her ruthlessness she has lifted herself out of the abyss of the slums. She is without love, but well provided with passion. She makes no friends and desires none. She rejoiced when her mother was injured and carried to the hospital, because that got her out of Sally's way for a time. A formidable, powerful, alert creature, Sally Minto, with much courage, intelligence, and push, and absolutely no generosity, pity, disinterestedness.

She is, incidentally, a London type, just as Alice Adams, Booth Tarkington's heroine, is an American type. Both have, because of latent energy and power, the seeds of growth in them. Alice stands rather more of a chance than Sally, though Sally was a brave sinner and Alice a feeble one Sally was ruthless; Alice, shallow. Both were brave; both ill placed; both determined to rectify their destiny. Both are, at the dropping of the curtain, pitiably young—Alice not more than 20, Sally only 18. They represent a phase of democracy. They are terrible young persons, but so was their background terrible.

Both were soft and beguiling in appearance, hard and dangerous in fact. But Alice had pity and parental love. Sally was a little monster who knew none of those ameliorations of the primitive which makes for civilization. Swinnerton imposes the actuality of his characters imperatively upon the mind of the reader, and behind the form of Sally loom, menancingly, her carping, broken old mother, her wild sailor lad, and her sniffling husband. Not a word is wasted in comment, contrast, or moral criterion. The story is pruned like a good play and such argument as there may be is left for the readers.

"ILLINOIS, ILLINOIS"

The collected publications of the Illinois State Historical library have been augmented by Volume 1 of the Biographical series, the subject being a Life of Edward Coles, the second governor of the state. About one-half of the volume is taken up with a reprint of the sketch of Coles written by the late Elihu B. Washburne, prepared many years ago for the Chicago Historical society, and the remainder by a number of letters by and to Coles, and other documents relating to the man and his career.

EDWARD COLES.

There is nothing dull in these pages, for Coles, who was elected to office when he had been in Illinois but three years, had one of the stormiest political careers of any executive of the state. This was largely because of his advocacy of the abolition of slavery and his determined efforts to keep the state from becoming pro-slave.

The brave fight he put up on this burning question makes good reading even today, and his sturdy battle with its successful issue was responsible for keeping Illinois on the right side.

Literary Acrobatics

BY CHARLES H. GABRIEL JR.

AT least two books that reached Chicago recently ought to furnish content for those who heartily enjoy the verbose, lengthily introspective, and pseudo-psychological style—if it can be dubbed a style—in which the action is largely gymnastics of the mind and the denouement a mass of platitudinous pottage.

We refer to "THE WALL," by John Cournos [Doran], and "INVISIBLE TIDES," by Beatrice Kean Seymour [Seltzer].

The first is the second installment of the life of John Gombarov, the immigrant, whose earlier years of brain fertilization and cultivation in various Aryan lands we followed, somewhat languidly, it must be confessed, through "The Mask."

Cournos himself came to America an alien from Russia, and although he denies it, he still finds readers who think he is telling the story of his own experiences in "The Mask" and "The Wall." The titles are, of course, symbolic. Cournos hasn't forgotten how Tolstoi, Dostoievsky, Turgenev, and more particularly Sienkiewicz and even Lessing wrote. But he lacks the grace of some and the humanness of others.

Let it suffice that Cournos gives us modern realism minus the nasty angle, manages to keep the interest alive, admirably portrays the sodden and neurasthenic romance (save the mark!) of his types, and has reached the second stage of an oriental version of "Jean Christophe." As for technique, he has attained that rare attribute of employing words as a medium and not as an end.

If you like that sort of thing you'll appreciate Cournos.

Mrs. Seymour, on the other hand, attempts realism on the English scale and succeeds in being old fashioned in method, a poetess of passion, an exemplary female delineator of age old themes, and the producer of a tale that is well composed.

It is Mrs. Seymour's first bow in novel form. It appeared in England in 1920, and was called by one London newspaper "the best novel of the year." It may have been. To the American public it will perhaps appeal as a story by a British lady about another English lady who failed to remain one, and whose trials and tribulations were written out for the perusal of other British ladies.

Gen. Charles G. Dawes' "A Journal of the Great War" will come out this month under Houghton Mifflin company's imprint.

TARZAN the Terrible by Edgar Rice Burroughs

FOR sheer startling adventure this latest Tarzan story is Edgar Rice Burroughs' greatest. You will follow the magnificent ape-man breathlessly through the undiscovered country of Pal-ul-don into which his wife has disappeared.

There Tarzan's craft and cunning are put to new tests as he copes with tree and cave-dwelling men of a pre-historic species; and with monster reptiles like those of pre-glacial times.

It's the most amazing of all Tarzan books.

Healthful Food For Little Folks

Hawaiian Crushed or Grated Pineapple

Children are very fond of Hawaiian Crushed or Grated Pineapple served just as it comes from the container. Let them eat as much of this luscious fruit as they like. It is very wholesome and very economical.

For making pies, cakes, tarts, salads, sherbets and desserts of all kinds you will find it most convenient to use Hawaiian Crushed or Grated Pineapple.

Your grocer has it in assorted sizes to meet your needs. Order six or a dozen tins from him today. It will keep perfectly on your pantry shelf.

This is the genuine, sun-ripened Hawaiian Pineapple, picked in its prime and sealed in air-proof containers that same day.

ASSOCIATION OF HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLE PACKERS
58 East Washington St., Chicago

Pineapple Cake

—½ cup butter or butter substitute, 2 cups sugar, 4 eggs beaten separately, 1 cup milk, 2½ cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ¾ teaspoon flavoring. Cream the butter or butter substitute, add sugar and well beaten yolks of eggs. Mix and sift the flour and baking powder and add alternately with the milk. Add the flavoring and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of eggs. Bake in three layers in a moderately hot oven. Put the following Pineapple Filling between and on top of layers.

Pineapple Filling

—1 cup sugar, 1 egg white, ½ cup boiling water, 1 can grated or crushed pineapple. Boil sugar and water together until the syrup threads. Pour gradually on well beaten white. Beat until of right consistency to spread on cake. Drain the juice from the pineapple. Spread the pineapple on the cake, then spread the boiled frosting.

HERRON, COUCH, DALY, M'DONALD, IN GOLF RUNNING

BY JOE DAVIS.

Two rounds in the Exmoor open golf tournament, played yesterday under ideal conditions, left the top half of the draw in possession of S. Davidson Herron of Exmoor and Ira Couch Jr. of Glen View, while in the lower sector Raymond Daly of Flossmoor will oppose Joe McDonald of Calumet.

IRA COUCH JR. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

A sectional final is assured, with Davy Herron picked as the most likely winner. The former national amateur champion had his best brand of golf on tap, getting a 35 on the out round in the morning against A. L. Miller of Jackson Park, and winning, 7 and 6, while in the afternoon he eliminated Elliot H. Evans of Evanston, 7 and 5.

Goes Around in 74.

In the afternoon round he uncorked some championship golf, reaching the turn in 34 and leading by four holes.

He finished with four threes, getting a birdie at the sixth hole, 355 yards, and another at the eighth, 370 yards, where, after putting to the rough, he sent a 140 yard niblick shot over the trees to three feet from the cup. He played out the bye holes and landed a total of 74, which gave him the low gross prize for the qualifying round, in which he was tied with Frank Blossom of Glen View and Jack Ryerson of Onwentsia.

Ryerson Gives Daly a Fight.

Young Couch defeated the veteran, E. T. Franklin, in the second round, 2 and 1. Daly caught Ryerson off on his long game on the out round and, reaching the turn in 39, secured a lead of 3 up, which he increased to 4 at the tenth hole. The Onwentsia player made a game rally, taking the next three holes, but Daly won the sixteenth, 4—5, and by halving the seventeenth went into the semi-finals.

McDonald played his first eight holes against Blossom two strokes under par, and as the Indian Hill player took several desperate chances which did not materialize he was 4 down. He relieved the situation by taking three of the next four holes, but went one over par at the fourteenth and fifteenth and was eliminated on the next green, McDonald finishing in 75. The cards:

McDonald, out..	5	5	4	5	4	4	2	3	4—36
Blossom, out....	6	5	4	5	5	4	4	4	3—40
McDonald, in....	5	4	5	3	4	4	4	6	4—39—75
Blossom, in.....	4	4	4	3	5	5	4	5	4—38—78

Franklin Beats Young Mudge.

With the exception of the defeat of Burton Mudge Jr., the 18 year old Exmoor player, by E. T. Franklin of La Grange, who is 48, there were no upsets in the morning round.

Don McMurray of Exmoor, after being 3 down to Daly at the sixth hole, squared the match at the sixteenth, but Daly won the seventeenth with a birdie 4 and took the home hole with a par 4. Daly lost the short seventh, where his caddie kicked the ball.

In the consolation handicap Kenneth Burns, 76—2—74, won the draw after a tie with H. Vollmer, 78—4—74, B. Mudge, 77—3—74, and H. B. Page, 80—6—74.

Summary of Play.

Following are the summaries:

Golf on North Shore.

The feature event for north shore golfers today will be the qualifying round of the annual Six Towns tournament at Skokie. Clans from Evanston, Winnetka, Wilmette, Kenilworth, Hubbard Woods, and Glencoe will play in the qualifying round, at eighteen holes, to determine the makeup of six flights of eight each to represent the various six towns.

Match play will continue over the various week ends in the various flights, the deciding contest being scheduled Saturday, the 30th instant.

G. Walter Beaven of the Board of Trade entertained Jack Hermes and Lon Burr, La Salle street brokers, and T. W. Carter of St. Louis yesterday at Edgewater. Mr. Carter, who is 72 years of age and has been in the grain commission business for forty years, played the first nine holes in 55, but, getting warmed up, came home in 47.

REDDEN COLUMN IN ILLINI STADIUM

Urbana, Ill., July 8.—One of Fielding H. Yost's first acts as director of athletics at the University of Michigan was to make a personal guarantee that $500 would be raised from Michigan friends of Lieut. Col. Curtis G. Redden, who died in Germany, in order to erect a column to his memory in the new Illini stadium. The money will be presented next fall.

The other $500 is to be pledged by veterans of Battery F of the 149th field artillery, the only combat unit of the university which served under Col. Redden in France.

Col. Redden was one of the greatest athletes who ever wore the Michigan colors, being captain of both football and baseball in his senior year. He lived in Danville, Ill.

GASOLINE ALLEY—DOC HAS HEARD IT BEFORE

A "WIND SUCKER"?

PLAYFELLOW.

AQUEDUCT RACE TRACK, L. I., July 8.—[Special.]—It was declared on good authority this afternoon that the necessary papers had been drawn up by representatives of the Rancocas stable and that suit would be filed by that establishment at once in the sum of $190,000 against J. F. Johnson, owner of the Quincy stable, in the controversy growing out of the sale of the 3 year old colt, Playfellow, brother of Man o' War.

Trainer S. C. Hildreth, acting for the Rancocas stable, purchased the colt for $100,000 from the Quincy stable.

After the deal, Hildreth announced he had discovered the horse was not sound in the wind, being what is technically known as a "wind sucker," and asked that the sale be cancelled.

LOCAL TENNIS STARS TO PLAY IN WESTERN SECTIONAL TOURNEY

CHICAGO PAIRINGS

Chicago players are entered in the first round at Indianapolis as follows:

Ralph Burdick, Indianapolis vs. L. H. Waldner, Chicago.

Allen Carey, Indianapolis vs. C. L. Fredericks, Chicago.

Lucian Williams, Chicago vs. John D. Coons, Lebanon, Ind.

Jack McKay, Indianapolis vs. A. F. Woods, Chicago.

Arthur P. Hubbell, Chicago vs. D. W. McLeod, Pittsburgh.

Preston Boyden, Chicago vs. Pence Orme Jr., Indianapolis.

C. V. Zeller, Chicago vs. Paul L. Haworth Jr., Indianapolis.

[Several Chicago men drew first round byes.]

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

A cluster of Chicago tennis players, headed by National Clay Court Champion Walter T. Hayes, will compete in the annual western sectional tournament, which will be played at the Woodstock club, Indianapolis, Ind., starting today. The local contingent will meet stiff opposition from other middle western stars, and particularly from Vincent Richards, the brilliant Yonkers, N. Y., youth.

The tourney will open officially this afternoon, but no players from this city or any other non-Indianapolis entrants will be defaulted until Monday.

It will be the second year that the western meet has been held in a city other than Chicago, which for thirty years was the annual site of the event. Hayes won the singles title at Cincinnati last season and, paired with Ralph H. Burdick, also emerged with the sectional doubles championship.

Hayes-Herd in Doubles.

Burdick, who moved from Chicago to Indianapolis last winter, will play for that city in the tourney, and Hayes will enter the doubles with a new partner, Clifton B. Herd, formerly of Pasadena, Cal. Burdick will have a strong doubles partner in John Hennessey, also of Indianapolis.

Among other Chicagoans entered in the Indianapolis event are Lucien Williams, L. Harry Waidner, B. F. Woods, C. V. Zeller, Arthur P. Hubbell, and Preston Boyden, Leo M. Lunn, and C. L. Fredericks.

Besides Vinny Richards, the strength of the field against the Chicago squad probably will come from such well known performers as Kirk Reid, Charles Carran, and Harold Bartel of Cleveland, Walter Wirthwein of Columbus, O.; G. O. Bradley, the Harvard player, of Toledo, and Fritz Bastian, western conference college singles champion.

Evanston Tourney Today.

Beginning today and concluding next Saturday the annual open tennis tournament for Evanston titles in singles and doubles will be played at Evanston Country club. Any resident of Evanston or member of an Evanston club is eligible.

Players in the Hamilton park tourney will continue their matches today. Winners in the third round are Leigh Campbell, L. Murphy, Ben Adler, George O'Connell, Ralph Rice, and Frank Dowling.

Jack Johnson Pays Fine; Will Be Released Today

Leavenworth, Kas., July 8.—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight of the world, paid his fine of $1,000 today and will be released tomorrow from the federal penitentiary, where he has served since September of last year, having been convicted of white slavery.

JACK DEMPSEY DRAWS THE COLOR LINE, BUT BARS NO OTHER RIVAL

HIGH COST OF BOXING

NEW YORK, July 8.—Promoter Tex Rickard announced today that he paid $514,325 to the boxers and referees at Boyle's Thirty acres last Saturday.

Dempsey and Carpentier received $300,000 and $200,000 respectively. The boxers in the preliminaries received $13,050. Billy Miske and Gene Tunney were the highest paid, receiving $2,000 each.

Referee Harry Ertle received $1,000 and the other referees, including an alternate, received a total of $275.

Omaha, Neb., July 8.—"I will never fight a colored man," Champion Jack Dempsey said during a short stopover here today on his way to Salt Lake City to visit his parents.

HARRY WILLS. [Amer. Press. Photo.]

"There is nothing to this talk of me meeting Jack Johnson. I am confident the public don't want this fight, and while I will govern myself to a large extent according to the public wishes, I can't see my way clear to fight Johnson or any other colored man."

Says Wills Is Great Figher.

Continuing about prospects for his next bout, Dempsey went on:

"I will meet any one that Kearns picks for me. Gibbons, I understand, is a good man, although I never have seen him work. As I have drawn the color line, I am free to say that I think Harry Wills is a great fighter, one who will whip the very best of them. You know as much about Johnson as I do. As for Willard, I'll fight him any time—and lick him, too."

"How about those two mysterious men in your corner with the towel, Jack?" inquired a fan.

"Never knew a thing about it until some one showed me a newspaper with the story in it," the champion replied.

Concerning the story that he was to be married, Dempsey replied:

"Somebody was groggy when they sent out that yarn. I can't make more than enough to support myself."

Wires He'll Pay "Camp Mother."

Atlantic City, N. J., July 8.—Jack Dempsey telegraphed from Omaha today for information regarding the suit for $500 wages instituted by Mrs. Carrie Barrett, whom he employed as housekeeper during his training here. The message said that if it were true she had been given only $100 by his manager he would pay any reasonable balance that might be claimed.

WILSON MATCHED WITH ROBINSON

Boston, Mass., July 8.—[Special.]—Johnny Wilson, world's middleweight champion, will defend his title in a ten round decision bout against George Robinson, the Cambridge Negro fighter, at the Boston Arena next Friday night. The titleholder has been guaranteed $10,000, win or lose.

Robinson has a verdict to his credit over Wilson, while he also bested him in a no-decision tussle in Montreal. The Montreal affair was staged last January.

Wilson has a wholesome respect for Robinson's ability, but is confident he will be returned the winner.

MURRAY WINS N. Y. STATE NET TITLE

Buffalo, N. Y., July 8.—R. Lindley Murray of Niagara Falls, former national champion, won the New York state tennis championship on the courts of the Park club today by defeating Kirk Reid, Ohio state champion, in a four set match, 7—5, 5—7, 6—1, 6—1.

Mrs. B. C. Cole of Boston and Mrs. Frank Godfrey of Boston, won the woman's national clay court doubles championship in a hard fought match with Miss Leslie Bancroft of West Newton, Mass., and Mrs. E. V. Lynch of New York. The score was 6—3, 8—6.

Tomorrow Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Godfrey will play for the national clay court singles title, and the finals in the mixed doubles, men's doubles and consolation will be decided at the same time.

TENNIS TITLE OF SOUTH TO SMITH

Atlanta, Ga., July 8.—Carlton Smith, Atlanta, won the singles championship of the Southern Lawn Tennis association here today, defeating Douglas Watters, Mulberry, Fla., in straight sets, 6—3, 8—6, 6—3. Miss Ethelyn Legendre of New Orleans won the women's title, defeating Mrs. Franklin Davis, Atlanta, 6—0, 6—3.

SMITH-FOLEY BOUT POSTPONED.

New Orleans, La., July 8.—The bout between Homer Smith and Harry Foley, scheduled to be held tonight, was postponed and will be run off Monday night.

JACK'S NEW PILOT?

EDWARD BADER. [Mayor of Atlantic City.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 8.—Reports were in circulation here today that Mayor Edward Bader of Atlantic City would displace Jack Kearns as manager of Jack Dempsey. The mayor would neither confirm nor deny the rumors, stating he would "prefer any announcement in the matter to come from Dempsey."

During Dempsey's training for his fight with Georges Carpentier the mayor was close to him, and was the champion's guest at the fight. Mayor Bader said it would not be necessary for him to resign in order to become Dempsey's manager.

Kearns did not accompany Dempsey on his trip west.

MANDELL AND ASHER START TRAINING WORK FOR BOUT AT AURORA

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

Decisions of Tribune boxing representatives are:

At Battle Creek, Mich.—Kid Buck beat Cheek Allman [10]; Jake Latshaw knocked out Kid Howard [2].

At Philadelphia—Tommy Golden beat Pugsy Lee [8].

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Following the announcement that the winner will be matched with Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion at a later date, Sammy Mandell and Babe Asher, principals in the main event of Jim Mullen's boxing show at Aurora next Friday night, have settled down to strenuous training at local gymnasiums.

Mandell is looked upon by Promoter Mullen as one of the best bantamweight prospects developed in these parts in years. His knockout of Mike Eulo in the first round at East Chicago recently, has boosted his stock and a victory over Asher will put him in line for the championship match. Sammy is training daily at the Arcade and will start boxing today. He always is in good shape and will need but little work to put him on edge. Asher is toiling at the Forbes-Ferretti gym.

Schaeffer Trains at Arcade.

Frankie Schaffer, the local lightweight under the managerial wing of Mullen, who will meet Red Cole of St. Louis in the semi-windup of ten rounds, has settled down to work at the Arcade, while his opponent is training at the Forbes-Ferretti gym. Schaeffer intends to make amends for his defeat by Bud Christiano a few weeks back and aside from working in the gymnasium is covering three to five miles on the road in the mornings.

Jack Elle of New York, who will meet Marty Henderson of Joliet in one of the preliminaries, is working at the Arcade. Billy Cepak, who will swap punches with Julius Stein, is also training at Kid Howard's gymnasium. Tony Melchoir, who is matched with Soldier Jim Marples, will start training today, while the soldier is working at Forbes' gym.

Low Prices, Special Train.

The card is attracting a lot of local attention. Popular prices of $2, $3, and $4, will prevail and tickets can be purchased at 129 North Dearborn street, 153 North Clark street, and 3216 West Roosevelt road.

A special train will leave over the Aurora and Elgin electric at 6:50 p. m., Chicago time.

CHESS MASTERS PLAY 3D ROUND

Atlantic City, N. J., July 8.—The third round of the Chess Masters' tournament today resulted as follows:

M. D. Hago, Washington, D. C., and Samuel Factor, Chicago, drew, 47 moves. Charles Jaffe, New York, defeated I. S. Turover, Washington, 56 moves. Stasch Mlotkowski, Los Angeles, and Frank Marshall, United States champion, game adjourned.

David Janowski, champion of France, and N. T. Whitaker, Baltimore, game adjourned. V. Sournin, Washington, defeated J. B. Harvey, Fenelon Falls, Ont., 44 moves. S. T. Sharp, Philadelphia, won from E. S. Jackson, Philadelphia, after 37 moves.

JOE BURMAN OFF FOR N. Y.; BATTLES LEDOUX TUESDAY

Joe Burman, local cantamweight, who will meet Midget Smith of New York in the main event of the boxing show to be staged by the Twin Cities A. C. of East Chicago on the night of July 22, left yesterday for New York, where he is scheduled to box twelve rounds with Charles Ledoux, the Frenchman, on Tuesday night.

Although Burman expects a tough battle from Ledoux, he is confident of winning and will return to Chicago immediately after the fight to prepare for his contest with Smith.

Burman worked out at the Arcade yesterday morning. He will be handled by Nate Lewis.

Promoter Harry Hyams yesterday asserted he has heard from all the principals in the three bouts regarding their presence in Chicago at least four days before the show. According to the promoter they will be on hand and train in public. Tickets for the show will be placed on sale next week at 129 North Dearborn street and 153 North Clark street.

A number of automobile parties are being organized to journey to Kankakee, Ill., next Tuesday night, when Battling Williams and Milburn Saylor will meet in the main event of the boxing show.

SINGLE G. SETS SEASON MARK IN PACING STAKES

Cleveland, O., July 8.—Pacing the fastest time of the year, Single G., owned by W. B. Barefott, Cambridge City, Ind., defeated a most formidable field of pacers today in the free-for-all sweepstakes, feature of the getaway Grand circuit card at North Randall. His victory came in straight heats.

Ed Allen took the veteran out in front early in each mile and never was headed. Single G. paced the first mile in 2:01¾ and the second in 2:02¼. The last quarter of the final heat was done in :29.

Beats Trotting Time.

The time for the two miles not only is the fastest paced but also beats that of the trotters for the season. Single G. was an odd-on favorite. He sold for $200 in a $280 auction pool. Peter Beiler was the only other favorite of the day to win.

Black Burns took the second division of the 2:20 class pace in straight heats. Donzo captured second money by taking the third heat, after Black Burns had been ruled out.

Gov. Durbin Jr. was raced under protest pending establishment of his identity.

Newly Bought Trotter Wins.

Only three of the original fields of eight which started the 2:20 trot, raced in the third heat. The event went to Peter Beiler, which changed hands several days ago for $8,000.

For the first time since Union Trotting association rules governed harness horse racing in this circuit, all of today's winners came in straight heats.

Lord Busby, winner of the 2:14 class pace, which brought the meeting to a close, was the fourth of the day to capture his event in straight heats.

NOTES OF THE CUE ROOMS.

Barrett [29] beat Young [21], 29 to 18, and Pope [23] beat Young [21], 23 to 18, in the three cushion tourney at Foley's last night.

THIRTY YACHTS IN RACE TODAY

The first of the second series of the races will be sailed over the Chicago Yacht club course off Belmont harbor this afternoon, with more than thirty boats entered.

The yachtsmen will be busy for the next two weeks trying out their craft in preparation for the famous Mackinac race, which will be started two weeks from today.

Competition is especially keen among the R boats, five of which are owned at this club now. All of these will be in the Lipton cup contests, which will be sailed in August.

Here's why
CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigaretty aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

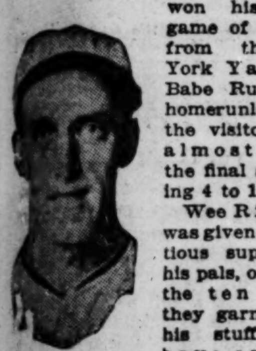
Two base hits—Strunk, Johnson, Falk, Mostil, Schalk. Struck out—Kerr, 3; Shawkey, 2. Bases on balls—Kerr, 2; Shawkey, 2. Double plays—Johnson-Collins-Sheely; Schalk-Collins. Hit by pitcher—Kerr [Peck]. Umpires—Wilson and Hildebrand.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Richard Kerr, pitching in reminiscently "Sweet Marie" form, yesterday won his fourth game of the year from the New York Yankees. Babe Ruth went homerunless and the visitors went almost runless, the final score being 4 to 1.



EDDIE MULLIGAN.

Wee Richard was given scrumptious support by his pals, otherwise the ten swats they garnered off his stuff would have counted more at the pan. Mulligan shone brightly in the defense. Twice he went back of third base and cut off hits in time to wing out his victim at first base.

But in the eighth Eddie pulled a play that few infielders would have thought of, when he threw out Babe Ruth at the plate on a base hit by Pipp. With one out, Bambino was on third and Baker on second by reason of a pair of long singles. Meusel tapped a bounder just over the third corner. Mulligan got it and held Ruth on third, while he pegged to Sheely for the out.

Takes Ball on the Run.

Pipp then scratched a soft roller toward third. Mulligan raced in and Kerr raced over, but Pipp was on top of first base when Eddie came up with the ball on the run. Ruth was trying to score on the hit, but Mulligan fired to Schalk in time to nail the big fellow and retire the side.

Ruth made two hits off Kerr, who pitched to him four times during the game. Both drives were whistling singles to the outfield, but the Tarzan could not get them through or over the outposts. Babe walked once, not intentionally on Kerr's part, and forced a pal at second the other time up.

In Danger Only Once.

The Yankees scored their only run when Kerr wabbled a bit in the first inning. One was down when he passed Peck and Ruth. Baker stung a single to right, scoring Peck, but a swift double play retired the side on Meusel's rap.

The Sox took the lead in their half with two runs. Johnson walked. Mulligan sacrificed, Collins rolled out, then Strunk whaled a double over first base, giving Johnson a stroll home. Falk singled, scoring Strunk, but was thrown out trying to make second base.

The Gleasons had a helova time making another run, although they had bully chances in the third and fourth. Johnson led in the third with a double. Mulligan sacrificed him to third, but he perished trying to go in on Collins' rap to Ward. Falk started the fourth with a double and Mostil followed with another two bagger, but in the meantime Falk had been picked off second by a hot peg from Schang.

Dick Scores in Seventh.

Not until the seventh could the home folks raise their count on Shawkey. That round began with a whiff by Mostil, but Sheely singled and Schalk doubled. Kerr made his job easier with a single on which Sheely registered. Johnson tried to squeeze Schalk in from third, but bunted straight at Shawkey and Ray was a dead one. Kerr and Johnson pulled a double steal, which scored the final tally.

SOX NOTES

NEW YORK again today.

Strunk had his charley horse tamed sufficiently to resume work in right and made two brilliant plays, heading off a drive by Ward and holding it to a single in the second and robbing Peck of a Texas leaguer in the fifth.

Flora Mae Hackett, winner of THE TRIBUNE's beauty prize, will attend today's game and pitch the first ball to Fewster.

Collins saved a run by going back of second for Baker's bounder in the fifth and retiring his former pal at first with a runner tearing for home on the supposed hit.

Hildebrand had a bad day at first, giving the Sox the worst of two close plays that took base hits away from Collins and Mulligan. There was no question about Mulligan being safe, but he slid into first and lost the decision.

Ruth was presented the usual floral bat the first time he went to the plate. Two thousand children from various summer vacation camps and the Odd Fellows' Orphan band, guests of President Comiskey, rooted for Babe to make a home run every time up.

With Fewster up in the ninth, a runner on first and two out, Kerr asked for a new ball and tossed the wingy one he had toward the plate. Fewster reached out and poped it safely into short center, but Umpire Wilson made everybody go back ruling that the pill was not in play. Fewster then flied to Falk.

Dodgers to Play Gunthers in Midwest Tilt Tomorrow

Dodger Trainings and Gunthers, both tied for first place in the Travelers' Championship race, will hook up at Marquette Manor ball park, 63d and Oakley. The Dodgers, who won the title last year, expect some keen competition in the Gunther club, as they have already trimmed the Romeos and Magnets. Rube Ehrhardt will be on the firing line for Harry Cohen's club, with Pete Callan opposing him.

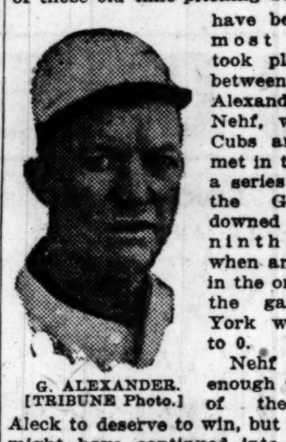
Three base hit—Smith. Struck out—Nehf, 3. Time, 1:37. Umpires—Hart and McCormick.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

New York, July 8.—[Special.]—One of those old time pitching duels, which have become almost obsolete, took place today between Grover Alexander and Art Nehf, when the Cubs and Giants met in the first of a series and Alex the Great was downed in the ninth inning, when an error let in the only run of the game, New York winning, 1 to 0.



G. ALEXANDER.

Nehf had just enough the better of the famous Aleck to deserve to win, but the battle might have continued into extra innings had not an error, the only one of the game, come as the lucky break for New York.

It came in the ninth. After one was out young Frank Frisch, the Fordham flash, drew a base on balls. The call was three and two when he took the next one without swinging, and, though it wasn't a bad one, the ump called it "ball four" and the lad went to first. Bill Killefer showed his disgust by bouncing the ball in the dirt.

Giants Win on Error.

The next man was Young and he hit a smart grounder just an inch or two beyond the grasping hands of Hollocher. Frisch raced to third on the swat. Casey Stengel then appeared as pinch hitter for Gonzales, and, of course, was purposely passed, filling the bases.

With the Chicago infielders playing in close, Walker hit sharply right to Kelleher, who was subbing for Terry at second. Kelleher let the ball get away and before he could recover for a shot to the plate Frisch was over the pan and the game had ended.

The Cubs really never had a good chance to beat Nehf. Only one man got to second base and only three of them reached first, all on singles. In the second round Maisel singled after one was out and stole second after Deal fanned, but he got no farther.

Seven Hits Off Aleck.

Not a Cub reached first base from the second till the ninth, when, with one out, Flack scraped a single to right, but he stood on first as the next two men flied out.

The Giants made seven hits off Aleck. In the fifth, with two out, Smith got a triple on a drive to left because Sullivan slipped and fell. Otherwise he would have caught the ball.

The crowd enjoyed the pitching duel. Maybe the lively ball wasn't in play.

CUB NOTES

NEW YORK, July 8.—[Special.]—Cubs and Giants battle again tomorrow.

Vaughn is likely to hurl against Douglas.

Boss Evers came down from his home in Troy this morning.

Zeb Terry still was absent, but is expected here for the game tomorrow.

The weather was just about as hot as it ever gets in New York and only about 7,000 fans were present.

Jake Stannard, Chicago rooter, sat in a box and pulled for the Cubs, regardless of the noisy New York fans all around him.

Cozey Dolan coached with a cracked nose. It was whispered he had an altercation with Catcher Smith in the clubhouse and they say Smith has a good right.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE.

Austin-Cicero Assn. vs. International Harvester Co. at 58th and 16th, Cicero; Koppers Co. vs. Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. at 31st and Kostner, diamond No. 1; Automatic Electric Co. vs. Wallace-Miller Co. at Harlem and Harrison; Philipsborn Co. vs. Checker Taxi Co. at 31st and Kostner, diamond No. 2.

ANGLERS' EXCHANGE.

REEL FOOT LAKE, Tenn.—A great many people have heard of Reel Foot lake only as a shooters' paradise, but in my estimation it is the greatest bass fishing grounds in the country. The lake is about forty miles long. The water is clear and cold and the bass run large; seven and eight pounders are not unusual. One can take the train from Chicago at night for Fulton, Ky., and be at the lake, by auto from the station, at 11 o'clock the next morning. There is a comfortable hotel and good guides.—Contributed by H. R. W.

Big Springs, Idaho.—Very good. Can outfit there for outlet of Henry's lake or go and come daily by team from Big Springs camp. Mostly cutthroat in outlet. Often good fishing right at the springs. Henry's lake is ideal for boat fishing. Cutthroat exclusively. Average almost one pound. To reach lake take team from Idaho entrance of Yellowstone Park. Beautiful drive of eighteen miles.—Contributed by Wilkie G. Collins.

SOLDIERS BEAT NORTH SHORES IN POLO CLASH, 12-3

The Sixth Division polo team from Camp Grant defeated North Shore yesterday, 12 goals to 3, in a contest that was fairly close except in the fourth session, when the army ran away with the game by scoring five goals. The game was played at Lincoln and Peterson avenues.

At the end of the first three periods the score was 2-all, Capt. Herbert Lorber's great defensive work and two goals holding the soldiers even.

In the fourth chukker North Shore cracked under the strain and the Sixth Division scored seemingly at will.

Lorber played a great game for North Shore and Fred Pearson gave new life to the team when he went in in the second half.

Craig and Holmes were on the big scoring end for the army, each getting five. Capt. Rodes at No. 2 played his usual strong game.

The teams will meet again tomorrow afternoon at the Lincoln and Peterson avenue grounds, where the North Shore team will make a desperate attempt to stop the onrush of the army toward the polo supremacy of the middle west. The lineup:

6th Div. [12].	Position.	N. Shore [3].
Maj. King	No. 1	E. Byfield, F. Pearson
Capt. Rodes	No. 2	Frank Hayes
Capt. Craig	No. 3	Frank Bering
Maj. Holmes, W. Calhoun	Back	Herbert Lorber

Referee—C. Lancaster. Goals—Craig, 5; Holmes, 5; Rodes, 1; King, 1; Lorber, 2; Pearson, 1.

PEOPLES BANK NINE WINS.

The Peoples Trust and Savings bank defeated the National City bank, 11 to 8, at Grant park yesterday. Wilson, hurling for the Peoples Trust, allowed only four hits and fanned seven.

HEILMAN OF DETROIT HITS 610-FOOT HOMER, BUT RED SOX WIN, 6-3

Detroit, Mich., July 8.—Joe Bush held Detroit to four hits today and Boston won, 6 to 3.

Harry Heilman made the longest home run in the history of the local park in the sixth inning, hitting the ball a distance of 610 feet, according to the groundkeeper's measurements.

Babe Ruth's longest hit, which was said to beat all previous known records, was for a distance of 460-odd feet and was made at the Polo grounds this year. Score:

Texas Leaguers Vote to Split the Season

Shreveport, La., July 8.—By a vote of 5 to 3 club owners of the Texas league have decided to split the season, the new season to start Saturday.

PIRATES TRY OUT NEW TWIRLER.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 8.—Floyd Wheeler, right hand pitcher of London, Ontario, was given a brief tryout before Manager Gibson of the Pirates yesterday. His delivery pleased the Pirate manager. He probably will be sent to the Birmingham team under an optional agreement.

In the Wake of the News

EARLIER CHICAGO.

IN the preface of a city directory of 1851, placed in our hands by Ed Morse of New York City, whom Way Back Whenners will remember as the first local liveryman to put his drivers in long coats and top hats, we read:

The word "Illinois," the name of our state, is derived from a tribe of aborigines inhabiting the banks of a river of that name at the time the Jesuit missionaries first explored the country, and is understood to signify "We are men."

The word "Chicago" may be derived from two sources. It is an Indian word for skunk or wild onion, a vegetable which formerly grew in abundance on the present site of the city. The probability, however, is that the river derived its name from the animal instead of the vegetable.

* *

The preceding paragraph leads to the conclusion that the river, even as far back as 1851, was a savory body of water such as we knew before the sanitary canal.

The Moorlands of the Not.

Across the moorlands of the Not
We chase the gruesome When,
And hunt the itness of the What
Through forests of the Then.
Into the inner consciousness
We track the crafty Where;
We spear the Ego tough, and beard
The Selfhood in his lair.

With lassos of the Brain we catch
The isness of the Was;
And in the copses of the Whence
We hear the Think Bees buzz;
We climb the slippery Whichback tree
To watch the Thusness roll,
And pause, betimes, in gnostic rimes
To woo the Over Soul. Orge.

Stadium at Michigan.

Fielding H. Yost, new athletic director at Michigan, announces that the new stadium to seat 40,000 persons, the third largest in the country, will be ready this fall. It will be a fitting inaugural for "Hurry Up's" régime in the newly created department of physical education. From time to time we may expect more announcements from Yost and we expect them all to be toward progress.

* *

The subject of stadiums reminds of when the present University of Chicago concrete stand was under discussion. The original drawings were modified and the seating capacity reduced following an argument by the antiathletic faction that there would be no intercollegiate athletics in five years. Five years have more than passed and college sports are stronger than ever—almost a necessity, we might say.

$135 IS ADDED TO ALGONQUIN FUND BY SHOOTING CLUB

As a result of the two days' registered shoot of the Lincoln Park Gun club last Saturday and Sunday, Frank E. Mueller Sr., vice president of the organization, yesterday mailed THE TRIBUNE a check for $135.05, to go to the Algonquin fund. The amount represents half of the profits of the tourney.

"We wish to assure you of our pleasure in having staged this shoot for such a worthy cause," Mr. Mueller said in a letter accompanying the check. "We had seventy shooters present on each of the two days, and we trust we can make the Algonquin fund shoot a yearly feature at our club."

LOGANS, MANORS, IN LEAGUE TITLE CONTEST TODAY

A battle between left handers is promised this afternoon when the Marquette Manors play the Logan Squares at Milwaukee and Sawyer avenues. The contest will be all the more interesting in that it will be one of the two local games in the championship series of the Chicago Midwest league. The other will be the clash between Simms' Joliet Standards and Niesen's Pyotts at Lake street and Kilpatrick avenue.

Buckeye for the Marquettes and Conlin for the Squares are the southpaw pitching choices announced. Conlin until a month ago was a teammate of Buckeye and a little rivalry will be added to the contest on that account.

The Squares will play the Whitman & Barnes team tomorrow and have an old score to settle with Don O'Brien's crowd. Callahan will use either Chet Murphy or Buck Freeman on the mound and Elmer Maager or Max Fisk will pitch for the visitors.

West Ends will go to Kenosha today and Zanesville to Beloit.

Tomorrow Long Tom Hughes will hurl for the West Ends against the Chicago Firemen at Oak Park.

The Fireos have won nine of their last ten starts.

INTER-REGIMENTAL LEAGUE.

The 1st field artillery nine and the 1st coast artillery corps team will hook up in one of the regular games of the Inter-regimental league at Grant park this afternoon. The game between the 1st infantry and the 2d field artillery has been postponed.

By Mae Tinée.

Those who love the Curwood out of door stories will greatly enjoy this, "The Golden Snare," the scenes of which are laid in Canada. That is, they will greatly enjoy it if they are not too critical, for the direction is not skillful and there are plenty of places where one may point to flaws if one wants to. For instance, in a supposedly wild snowstorm you are shown a calm, snowy landscape, white, to be sure, but with no signs of the raging of the elements. That's bad stuff. Then, not enough is made of the golden snare, which is a snare made of a woman's hair and which leads to the discovery by the mounted police sergeant of the man he has been trailing.

As in all the Curwood stories, there are dogs and action; a strong love interest, and plenty of outdoor stuff. Nice people enact the rôles laid out for them. The nice people are capable ones, too, and with the proper guidance could have made a whale of a picture from the material they had to work with.

Ruth Renick is a stranger to me, but I quite understood as I watched her WHY fans write in and want to know the name, age, coloring, weight, and height of their favorites. She's that kind of a girl. You look at her and want to know all about her.

Mr. Stone as the male lead is fine. He's not one of your dimpled darlings, but he has a pleasing and virile personality and does things after a reasonable fashion.

So, all summed up, while "The Golden Snare" is nothing to write home about, it still registers as a vurr' good program picture.

CLOSEUPS

Mabel Normand has told Mack Sennett, under whose leadership she will remain, that she wants a vacation. He says she can have it. So, until Sept. 1, she will devote herself to the big business of resting and will go to London and Paris. It is Miss Normand's first trip abroad.

Eddie Borden, the alleged w. k. comedian of the Orpheum circuit, will make pictures with Buster Keaton.

Goldwyn, alleging that no more will they tie their wagon to one star, but will put out all star features wherein no one person is given more credit or publicity than another, has not renewed its contract with Tom Moore. It is understood that Mr. Moore will head his own company.

William Farnum is expected back and whadda yuh think? He will probably make society drammers. A cold towel, please!

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

VACATION: THERE'S ONE THING that is so obvious it would seem every person should appreciate it fully, and that is, no matter how important his or her work may seem, there's some one else in the offing who can step in immediately and fill the role. It doesn't matter what the job. Why shouldn't you go on a vacation? Taking a course in exercises is not what you need at all, but a good rest away from your work, and if you will take my advice you will go away for a couple of weeks and have it out in some quiet woodsy spot with your nerves and your high tension.

FACIAL: YES, I THINK THE mud baths on the face now and then are good—not too frequently, though. They have a certain astringent power. However, unless one has a passion for "fawncy" baths one can keep her face and skin in nice condition with the usual cleansing followed by an ice rub. The ice is a fine astringent, and tones the skin. A good cleansing cream used first to get into the pores and remove the dirt, and then washing with water and soap is the best way. Some skins do thrive quite beautifully on cleasing cream and no soap—but they are fine grained with the pores so tight as to be unnoticeable.

J. G.: IT'S HABIT, PURE AND simple. You can have the dirt nail habit or the clean just as easily. A couple of minutes at night with an orange wood stick, a wee bit of cotton dipped in peroxide, and a little creaming around the cuticle, and you can answer the "Hands Up" with perfect poise any time.

HAROLD TEEN—WHAD'DYE MEAN, DRESSED?

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The more one looks like an old-fashioned wall paper these days the less are one's chances of being a wall flower. Take, for example, the delightfully quaint organdy model shown today. At first glimpse you are reminded of nothing so much as the old-time wall paper which hung in your grandmother's house. This effect is produced by medallions of embroidery in red and white silk, which form the final touch of quaintness on a full skirted model that might have been lifted direct from a Godey's Lady Book of civil war days. Collar and flowing sleeves are faced with cherry colored organdy, and plaited sections of the white are arranged in interesting variety. White pearl buttons traverse the center panel.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Likes More than One.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl of nearly 17 and like a young fellow of 19. Whenever he saw me he used to take me aside from the crowd and talk to me. He was engaged to a girl older than himself, but always escorted me home. He said that he cared for us both, as I told him I would have nothing to do with him as long as he was engaged. I was once out to a dance and supper with him. He then broke his engagement with the other girl. Lately he has been acting cool to me. My chum says that he cares for me. Do you think so?

"PERPLEXED."

It doesn't sound that way to me, Perplexed! He is probably telling the same story to the other girl's chum, too. You want to be careful of these ambitious young men who are not satisfied with the love of one girl. By this time he's probably flitting about pastures new.

Wasn't Too Old to Laugh.

One evening, just as I was leaving the house with my fiancé to visit a nearby theater, an ardent admirer of her sister called—a man nearly twenty years older than the object of his devotion. I met him for the first time, exchanged a few remarks, and we proceeded to the theater.

When we returned we were laughing and joking as we let ourselves in and walked unconcernedly toward the library, where I saw Anne apparently alone, so I called out:

"Well, did you chase the old duffer home?"

For a moment there was silence, and then, to my utter chagrin, a masculine voice spoke up:

"No, the old duffer is still here."

He had been seated in a shadowed part of the room. Fortunately, though 40, he was not devoid of humor, and the occasion passed pleasantly, but every time I think of it that embarrassed feeling returns. D. N.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Small Greens.

All through the summer some small green is procurable. We can use squash leaves if we cannot get anything else, but there is leaf lettuce, chard, beet leaves, etc. Perhaps the most palatable of all are the outside leaves of romaine.

By small greens we designate a small serving rather than anything else. A bit of cooked romaine served with a plate of macaroni and cheese or with a serving of savory rice or with a salmon steak, or even with a beefsteak, adds a number of cheerful elements to the meal. Kept as green as grass by the method of cooking, it cheers the eye in the first place, and the palate in the second place, far more than people who have not given the subject thought would guess. And then it gives us water soluble B, that element which is so invaluable for the maintenance of health over long periods of time. Three-fourths of human ills are those that come insidiously, developing fully only after a long period of incubation. We can hinder every one of these by right eating.

Wash and trim the green leaves, whatever they are, drop them into hot water, and let them boil five minutes. Drain and rinse with cold water and put to cook in a tiny bit of water. When tender, chop or cut up rather fine, and then cook them a little in the following: Take as much butter as you would take to dress the greens, add half as much flour, stir the two together until smooth and cook a bit, then add greens and stir the two well together and cook slightly. You can add a bit of cream or reduced meat stock or gravy, but they are fine without.

A FRIEND IN NEED

Only 2 'Outlanders' in Chicago Club Colony at Charlevoix, Mich.

From the Chicago club at Charlevoix, Mich., comes word that thirty-one of the thirty-three pretty summer cottages at that resort on the plateau overlooking Pine and Round lakes are occupied by Chicagoans. The other two are occupied by Judson Harmon and family of Cincinnati and Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Warren of Detroit. Business causes many of the men to divide their time between the club and their Chicago offices, but most of them are passing a great portion of the season at Charlevoix.

Among the Chicagoans at the club are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stuart, Mrs. James H. Douglass, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lord, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Orr, Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Smith, William Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Pierce, Miss Adelaide Pierce, Charles I. Pierce Jr., A. Watson Armour Jr., Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Chandler and Miss Katharine Chandler, Mrs. Bradford Whiting, Miss Elinor Whiting and Bradford Whiting Jr., Miss Ruth Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Wilson Jr., Miss Cynthia Wilson, John P. Wilson III., Albert Keep, Mrs. W. S. Johnston, Mrs. D. H. Burnham Jr., Mrs. Eugene S. Talbot, Mrs. Eugene S. Talbot Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Dempster, Mrs. James F. Gillette, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams, Mrs. John Holabird, Miss Jean Holabird, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Ross, Mrs. A. M. Bernie, Miss Sarah Hempsall, Eugene Talbott III., Miss Margaret Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. King, Jack King, Miss Louise Chandler, Mrs. John R. Walsh, Daniel Burnham, Spencer Burnham, Miss Theresa Wilson, Henry Hall, and Mrs. Eldridge G. Keith.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Letts Jr., will give a dinner for forty guests this evening at the regular Saturday evening at Onwentsia.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Chase, who have been at the Drake since leasing their apartment, expect to move Aug. 1 to the house which they are having remodeled in Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund A. Russell and Miss Maroussa Russell of Lake Forest, who have been in China for several months, have started for home, and are expected to arrive about July 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew MacLeish and Miss Isabel MacLeish of Glencoe sailed this week for a two months' stay in Europe.

Miss Cordelia Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Carpenter of 1545 Astor street; Miss Elizabeth Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Baker of 305 Fullerton parkway, and Miss Marion Farnsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Farnsworth of 1448 Astor street, who have spent three months abroad, will land in New York on Aug. 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Perkins and Miss Elora Perkins of the Shore Crest hotel, will leave next week to spend the remainder of the summer in the east. The date of Miss Perkins' marriage to Frank T. Andrews Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank T. Andrews of 448 Barry avenue, is as yet undecided, but probably will take place in the late autumn.

Mrs. Arthur Ryerson of 2700 Lake View avenue will arrive in Chicago a week from today from Peking, where she has had a house for several months. Mrs. Ryerson is at present at Lake Louise for a brief stay, and after a few days here with her son, John B. Ryerson, will go on to her country place at Cooperstown, N. Y.

Mrs. Walter Wheaton Augur of 46 Cedar street returned yesterday from Charlevoix, where she had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Robert C. Orr.

Mrs. Harrison Parker and daughter, Mary, have returned from Europe. Mrs. Parker went to Italy in the late spring to join her daughter, who attended school there last winter.

Miss Margaret Conover and Henry B. Conover of 6 Scott street have sailed for France for a stay of several weeks.

Society Finds Mental Disorders on Increase

Mental diseases are increasing, according to members of the Illinois Society for Mental Hygien, and the development of clinics to prevent their growth is essential to the welfare of the public. A statewide campaign for the promotion of mental hygiene is being started.

"The psychological effect of the war has had much to do with the increase in mental cases," said Dr. Ralph Truitt, medical director of the society. "People have had difficulty in readjusting themselves and getting back to normalcy. The number of ex-service men who have suffered from nervous disorders also has increased such cases."

Dr. Truitt added, however, that mental disorders due to alcohol are on the wane.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—The President and Mrs. Harding today celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage, which took place in Marion, O., in a house which they had built for their occupancy after marriage and which they still own. There was no formal celebration at the White House, the President and Mrs. Harding spending the day quietly. Notwithstanding the warm weather, the President has continued to play golf, and has been a familiar figure almost every day on the links at the Chevy Chase club.

The Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge will be the guests of honor at luncheon Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beale McLeana at Friendship, their suburban home on Massachusetts avenue.

The secretary of the treasury, Mr. Milon, will be joined here next week by his daughter, Miss Ailsa Mellon, who is now at their home in Pittsburgh, and they will go to Hot Springs, Va., where they have taken Barton lodge.

Miss Theresa Gross Will Be Wed Today to Benjamin Thomas

The marriage of Miss Theresa Rew Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Gross of Evanston, and Benjamin Morris Thomas, son of Morris St. P. Thomas of 745 North Michigan avenue, will take place this afternoon. The service will be read at 5:30 o'clock in the garden of the Gross residence, Father Smith of St. Mary's church officiating.

The Misses Dorothy and Freda Gross will attend their sister as maids of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Elizabeth Thorne, Miss Elizabeth Carpenter, Miss Mary Cooke and Miss Caroline De Windt.

Carr Thomas of New York will be best man for his brother, and the list of ushers includes Maurice Garaghty, Walter Paepcke, Thomas S. Blair Jr., Winthrop Taylor, Louis Hardin, Henry Gross, all of Chicago, and Balfour Phelan of St. Louis.

The bride's gown is of white taffeta with an overdress of French lace threaded in gold. Her veil of tulle is held with a cap of lace trimmed with orange blossoms. She will carry lilies of the valley and white sweet peas.

The maids of honor and bridesmaids will wear frocks and hats of white organdie, and their bouquets will be of blue, pink, and lavender larkspur.

A reception will follow the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will depart this evening for a wedding journey in the east, after which they will reside for the present in Cincinnati.

* *

WEDDING

Announcement was made yesterday in Evanston of the marriage Wednesday night of J. P. Graves, Spokane, Wash., mine owner and capitalist, to Mrs. Norman Towne. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride at 427 Greenwood boulevard. Following the wedding the couple departed for a honeymoon tour in Canada and the northwest. They will reside in Spokane.

Mrs. Graves, who was Mary Hardin, is a former resident of Fulton, Ill., and Denver, Colo. She met Mr. Graves a year ago in Huntington, Cal., while both were on vacations.

Anna Fitziu Sings "Tosca" as if Part Was Made for Her

BY EDWARD MOORE.

A refreshing change in the atmosphere brought with it an impulse of cheerful animation to the performance of "Tosca" at Ravinia last night. The need of manifest hard work to overcome the depressing influence of a hot night was laid aside; instead, the vitality of the opera itself had a chance to appear.

Anna Fitziu had the name part, a rôle that she used to do uncommonly well when she was a member of the Chicago Opera association, and which she did even better last night. It fitted her; she carried herself with a distinctive air; her voice and her part of the score might have been made for each other; and she was decorative. With these external assets, she proceeded to give projective force to the impulses and emotions of the part in a thoroughly persuasive manner.

Riccardo Stracciari, in the best of his splendid voice, was the Scarpia. He made it a somewhat ornate character, with much play of eyeglasses and malign smile. As much of his performance as could be seen in the brief first act was forceful, as it should be, and restrained, also according to the canons of the rôle. He and the chorus worked up a fine climax for the "Va, Tosca," which ends the scene.

Quite the best thing that Charles Hackett has done in his two seasons at the north shore park was his Mario Cavaradossi in this performance. An upstanding, handsome figure, vigorous and well mannered, singing of the first order, and more expression in the details of the part than most tenors are in the habit of giving, made him a worthy member of the triumvirate of principal actors. Perhaps he would have got along better in his love scene if he had had a property rehearsal with Tosca's hat, which tilted disconcertingly in the ardor of his embrace, but there were many virtues to outweigh one mischance.

There was a fourth among the principals. This was Gennaro Papi at the baton, who gave an absolutely stellar performance. His conducting was sure, it was fiery, and full of contrast, and the orchestra and singers registered in complete accord with him.

"La Boheme" will be sung for the first time tonight. Marie Sundellius, Margery Maxwell, Morgan Kingston, Riccardo Stracciari, Leon Rothier, and Louis D'Angelo will be among the singers. Papi will conduct again.

50 YEARS WED

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Haas to Mark Golden Anniversary by Family Reunion.

MRS. ISAAC HAAS. ISAAC HAAS. [Root Photos.]

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Haas of 5160 Indiana avenue, will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary today. They were married in Chicago, July 9, 1871, and, except for a few years' residence in Mendota, have resided here since. There are three children and three grandchildren who will assist at the celebration today.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, July 8.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Finley J. Shepard are occupying their summer home at Roxbury, in the Catskills, for the remainder of the summer.

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. William Beach Dean of Larchmont Manor of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Dean, to Clinton Gilbert, son of Mrs. Margaret B. Gilbert of 48 East 50th street. Miss Dean is a graduate of the Emma Willard school of Troy, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald G. McIlwaine will go to Southampton from Albany today to be the guests of his mother, Mrs. Joseph Palmer Knapp, at Tenacres.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Holland Forbes, who had planned to spend the summer at Newport, have changed their plans and will go to Newport about the middle of the month for the remainder of the season.

Miss Harriet Camac, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles N. B. Camac, has gone to Manchester, Mass., to visit Miss Rosalind Robinson. Upon her return she will join her parents at their summer place at Murray Bay.

Mrs. Katharine Harris Barrymore has returned to town after a short visit with Mrs. Rawson L. Wood at Southampton.

TRADE ABROAD PICKS UP EXCEPT IN SCANDINAVIA

Optimism Succeeds Gloom in Great Britain.

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—Improved conditions are indicated in the monthly cables from commercial attachés and trade commissioners made public today by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. While the worldwide business depression continues, it is the first time since the monthly cable service was inaugurated several months ago that an actual improvement is noted in a considerable number of countries.

Trade Commissioner Wilbur J. Page cables from London that a general feeling of optimism prevails in Great Britain. The reduction in the bank rate and the settlement of the coal strike have been felt already.

Reconstructing in France.

Increased activity is indicated in the monthly cable from Paris, sent by Trade Commissioner J. F. Butler, who stated that many new loans were being authorized for purposes of reconstruction and for improvements.

Trade Commissioner A. A. Osborne in a cable from Rome states that while unemployment in Italy is increasing and there is agitation for still lower retail prices, these demands are accompanied by little disturbance and there seems to be less tendency toward unrest and industrial strikes.

In contrast with the optimistic cables from several European nations, a report from Commercial Attaché Norman L. Anderson, Copenhagen, stated that the depression in Scandinavian countries in trade, industry, and finance shows no sign of improvement.

Detroit Unemployment Grows.

Detroit, Mich., July 8.—A further increase in unemployment was recorded by the Employers' association in its weekly report today. The seventy-nine member firms reported 1,533 fewer men at work than the previous week. The total now employed was given at 108,798.

IMPROVEMENT IN BERLIN

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, July 8.—A survey of the economic situation of many branches of German industry for the last month shows either improvement or continued satisfactory conditions. The labor situation is somewhat brighter, with prospects that the general strike contemplated by the state property workers would be averted.

Many of the heads of German industry believe the French will lift the sanctions shortly, when a strong general improvement is expected.

Unemployment has decreased, thanks to the resumption of construction and the peasants' demand for men to work in the harvest fields. The farmers are complaining that they cannot get enough hands.

German industry is affected by the coal situation because the Ruhr miners are not working overtime and the entente is demanding the highest grade of coal.

The decreases in the value of the mark have induced foreigners to buy again, especially steel and iron products, but the Germans still cannot compete with the French and Belgian manufacturers who obtain cheap German coal.

Crowder Asked to Aid in Cuban Legislative Program

HAVANA, July 8.—Maj. Gen. Enoch H. Crowder has been invited to participate in conferences on the government's legislative program which are provided for in a presidential decree issued yesterday.

A WICKED RIGHT

Woman Lands It on Annoyer, Then He Is Fined $100 and Costs.

MRS. MABEL HUNTER.

Oscar stood next to Mrs. Hunter in a street car yesterday and annoyed her by rubbing against her, she said. Mrs. Hunter's husband, J. R. Hunter, is head of the Hunter Secret service. Mr. Hunter had taught his wife a thing or two about the manly art.

She objected to being annoyed. Her objections took the form of a half arm jolt which rocked Liljenstrom's head. Liljenstrom let out a yelp and tried to jump off the car. Gently but firmly Mrs. Hunter detained him and called a cop. Judge John F. Haas, in South Clark street court, fined Liljenstrom $25 and costs, then noticed the bruised wrist of Mrs. Hunter, and changed the penalty to $100 and costs.

PLENTY OF JOBS BY FALL, BUREAU HEAD PREDICTS

"There is every indication that by fall the industrial situation will be so relieved that the present rising tide of unemployment will subside." Barney Cohen, director of the middle west department of the United States Employment bureau, Department of Labor, made this forecast in commenting on the national report of the bureau for June.

The report is composed of statistics garnered from sixty-five industrial centers, containing 1,428 firms, each of which employs more than 500 workers. It shows an average decrease in employment of June over May of 2.9 per cent. The total decrease since Feb. 1 is 6.2 per cent.

The protracted industrial depression and unemployment are due to transportation, freight rates, lack of the normal foreign market, low value of farm produce, stagnation of iron and steel, the high cost of construction, and the general dullness of the retail trade, the report says.

Paderewski, Pianist and Diplomat, Leads Fire Fight

Paso Robles, Cal., July 8.—Ignace Jan Paderewski, pianist and former premier of Poland, led a fire fighting force today in beating out a brush and grass fire which started near his estate here. The fire burned over twenty-six acres before it was checked.

2D REGIMENT'S OFFICERS AID CAMP ALGONQUIN

BY REV. G. A. MAC WHORTER.

Chicago is soon to have the 1st regiment of infantry federalized under the national guard act. That regiment is the 2d infantry, under command of Col. W. E. Swanson. It will be federalized as soon as it secures fifty more recruits. These recruits can join at the armory at 2653 West Madison street. On July 20 this regiment will go camping without cost to the men.

A group of officers who met the other day to plan the camp took up a collection and a check for $15 has been sent in to THE TRIBUNE Camp Algonquin fund.

Five children, out of their own vacation funds, have sent $50 to the Camp Algonquin fund because "they feel that they can enjoy their own vacation better by helping others to have vacations."

Bradford A. Alcorn sent $2.85, "which I earned for the fresh air fund. I hope it will help a little."

METAL WORKERS BALK ON CLAUSE URGED BY LANDIS

The sheet metal workers have dropped out of the proposed arbitration in the building trades tieup which was to have been settled by Judge K. M. Landis. Thomas Redding, president of the union, yesterday told the judge he saw no way by which members of his union could enter into the agreement.

The trouble arises over the omission from the sheet metal workers' agreement, submitted to the judge, of clause 3, one of the eight cardinal points that Judge Landis has requested be put in all of the agreements.

Bars Imported Non-Union Material.

Clause 3 provides that no material can be barred by the workers except prison made. The sheet metal workers are attempting to exclude also non-union made materials imported from other states.

This, Judge Landis said, had caused men to be indicted on the grounds that they were obstructing interstate commerce.

"I cannot arbitrate on the agreement as it has been submitted," the judge said. "I do not want to be an accessory after the fact."

Will Take It Up with Union.

Mr. Redding will discuss the proposition further with members of his union, and hope is expressed for a satisfactory outcome.

This leaves both the carpenters and the sheet metal workers out of the proposed arbitration by Judge Landis of the building trades disagreement. It is understood, however, that the carpenters will accept Judge Landis' wage award.

"Y" GUEST, ILL., TAKES POISON.

Frank Durand, living at the Sears-Roebuck Y. M. C. A., 3210 Arthington street, attempted to end his life there last night by swallowing poison tablets. He was taken to West End hospital, where it was said his condition is critical. Durand had often complained of poor health.

EVEN EX-KAISER CANNOT ESCAPE TAX COLLECTOR

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable]

[Copyright: 1921.]

DOORN, Holland, July 8.—The municipal council of Doorn is discussing the vigorous protest lodged by William Hohenzollern against the tax levied by the local authorities. The ex-kaiser maintains that it has no right whatever to tax him, as he did not come willingly to Holland, is held practically a prisoner, and is therefore not liable to taxes as if he were a free citizen. William has also protested against the income tax.

The majority of the council, however, takes the view that the ex-kaiser came as a free agent to Holland, and himself choose Doorn as his place of residence; that, therefore, his protest should be disregarded, and measures must be taken to secure the payment of his taxes. The ex-crown prince, however, is held to be exempt from taxation.

The Service of the Want Ad

EVERY DAYBREAK brings another Tribune, and every nightfall finds another host of tasks accomplished by Tribune Want Ads. A Sunday Tribune Want Ad enters hundreds of thousands of homes. There, quietly, efficiently, quickly, it performs what you ask of it. The Index of the Section blankets human activity—your activity, at home, at work, at play. Make use of it! This Sunday!

Help Wanted

1921 Fighting Salesmen are as vitally necessary today as they were six months ago. The battle for business continues, and there is strong need for men who can produce! The rewards of 1921 are going to the FIGHTERS! If there are not now enough Fighting Salesmen in your organization, get them! And get them by means of Salesmen Wanted Want-Ads in this Sunday's Tribune!

HOUSEHOLD GOODS

THIS is the lay of the Home Harmonious, where the furniture matches the woodwork, and the hangings soothe the eye. But here and there, in many homes, there are jarring notes. A wicked wicker rocker rubbing incongruous elbows with a Queen Anne dining room suite. Somber old rose drapes where cool green should be the word. Here's the solution—economical, quick, convenient—sell the discordant pieces with a Want Ad in The Sunday Tribune, and watch the Want Ads in the same classification for bargains to replace them!

TENTS & AWNINGS

THIS classification holds forth many opportunities for saving money in buying tents or awnings. It also offers an unparalleled market for a quick sale.

Business Chances

THESE be parlous times. The man who is not ever on the watch for opportunity soon finds himself or his business on the well known rocks.

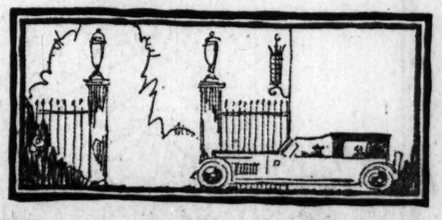
Business Chances is the medium by which new blood is infused into an anaemic business, or backing is secured, or partnership, or, if it is desired, Business Chances will sell your business and buy you another one. Every Sunday businesses change hands or are bolstered up by means of Want Ads in this classification. Perhaps BUSINESS CHANCES could help you! Try it this Sunday! Call Central 100 and ask for an Ad-taker! Today!

Building Material

THE Sunday Tribune Want Ad Section is read by buyers—and builders, substantial people who build homes, warehouses, factories, stores, both for themselves and others. So, any advertising in The Tribune selling material for building is bound to meet with quick response. The building question is being arbitrated into action. The number of permits issued has taken a big jump. It's a good time to sell building material, and the best way to sell it is to run a Want Ad in The Sunday Tribune!

Real Estate

WITH the promised land of Building Boom now assuredly in sight, the demand for vacant property, especially residence lots, will be greatly strengthened. The Real Estate classification of The Sunday Tribune Want Ad Section is a catalog of Real Estate activity in Chicago. Watch it and use it! This Sunday!

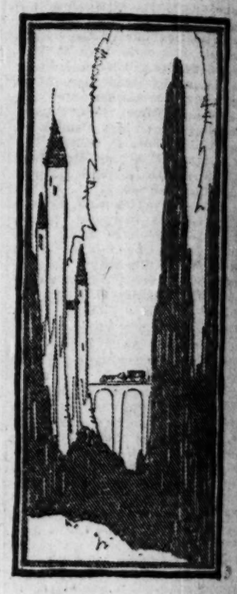


AUTOMOBILES

THE BIGGEST market in the Central West for used cars is The Sunday Tribune Want Ad Section. The aggregate value of the autos advertised every Sunday hits the million mark. Automobile owners have found that Sunday Tribune Want Ads sell for them! And they will sell your car for you!

In the Land of SWAP

HARDY souls have eliminated the bother of money in the land of Swap. There people buy and sell as in days of old. You have a typewriter for which you have no further use, and you would like a tent to go vacationing, you take a short cut to get the tent—a Want Ad in Barter & Exchange in the great Sunday Tribune Want Ad Section. So with any number of other combinations; Player Pianos and diamond rings, a truck for a lot, an Evinrude for a Victrola! This method offers a quick solution to many problems—problems of yours perhaps! Look in Barter & Exchange in tomorrow's Sunday Tribune or, better still, have a Want Ad in Barter & Exchange for 800,000 Tribune readers to see!



A Good COOK

THE WAR is over. The shells that shrieked in Flanders are nicking plowshares from La Crosse, Wis., the shells that stand idly on end in Cornflakes, Ia., rust sulkily. And Hilda and Marie have hung up their overalls, donned bib and tucker, and are watching the Want Ads in The Sunday Tribune for a good place. Now is the time to advertise for domestic help! There are thousands of girls and women who await your call. The only way they have of knowing about you is your Want Ad in The Sunday Tribune. Run your Want Ad this Sunday and order it today!

CENTRAL 100!

You can order your Want Ad conveniently by 'phone. Call CENTRAL 100, and ask for an Ad-taker. Or, if Downtown, visit The Tribune's great Want Ad store, first floor, Tribune Building, Madison and Dearborn Streets. The Want Ad store has a special department for the service of women advertisers.

CLOSING HOUR—To make all editions of The Sunday Tribune, copy for Want advertising must be in our offices by 9:00 P. M. Friday night; to make all City editions, by 2:00 P. M. Saturday. Want Ad copy cannot be accepted later than 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. That means you must order your Want Ad by 2 o'clock today!

ALDERMEN PICK RELATIVES, HELP, AS 'SECRETARIES'

Like Fathers and Sons' Banquet at $1,500 Per.

Appointment of a number of "private secretaries" for the aldermen was announced yesterday. That is necessary to get them on the pay roll. The name of the "secretary" must be on a pay roll to get the $1,500 pay for the "secretary" out of the city treasury.

Each of thirty-two aldermen will be permitted to name one "secretary."

The city hall day is limited to three hours today, and not many of the "secretaries" are expected on the job, but on Monday they will be buzzing around the committee rooms—if it is really intended that they shall do actual work. Perhaps they will labor, but that was not the purpose in appropriating the taxpayers' money for them.

Here's the "Inside Story."

The legislature some time ago provided for a fifty ward plan with one alderman for each. But there are now two aldermen from each ward and the seventy aldermen have not been reduced to fifty, so the law has not been complied with. The act provided that the aldermen might vote themselves $5,000 a year salaries when they did comply. So the council voted the $5,000 salary. But the aldermen are prohibited by another law from increasing the compensation of an officer during his term of office. Therefore the "private secretaries" were provided for the holdover aldermen.

It may appear like father and son night at the Association of Commerce, or mother and daughter afternoon at the Woman's club when the aldermen appear Monday with their "secretaries."

Some of the Secretaries.

Ald. Adamowski may be expected with his daughter Irene, Ald. Toman with his son Andrew, Ald. Franz with his son John, Ald. Agnew with his wife Mary, Ald. Byrne with a neighbor, Nellie Hanlon, and so on.

Ald. Klein selected Mrs. John C. Werdell as his secretary; Ald. Smith landed in the name of Miss Agnes Delaney, a niece; Ald. Jackson selected Mabel Green, an office employé, as his private secretary, and Ald. A. O. Anderson also selected one of his office employés, Bernard C. Fromm.

Ald. Lyle—as did others—wished to wait until the newspaper reporters left before giving the name of his "secretary" to the city clerk.

One Thing Is Certain—

But, regardless of whether the "secretaries'" names are turned in yesterday, today, or next Monday, it is a good guess they will be paid from July 1. The reason—the appropriation ordinance permits it.

MAID ROBS JONAS PFAELZER HOME OF $1,500 GEMS

The Winnetka police yesterday began search for Marie Horak, a maid who disappeared three days ago from the home of Jonas Pfaelzer, 529 Cherry street, secretary of Louis Pfaelzer & Co., packers, with more than $1,500 worth of jewelry. The girl left without claiming three days' pay that was due, which aroused Mrs. Pfaelzer's suspicions. A search disclosed the jewelry was gone. Effort to locate the girl through an employment agency failed when it was learned she had given a fictitious address. She is described as 18 years old, a blonde, and attractive.

Divorces Man Who Shot at Her and Hit Another

A divorce was granted yesterday to Mrs. Fanny Lyman, 3814 Calumet avenue, whose husband, Lovelace Lyman, shot Mrs. Mattie Gresham, 4428 Indiana avenue, on Aug. 15, 1919, while firing a volley at his wife. Mrs. Gresham recovered and did not prosecute Lyman, who has disappeared. The decree was granted by Judge Torrison.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

BREAK CRUST AFTER BEATING RAIN.

After a heavy rain the garden needs hoeing. Beating rains pack the soil, causing a crust to form on the surface, and plants suffer. Clay soils are always packed after a heavy rain and with a few hours' sunshine a crust soon forms. Unless this crust is broken up within a day or two the air does not circulate in the soil freely and the moisture leaves the soil at a rapid rate.

Too often gardens are allowed to remain untouched for several days after a rain. This is a mistake. Plants growing in sandy soil may not suffer, but those growing in fine soil that is easily packed will be seriously handicapped unless the hard layer on top is stirred within two or three days.

An unbroken crust acts like a huge blotter spread over the garden. It absorbs the water in the soil and brings the moisture to the surface, where it evaporates readily.

This trouble also is experienced during the first few days after plants are transplanted. In setting out young seedlings it is usually necessary to soak the soil with water. This puddles the soil immediately around the plant and causes a crust to form when the ground becomes dry. The soil is also packed slightly around the seedlings. This prevents air from getting to the roots and encourages excessive evaporation. Transplanted plants do better if the soil is worked around them on the second or third day after they are set out.

Level cultivation is usually best with practically all kinds of vegetable crops. Keeping the ground level around the plants is especially desirable where the soil is sandy.

ACCUSES OFFICER

Mrs. E. J. Ossman, Who Says Policeman Killed Husband Without Provocation.

MRS. EMIL J. OSSMAN.

The degree of justification for the killing of Emil J. Ossman, 652 North Avers avenue, foreman for the William E. Dee company, by Policeman P. J. Graham of the Austin station, who sought to arrest him, will be determined by a coroner's jury today.

EMIL J. OSSMANN. [Russell Photo.]

Police officials and attorneys say a policeman may use whatever force is necessary to make an arrest. Mrs. Ossmann and neighbors who witnessed the shooting protested to Lieut. George Pearsall that it was unnecessary.

Graham contended he did not intend to kill Ossmann. He had placed him under arrest early yesterday morning, he said, and when the prisoner attempted to fight he drew his revolver. It was discharged accidentally, he said, having been drawn solely to cow Ossmann.

PATROLMAN P. J. GRAHAM.

Witnesses contradict the statement that Ossmann attacked him. They said he was running away from the policeman and calling to his wife to help him. They did say, however, that they heard him calling Graham vile names.

Graham is being held at the station pending the inquest which will be at the Robert Burns hospital at 10 o'clock this morning.

PRIZE SLEUTHS NAB 7, SOLVE 50 HOLDUPS IN DAY

Five detective sergeants who won promotion and the praise of Chief Fitzmorris Wednesday for meritorious work repeated yesterday. The net result of the day's work for the five was: Solution of from thirty-five to fifty holdups; capture of four pickpockets; seizure of a stolen automobile and its three occupants.

The five detectives are John Egan, James McCarthy, Michael McFadden, Thomas Kennelly, and Arthur Murphy. They won the chief's praise for shooting and capturing William Kasson, alias Kasienski, shortly after he had stolen an auto and robbed its owner. At the same time they captured Mathew Kotwas, who yesterday confessed he, Kasson, and two other men had been responsible for a number of store holdups.

The quartet also captured an auto stolen from George Lange, 5847 Justine street, and seized James McCormick and Edward and Henry Crowley.

Later the five rounded up four pickpockets at Division street and Ashland avenue.

Woman Felled, Robbed, at State and Madison

Mrs. Vera Staunton of Stoughton, Wis., a guest at the Morrison hotel, was knocked down and robbed last night at State and Madison streets. When she fought the thief felled her with a blow to the right temple and ran off with her purse, containing an expensive fountain pen and two indorsed checks.

She saved a diamond bar pin worth $300 and her $600 wrist watch.

Dr. H. F. Fletcher of the hotel dressed her injuries.

LETTERS PRAISE CRUSADERS FOR SODA PRICE CUT

Lower Cost Adds a Third to Volume of Business.

More than 150 letters have been received by the council committee on living costs in the last forty-eight hours thanking Russell J. Poole, secretary of the committee, and Ald. S. W. Govier, its chairman, for their drive for 10 cent ice cream sodas.

As announcements of price reductions continued to come in yesterday Mr. Poole paused to give credit to THE TRIBUNE for its part in the drive for lower prices for "summer foods."

"THE TRIBUNE began the campaign for 10 cent sodas with an article showing up conditions last Tuesday morning," Mr. Poole said. "That statement of the facts brought retailers to their senses and within the next two days thirteen of the largest downtown soda dispensers cut their prices."

More Stores Cut Prices.

Among the latest to announce reductions is the Pershing Confectionery company, with stores at 434 South Wabash avenue and 63d and Robey streets. In these stores crushed fruit sodas may be obtained for 15 cents, including war tax, and coca cola and ginger ale is on sale for 5 cents a glass.

"Managers of stores which have reduced their prices report that their business has increased one-third," Mr. Poole said. "Their only complaint is that they are not able to handle the business.

Affects the Wholesalers, Too.

"That proves that the majority of the soda dispensers have simply got into the habit of charging high prices and that they have failed to realize that at least one-third of the people, who cannot afford to pay these prices, have actually been going without these cooling drinks.

"This situation has resulted in smaller sales by the wholesalers with resultant higher prices. In cutting their prices the retailers are increasing business, thus making it easier for the wholesaler to reduce his prices."

CARTRIDGE LAID ON CAR TRACKS COSTS BOY'S LIFE

Another death has been added to the casualties of the Fourth. Albert J. Strainis, 15 years old, of 4407 South Union avenue, died yesterday in the county hospital of a wound in the hip, received when a street car ran over a revolver cartridge placed in the track by some boys, at South Halsted and West 32d streets, on the Fourth.

ALBERT J. STRAINIS.

Albert was walking on the sidewalk when a car struck the cartridge and exploded it. The bullet hit him. Police are trying to find out where the boys obtained the fatal cartridge.

MAN ACCUSED OF LETTING CHILD DROWN IS FREED

A verdict of accidental death, which recommended that the police release John Collins, 23, of 2408 West 16th street, was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury which investigated the death of Emma Holdt, 10, of 2020 Hastings street. She was drowned in Douglas park lagoon Thursdays.

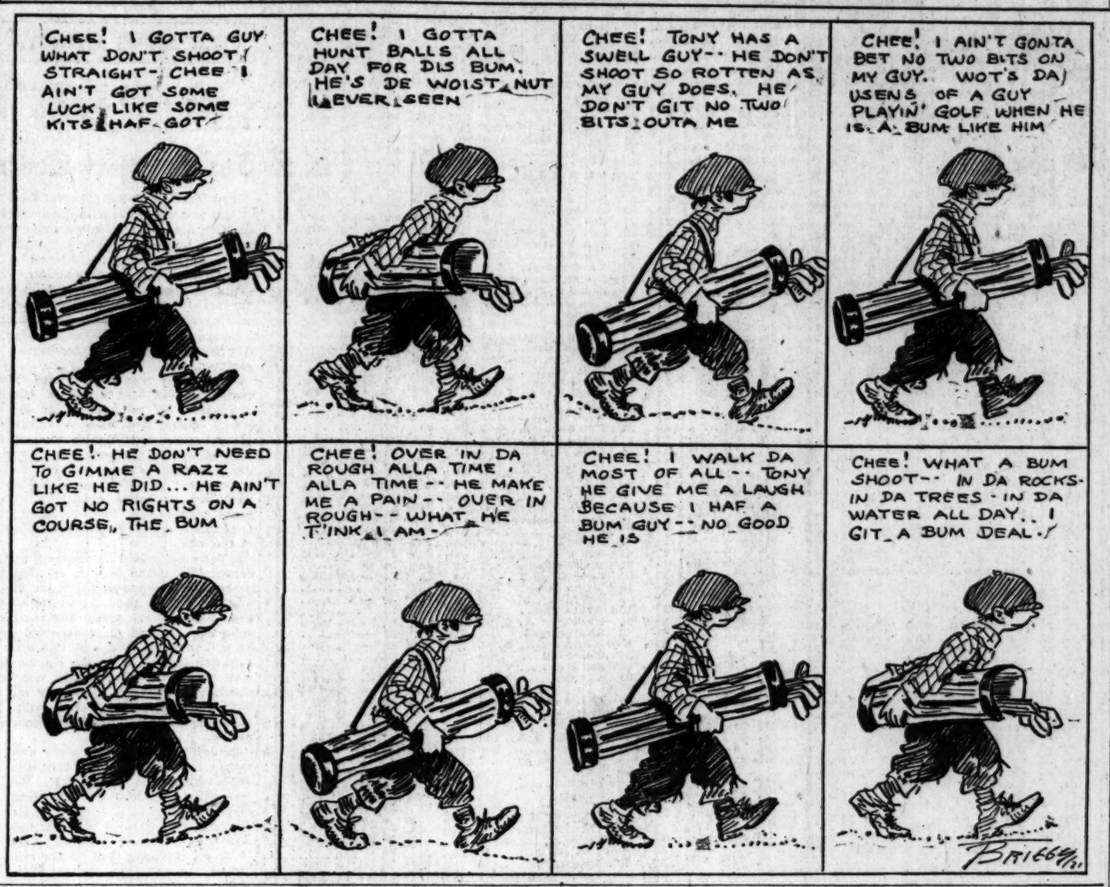
Collins was held when companions of the Holdt girl declared he refused to go to the aid of the victim.

Bertha Klimer, 1701 South Paulina street, testified she was not positive Collins was the man. Collins said he did not hear cries for help.

Wife Moves Out After Husband Stabs Admirer

When Samuel Kester returned to his home, 1439 West 14th street, last Sunday afternoon, according to the police, he found his wife in the arms of Hyman Rubenstein of 244 South Ashland avenue. In the affray that followed Rubenstein was stabbed several times. Kester again returned home last night. He found not only that his wife was gone, but all the household furniture had departed with her. "It's Rubenstein's revenge," he told the police.

WONDER WHAT A CADDIE THINKS ABOUT



MEN ARE LIKE THAT

Blue Ribbon Fiction

BY CLARA E. LAUGHLIN

A LETTER FROM LONDON.

"London," Sallie wrote to her father, "is the most wonderful place. You feel as if all the most fascinating story books you ever read had come alive, and you were in them all. That's the only way I can describe it."

Mrs. Fairweather went over on the same ship with the Bairds. She had taken a house in London for the season—not a large or pretentious one, but reported by her sister, who chose it for her, to be "quite charming and really very smart"—and had invited the Bairds to be her guests. Millie was delighted with the offer. But Sallie thought they ought to decline it.

"I don't like the idea of being so much obligated," Sallie said to Jim, discussing it.

"You're perfectly right," he assented.

"You're going to spoil everything for yourself before you get through with this streak of independence," Millie complained, bitterly.

Mrs. Fairweather, however, did not seem rebuffed by Sallie's decision. But Millie was sure she must be concealing her true feelings; so she made occasion on the voyage to tell Mrs. Fairweather something of the phase that Sallie was going through, to deplore it, and to hope that conservative English people would not think that Sallie's mother approved it.

"O, I doubt if they'll think anything about it," Mrs. Fairweather replied, "and if they do they'll rather like it—feel at home with it. English girls of all sorts have got most awfully emancipated since the war began, you know. Most of them had to, and I daresay that all of them liked to. Things aren't at all like they used to be. I should have been glad to have you with me, but I really think Sallie's way is better for her, and will make a better impression."

So Millie resigned herself, as she had done after the curious reception Sudduth and Corydon and several others had given her anxious explanations about Sallie's "phase," with the reflection that "all the world seems a little mad nowadays."

The quarter where the Bairds found lodgings was a "nice" one in Lancaster Gate, close to Kensington Gardens, which had not yet begun to burgeon when the Bairds arrived early in February. The lodging consisted of two bedrooms and a sitting room. Breakfast was served in their rooms. Their other meals they "ate out," on the advice of friends, who knew that thus they would see and learn much more about London.

After the Countess of Stoke-Poges called the landlady in Lancaster Gate doubled her attentions to the Bairds. After they had dined with the countess the landlady's solicitude became almost too great.

The countess was not on intimate terms with royalty. She was certainly not on those terms which made it possible for her to invite royalty to her house. But she knew perfectly well what to do instead.

"Lady Clive-Cooper is close to the queen," she explained to the Bairds; "and in this reign it is the queen who counts, I suppose you know. There are not circles at court, as there were in other days. There's just what Her Majesty approves."

Mrs. Baird looked at Sallie to see if she felt the reproving significance of this.

"It is heartening," she said, "to come to a country where a good wife and devoted mother is respected and reigns supreme."

"Yes," murmured the countess devoutly, "it is."

But down in the lowermost corner of the countess' "off" eye Sallie caught a flicker which indicated to her that the countess had not fully expressed herself.

"Lady Clive-Cooper," the countess went on, "is a—well, a good friend of my sister-in-law, Sybil, Duchess of Wickhamshire. Sybil is a perfect glutton for 'good works'—goes in for every kind of elevating and alleviating thing, you know. So does Lady Clive-Cooper. They're in all sorts of affairs together—ameliorating the condition of somebody or other who probably hates being ameliorated, I daresay. But never mind. They're always getting up something, and they're just what you need.

"Now, I shall have a dinner for Sybil. She'll be terribly surprised, poor dear, but I'll explain to her. Sybil thinks I'm worldly; has the opinion that I am 'on pleasure bent' and have not 'a frugal mind'; but I give her nice, fat checks for her improvement societies every little while, and she bears with my frailty just enough to keep the checks coming. I shall ask Lady Clive-Cooper to the dinner, too—and not many others—just enough to keep them from feeling that I didn't do them sufficient honor. And when I tell them why I kept it small they'll be pleased. The idea is that they're to have the first opportunity to present Miss Sallie Baird, but they must do it soon. It probably will occur to them at once what they can use you for—something in Sybil's ballroom, I daresay—that she never uses except for solemn purposes—something to draw sovereigns for the Fund to Buy Kneecaps for Wounded Highlanders, or thereabouts. If Lady Clive-Cooper can induce the queen to be present it'll be quite too spiffy for you. But even if she can't do that she can do other things. And particularly she can mention to the prince that she heard you. That's about the only way of letting him know you're here. But you must be awfully careful not to let fall a syllable about any possible stage experience when you go back. You're a young American girl of good family who did your bit to help in recruiting, in putting over loans, in entertaining soldiers, just as our girls did over here. What you did may amuse those who remember what our girls did. So you're here. That's the idea. I mean, that's the idea we can work on—I hope it's the one you mean to stand for?"

Sallie assured her that it was. She liked the countess much better than Mrs. Fairweather, and found herself at no loss to understand the countess' point of view.

Sallie had never met any one quite like her, but she did not find her difficult to comprehend. She wondered what the earl was like and hoped to find out when she and her mother were asked, with Mrs. Fairweather, to dine with the countess and talk things over.

But the earl was not at home. He dined there infrequently, it seemed. Sallie wondered why, but the countess soon enlightened her.

"I have," she said gayly, "the most engaging husband imaginable, but it's hard to keep up my acquaintance with him, he's in such demand."

They were a little "hen party" of just four, and Sallie was grateful for the circumstance. It gave her an opportunity to make her first acquaintance with a pretentious London mansion, in a way as easy as anything could be with a super-formidable butler and two footmen serving food to four women; and everything in sight suggesting state, privilege, tradition; everything, that is, but the four women.

After dinner they gave the vast drawing rooms and the overwhelmingly replete and solemn library no more than a glance; then went by an elegant little lift to the countess' sitting room upstairs. There coffee was served, and liqueurs and cigarets; and as none of those interested Sallie she did a bit of her stunt for the countess.

She nodded approvingly as Sallie went on with it—nodded, and smoked, and sipped her coffee, and looked as far as anything human could well be from ability to feel what Sallie felt as she did the thing. But her dark eyes glittered, then glistened, then overflowed.

There was something pagan in her posture, in the barbaric splendor and revealingness of her evening dress. But from somewhere behind her brimming eyes there looked out a woman almost greatly comprehending.

"There's no doubt about it," she said, rather brusquely; "you've come to the right place at the right time—with the right thing. Now let's go over and have a look at Covent Garden. I think somebody—Edvina, perhaps—is singing Mabella tonight."

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

Do you agree with Prof. Einstein that American women treat their husbands like toy dogs?

Where Asked.

Michigan avenue and Ohio street.

The Answers.

Mrs. Lee Drude, 12 West Ohio street—I think too much of my husband even to think of him as a toy dog and I doubt if any woman in all America does. Evidently Einstein was not in America long enough to get acquainted with us or he wouldn't talk like that.

W. J. Kavanaugh, 2444 North Sawyer avenue, soliciting freight agent—I do not agree with him. I have a host of married friends and I do not believe their wives treat their husbands like Prof. Einstein says. I think less of him for making the assertion.

Miss Edith Eddington, 2048 Nebraska avenue, clerk—Being single, I cannot answer the question from personal experience, but from various talks with certain married men, it must be true. And if so there are a lot of unknown heroes in America.

Mrs. Vanita Wendland, 3823 North Irving avenue—I don't agree with this Prof. Einstein by any means. There is a large number of men that have much better times than women. It is certainly poor judgment to make that kind of a statement, especially considering the short time he was in this country.

William J. Benentt, 161 East Grand avenue, chief operator Northern Pacific railroad—I most certainly do not think there is any such sentiment among American women. I'd like to know what kind of people he visited with while he was over here. He had better not come back again.

Five Floors Up Fail to Daunt Loop Holdup Men

Moe Garfinkel, 3623 West Polk street, was held up and robbed of $60 and a diamond tie pin yesterday afternoon by two young men who entered his office on the fifth floor of the Garment Workers' building, 176 West Adams street.

BLACK SOX TRIAL MAY HALT PLAY IN BIG LEAGUES

Defense Wants All Men in 1919 Series Summoned

That the playing schedules of both the National and American leagues may be interrupted at the height of the baseball season was revealed yesterday when Attorney Henry A. Berger of counsel for the defense in the baseball scandal trial before Judge Hugo M. Friend, asked for subpeonas for every player who was a member of the White Sox during the 1919 world's series. This includes practically every veteran on the team and several other players who have since been transferred to other teams.

Mr. Berger announced he also will ask subpoenas for every member of the 1919 Cincinnati club, and for the four umpires who worked in the world series.

If service can't be obtained upon them within the jurisdiction of the court, Federal Judge K. M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, will be asked to order the players in question to appear at the trial.

Players Subpoenaed.

The men for whom subpoenas were issued yesterday are Ray Schalk, Sox catcher; Byrd Lynn and Joe Jenkins, now with Salt Lake City; William "Kid" Gleason, Sox manager; Urban "Red" Faber, Sox pitcher; Harry Leibold, Boston; Eddie Murphy and Erskine Mayer, Columbus; John Collins, Boston; Eddie Collins, Sox second baseman; Harvey McClellan, Sox infielder; Ted Jourdan, Salt Lake City; Roy Wilkinson, Sox pitcher, and Richard Kerr, Sox pitcher.

If service is obtained upon these men, especially the men now with the Sox, and they are compelled to remain in the city to testify, it will make it almost impossible for the White Sox to put a winning team on the field, as they are the backbone of the weakened organization Gleason now has.

Expects Mates to Clear Players.

That the defense is sincere in its expressed intention of calling the members of the two teams who fought for the world's championship in 1919 was indicated by Mr. Berger.

"We have no desire to disrupt the playing schedules of the leagues," he said, "but in the interests of our clients we want these players and umpires to testify. They are the ones who know whether there was any crooked or indifferent playing and if any of the games were thrown.

"We expect to prove by the teammates of these accused players that there was no crooked playing. We will ask the umpires if they detected anything off color, and the same question will be asked of the Cincinnati players, if service can be obtained upon them. If they remain out of the jurisdiction of the court we intend to go to Judge Landis, the high commissioner, and ask him to order the men here."

64, Never Saw Ball Game.

In the selection of the jury to try the seven indicted Sox players and the four alleged gamblers little progress was made. The only feature was the discovery of a man 64 years old who had never seen or evidenced a desire to see a baseball game, and who has a son, 40, in the same fix. The father is Herman Koehler, 436 Grove street, Blue Island, a prospective juror. Mr. Koehler was excused.

In four days of examination four jurors have been selected and sworn in. Four were tentatively accepted by the state, but the defense excused two of them, tentatively passing the other two, but intimating at least one and possibly both of these will be excused.

Work of selecting the jury will be resumed Monday.

FORMER SOLDIER CONFESSES MAIL THEFT OF $10,000

Benjamin Borgman, a former janitor in the federal building at Grand Haven, Mich., was arrested there yesterday and confessed he stole a registered mail sack which contained $10,000 on April 13.

The money was being sent from the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago to the Grand Haven State bank.

According to word received here by Chief Postal Inspector A. E. Germer $2,900 of the loot has been recovered.

Borgman, who served with the army in the Philippine insurrection and in the Grand Haven national guard as a sergeant, was custodian of the postoffice the morning the registered mail sack came in, according to his confession. He said he took the money, destroying the remainder of the registered mail and the sack.

Art Institute, Orphans, Get Galloway Legacies

Under the will of Mrs. Helen Minerva Galloway, who left an estate of more than $2,000,000, the Chicago Orphan asylum is left $4,000 and the Art institute $20,000. Mrs. Galloway, who died July 3, was the daughter of Mark Kimball, Chicago pioneer, who lived at State street and Jackson boulevard, on the present site of the Hub building. She inherited this land and it comprises the greater part of her estate. The property is placed under trusteeship for the son and three daughters of the late Eugene S. Kimball, Mrs. Galloway's brother.

Gets Month to Wed and Pay $490 or Go to Jail

John Heiman of 1930 Mohawk street has a month in which to marry his sweetheart, Caroline Schwartz, 925 Winona street, and repay her $490—the money she gave him for their home—or go to jail. Judge Newcomer gave him the alternative yesterday after Miss Schwartz had told her story and admitted she was still willing to be married to Heiman.

U. S. STEEL CUTS MORE PRICES TO SPUR UP BUYING

BY O. A. MATHER.

With the United States Steel corporation announcing additional cuts in prices yesterday, it is evident the industry as a whole has reached the conclusion common in many other lines of business that prices must be reduced to a point that will start buying. The reductions announced yesterday include $5 a ton in wire nails and plain wire, $2 to $6 a ton in standard steel pipe, and $4 to $12 a ton in boiler tubes.

Readjustment in the steel industry and in the transportation field is easily the outstanding feature of the week. The steel industry faced a drying up of business. It has ever been the case that prices in a period of stagnation had ultimately to react to a point where the attractiveness of purchasing was beyond question, whether for speculative or actual needs.

Effect of Slash Awaited.

But price readjustments are unalterably bound up with the wage situation. Therefore it is a natural expectation that wage reductions will accompany every cut in prices.

It will be interesting to see what effect the present price cuts have on the industry. The first official cut below the so-called stabilization level, announced last April, was designed to stimulate demand. It failed in its purpose. Demand did not quicken, but on the contrary operations fell to even a lower level. The American Iron and Steel institute reports the output of steel ingots for June as 1,003,406 gross tons, compared with 1,265,850 gross tons in May.

This afforded another illustration that price cuts in themselves are not a stimulus but rather a repellent to demand. It is difficult to induce buying in a declining market. But ultimately a point is reached where buying can be undertaken in the fair expectation that some degree of stability has been reached. Only then will forward buying make itself manifest.

Railroad Prospects Brighten.

As for the situation of the railroads, the reduction in wages, effective July 1, and the virtual assurance of government financial aid hold promise of better things. The first half of the year saw few developments that were favorable. Now the wage reduction is expected to save $400,000,000 a year, while funding of the debt owed to the government as a result of capital expenditure during the period of federal control will release some $400,000,000, due the roads on balances to be paid on standard return and other items.

This will place the railroads in the position of being able to pay bills which have been standing against them since the return to private control. Furthermore, new purchases can be undertaken, which will assist in a recovery of industry. Thus far this year earnings have been nothing to boast of, but it must be remembered that the fore part of the year is always a low earning period. The highest percentage of net income accrues in August, September, and October.

Commercial Failures Decline.

In general yesterday's news budget contained a number of constructive factors. R. G. Dun & Co. report 4,163 commercial failures in the United States during the second quarter of 1921, with liabilities of $130,273,615, and 9,035 defaults, supplying $310,671,604, for the half year. Following the usual tendency, the second quarter's insolvencies are fewer in number than those of the first quarter, the reduction being 709, and the indebtedness is about $50,000,000 less than that of the preceding three months.

The Chadwick-Hoskins company and the Lancaster Cotton mills, which operate several mills in North and South Carolina, announced their intention of resuming operations after a shutdown of several weeks. About 3,600 workers will be employed. The Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railroad has added about 3,600 employés in its bridge, carpenter and other shops. The Buick Motor and Lee Rubber and Tire companies both reported large increases in sales and plants operating close to capacity.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Directors of the Fiske Rubber company have passed the usual quarterly dividend on the first and second preferred stocks, due at this time. These stocks have been paying at the rate of 1¾ per cent quarterly, or 7 per cent annually.

An issue of $7,000,000 Rochester Gas and Electric corporation general mortgage twenty-five year 7 per cent bonds is being offered by a syndicate headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., at 96, to yield approximately 7.35 per cent.

The New Jersey Tube company, with a plant at Harrison, N. J., has filed a bankruptcy petition. Liabilities are fixed at $2,000,000 and assets at $1,000,000.

Directors of the Reliance State bank have transferred $50,000 to surplus, making the total of that account $100,000.

It is reported the American Sugar Refining company will do some financing. The amount is said to be $25,000,000 and it is argued the raising of this large amount will necessitate some change in dividend policy. The directors do not meet to consider the common dividend until early in August. The company has started several new suits to collect on its 22½ cent sugar contracts. The defendants include the Sheffield Farms company, the Waddington Condensed Milk company, the Elbee Chocolate company, and Breakstone Bros., Inc. The aggregate damages sought are more than $120,000,000.

The fall in the price of sugar is said to be responsible for the Charms company, manufacturers of candies, going into the hands of receivers yesterday. Profits made when sugar was high were wiped out when sugar fell in price and contracts were fulfilled, it was stated. The concern operates plants in New Jersey, Denver, and Canada.

REVIEWS OF TRADE

Dun's review of the Chicago trade says:

"The rushing trade in hot weather garments gives assurance of almost complete liquidation of summer stocks, and the effect of this satisfactory turn-over already is noted in greater confidence in buying for the fall. This sentiment is making itself felt in spite of the fact that the dullness usual at this time of year prevails in virtually all lines of trade. Sales incidental to inventory taking make up a good part of the retail activity, and these are meeting with fairly good response. A good volume of small orders for at once shipment is the feature of wholesale business, running well ahead of the corresponding time last year. There is noticeable a constant broadening of the demand for fall offerings, and, while the movement is not yet large, it is steady and is encouraged by the firmness in nearly all lines of dry goods."

The New York Times.

New York, July 8.—[Special.]—A familiar process was witnessed on the stock exchange today when sharp reactions in prices took place mainly because of the unsettlement caused by the passing of dividends. The action of the United States Rubber company in eliminating the common dividend and the passing of the dividend on Fisk Rubber company first preferred came as further forceful indications of industrial depression.

A situation was encountered which made for weakness upon the exertion of pressure by speculators for the decline. There had been a substantial upturn and a considerable interest had accumulated on the long side. Liquidation of such holdings and the further putting out of short lines against a weakened technical position brought about declines that, in many cases, were as abrupt as had been the advance earlier in the week.

It has been evident for some time that constructive elements were entering into the general business situation, but factors of this sort are usually lost sight of in the stock market when adverse news, especially that of an unexpected character, comes to light, and this was the situation today. From the opening selling was in evidence and continued throughout the day. Not only did the industrials decline, but the rails, too, gave way, although to a less pronounced extent.

Among the industrials some new low marks were established. Lorillard Tobacco dropped 10 points, while Mexican Petroleum declined 6⅝; International Harvester, 5¼; U. S. Rubber, 5; Famous Players, 4½; General Asphalt, 4⅛, and American Sugar, 4. Pullman, American Tobacco, Atlantic Gulf, American Sumatra Tobacco, and United Fruit lost 3 points or more.

WHEAT CROP OFF 20 MILLION BU.; CORN AREA HUGE

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

A total grain crop of 5,515,000,000 bushels is indicated by the government crop report for July, issued late yesterday. This includes wheat, corn, oats, rye, and barley, and compares with final returns of 5,817,000,000 bushels last year, showing a decrease of 302,000,000 bushels, or 5 per cent. The crop of the four small grains aggregates 2,392,000,000 bushels, a loss of 104,000,00 bushels, or 4 per cent, during June, of which 76,000,000 bushels were in oats and 20,000,000 bushels in wheat.

Losses in the small grains were due to drought, intense heat the last thirty days, and freezing temperature in April. Unusually high temperatures have prematurely ripened all the small grains and reduced the condition of wheat 2.5 points on winter and 7.2 points on spring.

The total wheat crop is 809,000,000 bu, or 20,000,000 bushels short of last month. There was a loss of 4,000,000 bushels in winter and 16,000,000 bushels spring from last month, while the winter wheat crop is 4,000,000 bushels short of last year's harvest, and the spring wheat crop is 26,000,000 bushels more than last year's final returns, with indications that further reductions will be made in spring wheat.

Wheat Reserves Ample.

Farm reserves of wheat at 54,435,000 bushels compare with 47,620,000 bushels last year and are above the average. They suggest a total carryover, including flour, of around 100,000,000 bushels, or about 50,000,000 bushels less than last year. This will permit of exports of 250,000,000 to 275,000,000 bushels after allowing for a normal carry-over at the end of the crop season of 1921-'22.

A feature of the returns on winter wheat is the increase of more than 16,000,000 bushels in Kansas, which has around 120,000,000 bushels, or only 16,000,000 bushels less than were harvested last year, while the Kansas state report in its latest returns gives 113,000,000 bushels.

Principal losses in the wheat crop in June were in the northwest, where there are some red and black rust and a lack of moisture, particularly in the light soil regions of the Dakotas. Minnesota and the Dakotas have 138,000,000 bu, a drop of 16,000,000 bu for the month and an excess of 16,000,000 bu over last year. Montana has a promise of 21,344,000 bu, against 15,915,000 bu last year.

Corn Acreage Increased.

A big surprise was given the grain trade by the showing in corn. The acreage was set at 108,901,000, or 4,300,000 acres more than were harvested last year. It was the threat of the farming industry early in the season that low prices would result in a reduction in corn planting. A condition of 91.1 is the highest in July since 1896, when it was 92.4. The highest corn condition on record was 99.3, in 1895. A crop of 3,123,000,000 bu is suggested, which is one of the largest known and only 110,000,000 bu less than harvested last year. It is materially above the average.

The promise of oats is poor, a crop of 1,329,000,000 bu, being 197,000,000 bu less than last year, with indications of further reductions due to drought and heat, suggesting a crop of light weight in measured bushels.

The rye crop has held well, with 70,000,000 bu, or 1,000,000 bu more than last year, while barley suggests 184,000,000 bu, or 18,000,000 bu less than last year and below the average.

GRAIN MARTS OF DAY

A general disposition on the part of the trade to even up preparatory to issuance of the government crop report after the close of trading prevented grain prices from moving far in either direction. At the close wheat was 1⅜c higher, July leading, while corn was ½c higher for July and ⅛@⅞c lower for the distance futures, December leading; oats closed unchanged to ¼c higher, and rye was 1¼@1½c higher for the day.

Crop news from the northwest and winter wheat sections was regarded as bullish, but failure of the trade and the public to become enthusiastic over the buying side prevented an advance that many thought was due. Prices at their best were 1@1⅜c under the previous day's close and showed advances of 3c from the inside, with the finish on July $1.22¼@1.22½, or ⅜c over September, while the two months were even at the close Thursday. December was $1.24¼@1.24½.

Trading in August Starts.

Trading in August started the season at the request of the cash interests at $1.18 and finished at $1.20⅜.

Strength in July corn and weakness in December were features of that market. July was bought against sales of 750,000 bu for export via Montreal, with charters for it by the leading interest. December was sold on reports of scattered rains in Illinois and adjoining states. July advanced to 62c and closed ⅜c below that figure, while September was 60⅞@60⅞c, and December 60⅜@60½c.

Commission houses were good buyers of lard and packers furnished the selling orders on the advance, which caused a recession, making the close the same as the previous day. Ribs, although offered more freely early, finished 2½c higher. Hams and fat backs were in demand and held at full prices. Prices follow:

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

A good demand was reported for cash wheat at the seaboard yesterday, but some difficulty was encountered in securing offerings, which checked business. It was understood that around 700,000 bu wheat was taken by exporters, presumably to fill old sales to Belgium and Germany. Exporters bought 750,000 bu corn at Chicago for shipment via Montreal and charters were made for that amount. The seaboard reported 400,000 to 500,000 bu corn sold abroad.

Domestic shipping sales of cash grains were 32,000 bu wheat, 30,000 bu corn, and 160,000 bu oats. Sales of 50,000 bu wheat were made to go to store. Deliveries on July contracts were 33,000 bu corn and 667,000 bu oats.

No. 2 yellow and white corn gained 1c and mixed 1½c on the July yesterday, as the result of the leading industry becoming a buyer of contract grades for the first time in many weeks. Sales were on the basis of ½c under the July, with sample values 1@2c higher. Receipts, 136 cars. Outside markets were unchanged to 1½c higher.

Underweight hogs closed strong to 10c higher, while 300@500 lb packing grades declined 10@25c. Best light hogs reached $9.80 and the general average dropped 15c at $9.15. The "spread" between heavy packers and top light was the widest in several months, load lots of 350@400 lb packers going at $8.00.

Local and outside orders for good light hogs were larger than the supply, while "big heavy" packers were in excessive supply. It is expected the spread in values will widen still more in the near future, thus being seasonable. The top and average a year ago were $1.30 per 100 lbs apart.

Lambs met with a brisk call on local and shipping account, with sales 25@50c above the previous session. The best Idaho rangers sold at $11.50, or $1.25 higher than the previous Friday and $1.50 lower than the high point June 21, when the best topped at $13.00. Sheep were without quotable change yesterday.

Activity and steady to slightly higher prices featured the cattle trade. Receipts at 3,000 were below requirements. Quality was poor and few sold above $8.30, with a few up to $9.00. Beef steers are generally 10@25c above a week ago, with good to best cows and heifers showing more gain.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

The government report taken all in all was a trifle bearish on wheat and corn, and bullish on oats. There was disappointment in the winter wheat showing and a good reduction is expected next month when returns will be based on thrashings, rather than on conditional figures. Spring wheat about reflects losses reported by private experts. It leaves an ample supply for all domestic and export requirements. Should the present condition in corn hold, which would require perfect weather with plenty of moisture at the right time, there would be another record crop. The showing of oats is poor, but the trade does not enthuse over bullish conditions on all coarse grains, although inclined to the buying side of wheat and corn on breaks.

A number of the big commission houses were on the buying side of wheat yesterday, some of whom have not been active for several days. Two of the large local traders who have been bullish recently, took profits early, and made the break, their selling based on uncertainty as to the government report showing. Late reports from Kansas City said exporters had cleaned up all the offerings of cash wheat there. Wichita, Kas., reports storage room getting scarce.

Charters have been made for 2,000,000 bu for shipment from Chicago the last week in July and the first part of August by seaboard exporters. They have the July wheat bought and expect to get a delivery of the cash grain.

National Wheat Growers association has advised farmers to hold their new wheat, according to Wichita, Kas., message. The rush of new grain to market with a high moisture content tending to force down the price is given as the reason for holding back the grain.

A Board of Trade membership sold yesterday at $8,250 net to the buyer.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Butter markets here and in the east were stronger and higher with a good demand and a rather poor showing of quality owing to hot weather. Cheese prices here advanced ¼@½c and eastern markets were firmer with a good trade.

Fresh eggs declined ½c to 1c, live hens advanced 1c, and broilers 3c. Potatoes advanced 15 to 25c with arrivals twenty-five cars.

Fruits and melons were good sale with fair offerings.

MAYOR ASKS THAT LOOP BE DOLLED UP FOR REALTORS

GET YOUR CONVENTION BADGE TODAY.

Every one attending the National Real Estate convention next week must wear a badge to secure admission to the Auditorium. You can get badge and credentials today or Monday by registering at the Chicago Real Estate board rooms, 57 West Monroe street. Every contributor to the convention fund, every man or woman serving on any committee, or who has volunteered for service, or who has donated cars for convention guests, will be given a badge free. Others must pay $5.

BY AL CHASE.

When the several thousand Yankee and Canadian realtors arrive in Chicago next Tuesday to attend the fourteenth annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, they'll find a gayly decorated town—if the proclamations issued by the mayor and president of the Association of Commerce have any effect.

S. CHARLES IVERSEN. [Walinger Photo.]

Yesterday his honor, in three whereases and one therefore, asked that all public buildings in the downtown district be decorated. At the same time President Joseph R. Noel of the Chicago Association of Commerce sent out an appeal to all business organizations in the city to doll up their respective buildings in honor of the visiting realtors.

His Honor's Proclamation.

The following is the mayor's proclamation in full:

WHEREAS, The fourteenth annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards will meet in the city of Chicago, July 12 to 15 inclusive, which convention will be attended by many thousand delegates from all over the United States and Canada, and

WHEREAS, It is the desire of the convention committee and all loyal Chicagoans that every delegate shall feel the hospitality of Chicago and the warmth of the welcome which our city extends, and

WHEREAS, Nothing will go further to assure our visitors of our interest in them or create a more favorable impression than a liberal decoration of the public buildings in the downtown district.

THEREFORE, I, William Hale Thompson, mayor of Chicago, do issue this proclamation asking that all public buildings in the downtown district be decorated with flags and bunting and signs of welcome in honor of the national convention of realtors.

Work Well Under Way.

According to S. Charles Iversen, vice chairman of the general convention committee, and in charge of all decorations, work is now well under way beautifying the Municipal pier, the exterior of the Auditorium, and the Chicago Real Estate board. Huge banners with the words "Welcome, Realtors," will be hung throughout the loop.

"Aided by the proclamations of the mayor and Mr. Noel, we ought to get the best job of convention decoration the town ever saw," said Mr. Iversen. "We'll have everything finished late Monday."

Building Permits

Twenty-seven building permits were issued yesterday, including:

Irving Park-blvd., 1733-43, two story postal card printing shop, V. Teich, owner; F. Teich, arch.; P. Hamel, mason and carpenter	$ 75,000
Lawrence-av., 3444-46, two story brick stores and flats, H. Bloom, owner; Loewnberg & Loewnberg, archs.; Gamm Brothers' Construction company, masons	50,000
South Park-av., 7240, three story brick flats, H. Wagner, owner and carpenter; A. G. Lund, arch.; Johnson & Olson, masons	23,000
Fullerton-av., 1349-51-53, one story brick bowling alley and storage room, L. Mandler, owner; M. F. Stranch, arch	20,000
Sheridan-rd., 4750-58, four story brick stores and offices, H. Emerman, owner; Fugard & Knapp, archs.; H. McLennan, mason	475,000

Templar Motors.

W. W., Marshfield, Wis.—The Templar Motors corporation never furnished complete information. On the basis of available data its stock must rate as a speculation only. It is of $10 par and is quoted at 3½ bid, 4½ asked. It formerly paid dividends at the rate of 12 per cent a year and extras. The latest payment of which we have a record is Sept. 30 last.

Italian Dollar Loan.

V. V. M., Eau Claire, Wis.—The Italian dollar loan of Feb. 1, 1920, was authorized to the amount of $25,000,000. At last accounts $9,979,550 of it were outstanding. Principal and interest are payable in United States gold coin at the agencies of the Bank of Naples in New York and Chicago. The bonds mature Feb. 1, 1925.

Missouri, Kansas and Texas.

F. E. B.—Until a reorganization plan for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway is adopted a purchase of stock would be a mere speculation. The plan that was framed two or three years ago is said to provide an assessment of $25 a share on all stock. If that plan is adopted and you want to invest in the reorganized company, it is probable you can get a lower price shortly before the assessment becomes due than you can now.

Brief Answers.

M. R., Oshkosh, Wis.—The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad earned most of its interest charges in 1919. In 1920 and the first few months of this year it did not earn operating expenses and taxes.

G. H.—The Indiahoma Refining company is both a producing and refining company. The July 1 dividend was paid in scrip. The company has been paying dividends since late in 1914.

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST.

The official forecast for today and tomorrow and yesterday's table of records follow:

Ohio—Generally fair Saturday and Sunday; somewhat warmer Sunday; gentle variable winds.

Indiana—Generally fair Saturday and Sunday; continued warm; gentle variable winds.

All Michigan—Fair Saturday and Sunday; rising temperature; gentle variable winds.

Wisconsin—Fair Saturday and probably Sunday; slightly warmer Saturday.

THE TIRE BUSINESS IS BOOMING

An Income of $250 Weekly Is Ordinary.

Tires Are Wearing Out by the Million Every Day.

The greater percentage of car owners today cannot afford to buy a new tire every time they have a blowout. Therefore fortunes are being made in the Tire Repair and Rebuilding Business.

You can establish yourself in this business for less than $500, and, as we furnish you with free instruction, free tools, and turn you out a full-fledged expert Tire Repairman in three weeks, there is no logical reason why you should not take advantage of this proposition if you are the least bit interested. We are also in touch with all of the renting agencies in Chicago and vicinity and can refer you to many choice tire shop locations.

Call any time, day or evening, and let us show you one of the largest and best equipped Tire Repair Shops and Schools in the United States. You will be under no obligation whatever.

Open from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily and until 6 p. m. Sundays.

TO RENT—OTHER CITIES.

TO RENT—HOPWOOD HALL, MIDDLETON LANCASHIRE. To be let furnished, or might be sold, this exceedingly fine Elizabethan mansion, which with its noted oak paneling and beautiful carving, constitutes one of the most historic houses in Lancashire. The gardens and grounds, containing about 16 acres, are tastefully laid out, and the property affords a comfortable and delightful residence, within easy distance of manufacturing centers in Lancashire, being about seven miles north of Manchester. Along with the hall there are about 180 acres of land and woodlands in hand, but the area rented could be a matter of arrangement. On the estate, and close to the hall, without interfering with its privacy, there is laid out a golf course, which is amongst the finest in the North of England. For further particulars apply to the agents of the estate, Messrs. Batey & Mair, 51 S. King-st., Manchester, who will arrange to have the house shown to any applicant.

Phonographs

We have been forced to foreclose a mortgage on a phonograph manufacturer.

As we are in the motor truck business, we cannot be bothered with these talking machines on our sales floor. Therefore we are offering to the public, while they last, these $200 popular make cabinet talking machines for $45.

20 Miles to the Gallon—12,500 Miles on Tires—Averaged by 40,000 Owners.

Your reason for buying a rebuilt car is to save money. But you want to be sure you save money after you buy it, as well as when you buy. The Franklin is the world's champion economy car, and we guarantee every rebuilt Franklin to be just as economical as a new Franklin. Make your acquaintance with Franklin efficiency and economy on the low initial cost basis made possible by these rebuilt bargains. Demonstrations gladly made for those not familiar with the Franklin.

NEW PRICES

1920 SERIES 9B FRANKLIN SEDAN. New type; good bumper front and rear; first class tires; upholstery in excellent condition, newly cleaned; body repainted and renickeled; chassis completely rebuilt and guaranteed the same as a new car. Price $3,250.

1919 SERIES 9B FRANKLIN, 5 PASSENGER SEDAN. New style hood on this rebuilt model Franklin. It has been completely rebuilt, repainted, and renickeled. Cleaned up like new inside. Upholstery and seat covers in fine condition. First class cord tires all around. We honestly believe this sedan will satisfy anybody as an up to date car and we know it will serve you as well as though new. You can buy it for $3,000.

1918, SERIES 9B, FRANKLIN, TOURING—A car that looks and runs like new because it has been completely rebuilt, repainted and renickeled, with upholstery and top refinished. Newly painted black wire wheels, cord tires front and rear. Until recently cars of this year and condition have brought as high as $2,200. This car is guaranteed mechanically the same as a new car and can be had for only $1,850.

1918, SERIES 9B, FRANKLIN, 4-PASSENGER ROADSTER—This is the clever Franklin model, with one door on each side, which admits passengers to both front and rear seats. It is painted a deep royal blue; the finish is in good condition; the top has been re-covered. This car has been driven approximately 15,000 miles, is in such good mechanical condition that rebuilding was not required. We offer it as is at only $1,300.

1917 SERIES 9A FRANKLIN BROUGHAM [4 passenger coupe]. If you want a trouble-proof, easy handling, all-weather, small inclosed car you cannot do better than this beautiful brougham. The upholstery is in good condition and so are the tires. Mechanically the car has been completely rebuilt and is guaranteed the same as we guarantee new Franklins. Body has been repainted and all bright parts renickeled. In appearance, comfort, and service value this car is worth far more than we are asking for it. Price $2,200.

1917 SERIES 9A, FRANKLIN, TOURING—This car has the same style of hood as was used up to a few months ago. It has been completely rebuilt, repainted, renickeled; upholstery and top refinished. It looks and runs as beautifully as a new car. Yet you can buy it for only $1,500.

1916 SERIES 8 FRANKLIN SEDAN. This is not a rebuilt car, but you can tell by listening to the motor, and driving it that it is in first class condition. The upholstery is excellent. The paint fair. Equipped with white wire wheels, extra tire and bumper. A real bargain at $1,100.

The best automobile value in the world is always a rebuilt Franklin. It costs little to begin with, saves you real money every mile you drive it, requires the minimum of attention, rides comfortably on all roads, never freezes and never overheats. We guarantee the perfect mechanical condition of every rebuilt Franklin same as a new car.

CADILLAC'S 7 BARGAINS

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 57, SEDAN. The body on this car is a custom made Foster body. This is the first opportunity we have had to offer such a stylish, up to date Cadillac sedan at such a ridiculously low price. Velour upholstering shows practically no wear. Paint is excellent. Mechanical condition is exceptionally good. Has cord tires, one extra, bumper, etc. The body alone on this car would cost as much as we are asking for the whole car. We believe this to be the best bargain that we have ever offered. Special for this sale, $3,250.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 57, VICTORIA COUPE. This is a roomy 4 passenger coupe. Probably the most popular model that we have ever built. The paint, upholstering, and coach condition look like new. Mechanical condition is exceptionally fine. Has an excellent set of Silvertown cord tires and other extras. Paint a dark Cadillac blue. We are able to obtain this car at a very low figure. Your immediate action will avail you of this bargain. You may never have another opportunity of buying a Cadillac Victoria in the condition that this is in at such a low figure. Special for this sale, $2,350

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 59, VICTORIA COUPE. This is the latest and current series. Practically a new car. When you see this car and look at the tire and paint condition we do not believe you can tell it from a new car. It was only used a few days. Customer exchanging for a different type of body. There is a special paint job on this car with special upholstering to match. It carries a new car guarantee. If you are considering the purchase of a roomy 4 passenger coupe of the latest series this is your opportunity to save several hundred dollars. We believe this car will be sold to the first person who looks at it. Special for this sale $4,500.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 57, VICTORIA COUPE. This is a double letter series and practically the same body as we are putting on our new cars. This is one of the very latest of this series. Velour upholstering on this car shows no wear. Painted dark Cadillac green, with hardly a scratch on it. Equipped with an excellent set of cord tires, one extra, and bumper. This is the first opportunity we have ever had to offer this late series at this price, and without a doubt the first person who sees this car will buy it. Mechanical condition is exceptionally fine. Has not had a great deal of mileage and does not look like the ordinary second-hand car. Special for this sale, $3,100.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 59, ROADSTER. This is the latest and current series and selling new today for over $4,200. This car does not look like a used automobile. Customer is exchanging for a Cadillac with larger seating capacity. Goodyear cord tires now on car show no wear; has one extra and bumper. Painted standard Cadillac blue with hardly a scratch on it. This car has been used so little that it can hardly be told from a new automobile; has not been run enough to thoroughly limber up the motor. If you are looking for a roadster greatly reduced in price, but still like a new automobile and carrying a new car guarantee, do not fail to see this car at once. Special for this sale, $3,250.

CADILLAC 8, TYPE 55, TOURING CAR. This is the first opportunity we have had to offer one of this popular series for some time. The original owner of this car availed himself of our service department and gave the car remarkably good care. He did not drive it very many miles. Paint, which is dark Cadillac blue, is in good condition. Top and upholstering look fine. Mechanical condition of this car is away above the average. The tires are exceptionally fine. Equipped with two spare tires, bumper, clock. As our price is away below the market, if you are interested you will have to act today sure. Special for this sale, $1,500.

HAYNES 4 PASSENGER CHUMMY, Model 39. Conceded by many to be the best Haynes model this company has ever built. Mechanical condition is way above the average. Paint is in good shape. Has many extras, including seat cover, bumper, spare tire, clock, etc. As our price is low, do not fail to see this car. Special for this sale, $750.

Cadillac Motor Car Co., 2301 MICHIGAN-AV. CALUMET 4841.

PACKARD

Packard Twin Six Touring 7-passenger 3-25 model. Rebuilt and carries the Packard guaranty and service. Looks like a new car in every respect. Painted a Packard blue with black enameled hood and fenders, wheels cream color. Equipped with new cord tires. Reduced to $3,500.

Packard 3-25 4-passenger Chummy Roadster, overhauled by the Packard Company. Equipped with cord tires. A popular 4-pass. car with the latest lines. Priced very low at $2,500.

Packard Twin Touring 1-35 model, 7-passenger. In good mechanical condition. Paint and tires very good. Also a set of standard seat covers in good shape. A roomy high grade touring car, priced for quick sale, $1,000.

Cadillac Phaeton, 1920 model. Car has only been run 8,000 miles and looks and acts like a new car; in perfect shape in every way. All good cord tires with two spare, with tire covers. Also bumper and spotlight. A real buy for $3,250.

OAKLAND $750.00
FIVE PASS. TOURING CAR.

In offering this touring car at the above price we are striving to reach the buyer with ordinary, old fashioned horse sense who will know that one of our own cars, rebuilt by us and backed by our new car guarantee and service, is a better value at the price asked than a cheaper new car would ve at the same price.

Why not stop for a few minutes at our salesroom, sit down and rest comfortably, and let us go over a few of the reasons why you cannot buy OAKLAND cars anywhere and get more value for your money than you can here at the Oakland branch or our authorized Oakland Dealers?

We will enjoy a visit from you, and we will try and see that you enjoy a visit with us. Come in any time. Open evenings and Sundays.

AUTOMOBILES—GASOLINE.

PAIGE REBUILT PRICES REDUCED.

When Bird-Sykes says "rebuilt Paige" they do not mean merely "shined up," "tightened up," and tuned up. Rebuilt in the Bird-Sykes shop means taking apart motor, transmission, and rear axle—measuring or testing parts to determine wear—replacing worn parts with new—rebuilding—adjusting—tuning up—repainting body—refinishing top and upholstery. That is why a Bird-Sykes rebuilt Paige satisfies the eye as a new car and its performance is the same as new.

Guaranteed by Bird-Sykes.

Every rebuilt Paige is guaranteed by Bird-Sykes to be as represented and in perfect mechanical condition, and if anything turns out unsatisfactory within a reasonable time Bird-Sykes make it good without cost to the purchaser.

Easy Terms—No Brokerage Charge.

We do not ask our customers to pay the exorbitant rates charged by so-called automobile bankers in order to buy of us on deferred payments. You can buy a Bird-Sykes Rebuilt Paige on easy terms, paying only ordinary bank interest rates on deferred payments.

PAIGE 6-46, Model G-3, 7 passenger light six touring car. Just rebuilt and refinished a beautiful Brewster green. Nickel parts all renickeled. Has much the same appearance as a new car. Top new and plaited upholstery in good condition. Has good set of tires and spare. This type of car is one of the most popular sellers we have had this season. Ideal for the family. Price $950.

PAIGE SEDAN, Model 6-51. Five wire wheels, clock, lock, 5 good cord tires, etc. Coach condition excellent. Interior of car clean and bright as new. This car will be a most exceptional bargain for any one desiring a closed type of car at the reduced price of $1,250.

PAIGE LARCHMONT, Model 6-55. Refinished a battleship gray. Rebuilt in our own shop. This car is known throughout the land as the most beautiful sport model on the market today. Has brown pencil grain leather upholstery that harmonizes very nicely with the color of the body. The top is in good condition. Has a good set of tires, 3 of which are cord. Equipped with lock built in the transmission, motometer, biflex spring bumper, good spare tire, etc. The most satisfactory car to drive because of its easy riding qualities and snappy Continental motor. Price $1,600.

PAIGE SEDAN, 1919, MODEL 6-55. Just overhauled and rebuilt. Old paint burnt off and refinished a deep maroon. This car has previously had very careful handling and will make a very serviceable, all-weather car. Coach condition excellent. 5 wire wheels; good spare tire. Priced very reasonably at $1,650.

PIERCE-ARROW '19
7 PASSENGER TOURING.
$5,250

Entirely rebuilt. Perfect mechanically and presents the appearance of new. This car runs as smoothly and quietly as the day it left the factory. In addition to being completely overhauled the car has been equipped with a new top, new shark-skin seat covers, repainted and renickeled; 6 excellent tires with special new tire covers, motometer, etc.

This luxurious, powerful, roomy touring is in 100% condition and we believe will give the same service as a brand new Pierce-Arrow. With reasonable care will last a life time. It is the ambition of nearly every motorist to own one of the world's best automobiles—a Pierce-Arrow. The "48" is the favored model of the entire line. Why not take advantage of this opportunity to buy this wonderful car at our low figure? A better car could not be bought for $10,000. Standard new car guarantee.
